“CONSULT BAR ASSOCIATION ON NEW BILL” -- KOI LARBI

Accra, Tuesday

FOUR GOLD COAST LAWYERS have given their views regarding the proposal to introduce a Bill at the next session of the Legislative Assembly. Dr. J. B. Danquah, M.L.A, told a “Graphic” reporter today that the matter was one which should be decided by the Gold Coast Bar Association and the Chief Justice.

Mr. Koi Larbi, who practised for many years in the United Kingdom before coming to the Gold Coast during the war, said that the introduction of a law to separate the duties of lawyers and solicitors at this moment would be premature. He said that the law should be passed when there were sufficient trained solicitors. He said that the Government should consult the Gold Coast Bar Association on the matter.

GOVERNMENT LOANS £1,500 TO AMATEUR FOOTBALL ASSOCIATION

Accra, Tuesday

A free grant of £500 from the Government has been given to the United Gold Coast Amateur Football Association to enable them to finance the Gold Coast touring football team which leaves here tomorrow for the United Kingdom.

The Government has also granted a loan of £1,500, free of interest, to the Association.

The Minister of Education and Social Welfare, Mr. Kojo Forson, said that he was against the idea because there were only two solicitors at present in the country.

UGGCC WILL DISCUSS NKRUMAH’S STATEMENT ON SELF-GOVERNMENT

Accra, Tuesday.

Dr. J. B. Danquah, first M.L.A. for Akim Abrau, told a “Graphic” reporter here today that a delegates conference of the United Gold Coast Convention would be held at Saltpond on August 5 to discuss the abandonment of S.G. now by Mr. Nkrumah and the statement that they did not want self-government immediately.

He added that they would like the Cocoa Marketing Board would have a try.
The Minister of Education and Social Welfare, Mr. Kojo Botsio, will inspect the accounts of the Association when the team returns from the United Kingdom to enable him to report on the Association's ability to repay the loan.

"Joint Togoland Council Is A Social Bazaar"

In a cable despatched on Sunday to the U.N. at Lake Success, the Togoland Youths Association here described the Joint Togoland Council, recommended by the Trusteeship Council, as a mere "social bazaar" and severely accused the Trusteeship Council of deliberately protecting the interests of the two administering authorities at the expense of the indigenous population of Togoland.

The decision to send the cable was taken at a meeting of the T.Y.A. on Friday.

Signed by the President, Mr. J. M. Dumoga, the text of the cable was: "Togo Youth flabbergasted approval third time Togoland social bazaar despite protests stop Regret record UNATIONS protecting Anglo-French interests stop Request avoid danger catastrophe grant immediate independence to exploited Togoland."

Just before the opening of the current session of the Trusteeship Council, many cables and letters of protest, including some from the Associations, were sent to Lake Success condemning the old Enlarged Anglo-French Consular Commission which is now to be superceded by the Joint Togoland Council. These cables, particular that forwarded by the Togoland Youth Association demanded immediate independence for Togoland.

Chief Will Swear Oath Of Allegiance

Kokofu, Tuesday.

Nana Essibey, the newly installed Kokofuhene, will swear oath of allegiance to the Golden Stool of Ashanti at Kumasi on Monday next. The performed the same ceremony to his State Council here yesterday.

Drumming, dancing, singing and merry-making marked the occasion. Women, with faces besmeared with white clay, paraded the streets acclaiming the new chief, "We have a chief after our own hearts."

Nana Essibey told the "Graphic" that his first project will be to reconstruct the main road here.

Self-government Immediately

He added that they would then determine their next step in the struggle to eliminate imperialism from the Gold Coast. Other matters to be discussed at the conference.

Dr. Danquah continued, would be high prices, inflated salaries, extravagant government expenditure, the proposal to raise foreign loans for development, employment of technicians from hard currency countries and the necessity for training our own technicians abroad.

Also, he said that Government's attitude to chiiefsancy, the problem of swollen shoot, the farmers' savings and the Cocoa Marketing Board would be thrashed out and the attitude of the United Gold Coast Convention would be declared.

Dr. Danquah further said that the youth would take a prominent part in the delegates' conference and Mr. Duke Vanderpuije, the youngest and first martyr of the Liberation Movement would address the conference.

Mr. Duke Vanderpuije has been tipped for appointment as Secretary of the Eastern Regional Council of the United Gold Coast Convention.

Mr. Awoonor Williams will be chairman for the occasion.

PAINS IN THE BACK

Here's a way to relief!

Do you know that one of the common causes of backache lies in the kidneys? When they are healthy they filter harmful impurities out of the system— their natural function. When they grow sluggish, these impurities accumulate and the resulting congestion is often the cause of backache.

De Witt's Pills are specially prepared to help wake up sluggish kidneys. They have a cleansing and antiseptic action on these vital organs, soothing and restoring them to their natural activity. Relief from backache follows as a natural consequence.

It is far better to tackle the cause of backache than to go on suffering in a way which is bound to affect your work and happiness. For over half a century De Witt's Pills have been bringing relief to sufferers from backache and we have received countless letters of gratitude. Go to your chemist and obtain a supply to-day.

(Concluded from yesterday's issue)

Regimentation and uniformity are dangers that an organised industrial world will have to fear, and against which it should take deliberate measures. There should be opportunities for exceptional individuals, such as poets and artists, who would be likely to fail in any attempt to win the approval of elderly bureaucrats. I should have academies for such men, not as a reward for achieved eminence, for then it is too late, but as expressing the favourable opinion of young men engaged in similar pursuits. I would have admission to such academies only possible for men under twenty-five, and I would confine the voting for election to members of the academy concerned who were still under thirty-five. Such regulations might make it possible for the academy not to become an ossified collection of old foggies, as academies too often are.

SHORTER HOURS

There should be for everybody considerably shorter hours of work than are now customary, and much longer holidays than are now enjoyed by anybody except university professors. Some distance which it now has to meet in the great majority of mankind. If this is indeed the case, and if such institutions as I have spoken of can be established, the happy world that I am envisaging can be not only happy, but glorious. I cannot believe that what is dark and dreadful and destructive in the souls of men is essential to the production of great works of imagination. I believe, on the contrary, that it lies within the power of man to create edifices of shining splendour, from which the glory and greatness of which human thought and feeling are capable shall spread a light unmixed with darkness, filling men's hearts with joy, and their thoughts with clarity. Such a world is possible. It rests with men to choose whether they will create it, or allow the human race to perish in anger and sordid thirst, by fear of wild beasts, by dread of enemies, not only living enemies, but spectres of dead rivals projected on to the dangerous world by the intensity of his own fears.

At last he has emerged from the desert into a smiling, land, but in the long night he has forgotten how to smile. We cannot believe in the brightness of the morning. We think it trivial and deceptive; we cling to old myths that allow us to go on living with fear and hate—above all, hate of ourselves, miserable sinners. This is folly. Man now needs for his salvation only one thing: to open his heart to joy, and leave fear to gibe through the glimmering darkness of a forgotten past. He must lift up his eyes and say: 'No, I am not a miserable sinner.' I am a being who, by a long and arduous road, have discovered how to make intelligence master natural obstacles, how to live in freedom and joy, at peace with myself, and therefore, with all mankind. This will happen if men will choose joy rather than sorrow. If not, eternal death will bury man in deserved oblivion.

holidays that are now enjoyed by anybody except university professors. Some people are afraid that in such a community, life would be too tame and unadventurous, but this need not be the case. There are innumerable forms of adventure which could be open to everybody who desired them. If holidays were as long as they easily might be. For those who like danger, there should be every facility for opportunities of risking their lives, provided they did not at the same time risk the lives of those who prefer a less exciting existence. For those who wish at all times to live strenuously and to whom a soft life feels disgusting, it should be possible to find a quite sufficient outlet in some really difficult work, whether of artistic creation or of scientific research. Such work stretches men's powers to the utmost, as much in its way as an attempt to climb Everest; but for those who do not find it adequate, Everest still remains to be conquered.

Rheumatism quickly ended

This is the true story of a man who was in very bad pain with rheumatism. Then he started to take Kruschen Salts and quite soon his pain went. He was so pleased with this quick result that he sent us this letter.

"Some years ago I began to feel rheumatism in my arms and shoulders. Then pains started in the small of my back, increasing until they were really severe. I bought a bottle of Kruschen and was surprised to find that I got a little relief. I bought another and before it was finished all my pains had gone and from that day have not appeared again. My pains were terrible and the relief really surprised me."—T.R.

Rheumatic pains and backache are caused by poisons in the blood. The body should get rid of these poisons. It cannot do so when the bowels and kidneys are out of order. Medicine is needed to put them right.

Kruschen Salts clean them and tone them up so that they work properly. Then they are able to clear out the poisons which have been causing the pain. The blood is purified, the pains go away and you feel fit and healthy.

'WE MUST WORK HARD' SAYS GBEDEMBAH

IN HIS BROADCAST TALK to the people of the Gold Coast, Mr. K. A. Gbedemah, Minister of Health and Labour, after his tour of the United Kingdom and Europe, said last night, "The most important impression I gathered, and which I should like to give the people of the Gold Coast, is the hard work and seriousness at work of all classes of the people in Germany and Switzerland. If we will build our country up, we must bend our backs and apply ourselves diligently to whatever task may be allotted to us, be we the office executive, the foreman, the engineer, the builder or the labourer. We all have our task to perform and we must go to it."

Mr. Gbedemah then emphasised the official statement on registration of unemployed workers and added: "You can all have every confidence that your government intends to tackle the unemployment problem realistically and to solve it with your co-operation."

In conclusion he disclosed that the government might establish a manpower budget "to meet the same way as we establish the needs of our country's development, in exactly meet its financial needs."

LONDON DISCUSSIONS

Continuing, Mr. Gbedemah said: "On my return to England I met the Chief Medical Adviser to the Colonial Officer, Dr. Priddle, and also Mr. Robens the Minister of Labour and his technical advisers, and discussed labour problems with particular reference to trade training, trade unions, labour registration, and sought advice on full employment etc. One of the results which might accrue immediately from these meetings with the Labour Minister would be the willingness of the British Government to train men from the Gold Coast in industrial management and foremanship."

Third Gold Coast Regiment Wins Cross-Country Challenge Shield

The third Gold Coast Regiment has won the West African Command Inter-Unit cross-country championship in 29 minutes 52-2/5 seconds.

In the afternoon of Saturday a large crowd of spectators who had assembled at the Nicholson Stadium, Giffard Camp, saw 40 runners from the Third North Nigerian Regiment in their blue colours, the First South Nigerian Regiment in maroon, the Third Gold Coast Regiment in yellow, and the First Coast and Anti-Aircraft Regiment of Sierra Leone in white.

They started the six-mile run in which they pursued a circular route outside the camp perimeter. The course included rough track and paths with only 200 yards of road.

There was long and prolonged cheering as the first runner came into sight, followed closely by other competitors.

The Shield was presented by Lieutenant-General L. G. Whistler, General Officer Commanding-in-Chief, West Africa Command, to the winner, and medals to each member of the winning team. The second and third groups were also presented with medals.

The Shield was last competed for in 1949, when the First Nigerian Regiment were the winners.

CHESS CHAMPIONSHIP TOURNAMENT IS ON

The first chess tournament in the Gold Coast for the “Daily Echo” Chess Championship trophy started at the Community Centre in Accra on Saturday.

C.P.P. Demands Seats On State Council And Finance Board
At a meeting of the C.P.P. members held here, a resolution was passed demanding full representation in the Adjumako Native Authority State Council and the Finance Board. This decision was taken when all the representatives of the towns and villages in the state, except Kromaim, met here.
Mr. K. Agyare, the chairman, addressing the gathering said that until the establishment of the new Local Government, the members in the Legislative Assembly have not the solid footing upon which to demand full dominion status for the chiefs and people of this country. This he said, could be made effective if the Convention People's Party captured two-thirds of the seats in the New Local Government set-up.

Other speakers included Bafuor Ofori II, Odikro of Brakwa, and Nana Kwaku Bin, Nifahene of Kokobin

COMMENTS ON PADMORE'S OBSERVATIONS:

PROPOSED BILL WOULD PROTECT CLIENTS FROM EXPLOITATION

By Ako Adjei, The Accra Barrister And Solicitor

AS A PRACTISING barrister, who is also practising as a Solicitor under the provisions of the Legal Practitioners Ordinance for the time being in force in this country, I can say frankly that, in my honest opinion, there is a strong argument in favour of the introduction of a Bill to prevent barristers from practising also as solicitors.

I believe that the two branches of the legal profession, namely, the Barristers' Branch and the Solicitors' Branch, should be separated and made quite distinct and mutually exclusive, as it is the practice in England and Wales.

Of course, the Scottish system is different from the English system.

In this regard, I should say that, while I agree with Mr. George Padmore in the main principal involved in his statement, I should make it quite clear that I disagree with others forward to support his case.

Mr. Padmore said that, when Gold Coast barristers practise as solicitors, they thereby make two mistakes, namely, (a) They reduce the dignity of the practice of Law, and (b) They lower the status of the Gold Coast Bar in the eyes of the world.

In my opinion, these are poor arguments in support of the good case that Mr. Padmore set out to establish.

Mr. Padmore should have known that, the Gold Coast as a self-governing nation, or assuming that it is a self-governing nation, has the right to do anything that the people want within the territorial limits of their own state.

And, therefore, if the people of the Gold Coast want their hands of their own state.

And, therefore, if the people of the Gold Coast wish to continue to practise as solicitors, they are entitled to please themselves, regardless of what other people do in the United Kingdom, the British Dominions, or even in the British West Indies.

We cannot copy standards from the West Indies blindly. In my view, there are better and more constructive arguments in favour of the separation of barristers from solicitors in this country.

For example, when Gold Coast barristers practise exclusively as advocates, and solicitors practise as solicitors, the public interest would be better served, and they have to beg.

There is one way to achieve lower costs and a higher standard of living: by producing more goods and services.

That is the task facing us all. Everyone who shirks hard work is holding back the progress of our country.

Let us be quite certain, as Mr. Gbedemah implies, that prosperity did not descend on Britain out of the skies—it was achieved by hard work year in and year out.

We can, we must—we shall do likewise.

NO STATEMENT

The Foreign Secretary Mr. Herbert Morrison, has told the House of Commons that it was undesirable for him to make any statement on the Anglo-Persian oil dispute “in view of the delicacy of the situation.” He had been expected to make a statement on the evacuation of British Staff from the oil-refinery.

Padmore Praises Ashantis For Stand Against Early White Settlers

"Citizens of Kumasi, at long last I have come to Kumasi, I have seen Kumasi and I have known Kumasi; I bring you greetings from the West Indies. I know of no other people who had won my admiration and respect more than the Ashantis," said Mr. George Padmore, the author and journalist at the Prempeh Assembly Hall here on Monday, to a crowd of 4,000 people under the chairmanship of Mr. J. E. Antwi.

Mr. Padmore then paid tribute to the Ashantis for their courageous stand against the first white imperialists who first set their feet on these shores. He traced the history of his ancestors who he said were taken from Ashanti about 300 years ago during the slave trade.

MRS. F. R. Johnson addressing a meeting of the Society of Friends of Lepers at the Community Centre on voluntary service to lepers yesterday, said that Gold Coast women should join associations such as the Gold Coast Women Association, Friends of Lepers Association, Child Care Society and many others. Continuing, she said the Women's Voluntary Society which was started in England during the war was still in existence. She said women should work voluntarily for the community by visiting hospitals, schools, leper settlements and other places. She said that leprosy had to be eradicated from the Gold Coast.

Miss Flora Christian, the next speaker said "these are the days when the true love of our country should be uppermost in our minds." Speaking on loyalty of women, she said they never had lagged behind in the love for their country either in peace or in war. She cited the good work of Joan of Arc, the village maid of France, and Elizabeth Fry.

Police Find Job For Accused Man

Accra, Wednesday

The agent of A. G. Leventis and Company Ltd., Accra, has consented to provide work for Emmanuel Morrow Peterson, who was alleged to have attempted to commit suicide on July 5, because he was unemployed.

At the District Magistrate Court yesterday morning Peterson, who had been charged by the Police, was informed by Magistrate H. J. Cridland of the arrangement he had made to secure a job for him. Mr. Cridland promised to get a job for Peterson when he first appeared before him on July 24.

The Magistrate, in addressing Peterson, said that he should go and rebuild his life by starting life afresh and forgetting all about the past.

"You should be grateful to Mr. Logios and the Police who have succeeded in getting you a job whereby you could earn an honest living. Work hard and live a good life."

Peterson had no relative to sign a bond for him.

The Magistrate said that Peterson on July 5, threw himself down in front of a moving car on the Station Road with the intention of committing suicide.

GEORGE WIMPEY & CO. LIMITED
HAMMERSMITH, W.6.

The 32nd Annual General Meeting of George Wimpey & Co. Ltd. was held in London on July 27th., 1951.

The following is a summary of the statement by the Chairman, Sir Godfrey W. Mitchell.

In spite of very adverse weather conditions during 1950, we completed a greater volume of work than ever before. London and all our provincial Regions fully shared in a vast programme of building and civil engineering works of most varied nature, while our Overseas Department continued to expand its activities.

HOUSING

Dealing first with our work at home, during the year under review we completed some 4,500 houses. Since the war ended your Company's contribution to the housing needs of the Country has been well over 30,000 houses of various types, either completed or in contract.

We are constantly advancing the technique of building in Wimpey "No-Fines" concrete. Since first we commenced to employ this method, 18,000 "No-Fines" houses have been completed or are in contract.

In addition to various commercial buildings, we have built a number of blocks of three-storey flats in construction of the Strip Mill at Port Talbot for the Steel Company of Wales. In all, we have so far carried out over £8,000,000 worth of construction work on this huge project.

LONDON AIRPORT

Your Company continued to operate as main contractor for the construction of London Airport and was entrusted with a large amount of work of a most varied character, which included the only experimental length of prestressed concrete runway built in this country.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC WORK

Our work at Clunie Dam and Pitlochry Dam was marked by the success of the North of Scotland Hydro-Electric Board in solving the problem of generating power from the waters of the River Dee. The successful operation of these Works, which are now in operation, is without doubt an outstanding engineering achievement. You will be interested to know that the Hydro-Electric Board has recently awarded us further contracts for the construction of the Meig and Luchart Tunnels.

LABORATORY

The increased demands made on our Central Laboratory have necessitated considerable extensions. In addition to its constant duty of maintaining technical control over all the Company's contracts and of research into materials and methods of construction, the Laboratory is employed to an ever growing extent by Public Authorities, Consultants and Industrialists on matters of site investigation and soil mechanics all over the world. There is no doubt that the high regard in which its work is held adds considerably to the prestige enjoyed by your Company.

LABOUR RELATIONS

We have always taken particular pride in sustaining good labour relations with our men and I am glad to say that our reputation in this respect continues to be high. You will perhaps be interested to know that last year our Catering Department served nearly 7,000,000 meals to our employees in this country.

ADZAKUBIL WANTS IMPROVEMENT IN GA have been welcomed by Local Authorities as a most useful contribution towards the solution of their housing problems.

We have recently been awarded a contract to build blocks of six-storey flats by this speedy and efficient method of construction, and work has already commenced.

INDUSTRIAL BUILDING

We continued to make good progress with the construction of a nine-storey office building in Mingling Lane and completed our work as main contractor for the new Factory Extension at Luton for the Vauxhall Motors. This enormous building covers 191 acres and is one-third of a mile long. The Ministry of Works have recently entrusted us with building the imposing new offices at Crouch End for the G.P.O., and we have also been accepted for the foundation work in connection with the construction of a large office block adjoining our present Mingling Lane contract.

OPENCAST COAL

We are proud of our substantial effort towards meeting the country’s fuel requirements. During 1950 we produced over 2,000,000 tons of opencast coal—approximately one-sixth of the total national output. Of this figure of 2,000,000 tons over 500,000 tons was anthracite of the finest quality obtainable.

CONTRACTS WITH OIL COMPANIES

Our extensive contracts in connection with the Grangemouth Oil Refinery are proceeding with speed and you will be interested to know that we have obtained substantial contracts in connection with the construction of a Chemical Works at Ellesmere Port. Of considerable interest is the extension of our activities to cover the installation of mechanical plant and equipment in the large new Oil Refinery at the Isle of Grain.

STEEL COMPANY OF WALES

During the year excellent progress has been maintained in the

WORK ABROAD

We continue to expand our interest in work overseas and are today operating in Egypt, Baghdad, Cyprus, Syria, Kuwait, Singapore, Hong Kong, Borneo, Sumatra, West Africa and Australia.

While our work in Kuwait for the Oil Company has been most successfully completed, we continue to operate there for other Employing Authorities. The construction of the seventeen-storey Bank Building in Hong Kong proceeds apace, and the progress of our building and constructional work in the various Oil Fields continues to be satisfactory.

Work has commenced on a £1,000,000 Power Station for the Municipality of Singapore. In Egypt we have been entrusted with a large surfacing contract for the Air Ministry, and I would particularly mention our happy association with the Arabian Bechtel Company in constructing 547 miles of trans-desert 30” Oil Pipe-line from Kirkuk to the Mediterranean.

During the year we have extended our work to West Africa and Australia. On the Gold Coast we have commenced building the University College at Accra, African Housing and Staff Quarters at Awaso for the British Aluminium Company and a Technical Institute for the Chamber of Mines at Tarkwa. In Australia we have been awarded a contract for the winning of some 2,500,000 tons of opencast coal at Bulleen for the New South Wales Joint Coal Board.

In all our operations, at home and abroad, we have since the end of the war carried out work to a value exceeding £100,000,000.

HEAVY MECHANICAL PLANT

We have again increased our holding of heavy plant, and our enlarged workshops and depots in London and Scotland are equipped to provide ample facilities for speedy repair and overhaul.

Communications Minister Visits Airport

Mr. J. A. Braimah, Minister of Communications and Works, has visited the Accra airport and inspected the work of the Department of Civil Aviation, the Radio Division of the Posts and Telegraphs Department and the Meteorological Department. At the fire station he saw a demonstration of the use of foam to put out a petrol fire.
LETTER

"Asantehene Was Not Charged With Receiving Bribes"

A front page article in your Saturday, July 21 issue in which the Amakomhene is alleged to have charged Asantehene with accepting bribes is misleading in the light of facts hereunder.

A case between Nana Anantahene and Akosua Akyaa, Obaapan of Ananta and sister of ex-Asantehene was lying in the Asantehene's Court "B", the president of which, at that time, was the Amakomhene. Nana Amakomhene in the presence of the Atipinrhe, informed Madam Akosua Akyaa that he was, at Otumfuo's instance, to pronounce her guilty of calumny. You could see from the foregoing that there was no mention as to bribery. Obviously, however, the Amakomhene by reasons best known to himself wanted to make the Asantehene responsible for Akosua Akyaa's failure in her litigation. This is an act which the Kumasi Divisional Council strongly disfavours now and always.

James K. Oppong, Secretary, Kumasi Divisional Council.

LAST MINUTE CHANGE MADE IN TOURING TEAM

Takoradi, Wednesday

The Gold Coast football touring team, left here today by the m.v. “Apapa” for the United Kingdom. Before their departure a last minute change in the selection of players was effected. J. K. Yakubu and J. K. Odamten were dropped and V. A. Isaka and Baba Hausa substituted.

Isaka, 30, an Hausa and a right half-back of the Kumasi Highlanders, is an inter-colonial soccer player who has played for six years in the Ashanti Football Association league matches.

Baba Hausa, 26, centre forward is a member of the Sekondi Eleven Wise and had on several occasions played for the Sekondi town eleven.

HAROLD HUMILIATES MAXWELL HOUSE

In an inter-house soccer match played at the Abubakwa State College grounds, Kibi the Harolds House XI defeated the Maxwell’s House XI by four goals to two.

Ten minutes from the commencement of the game, the Maxwell’s team was constantly pressed by their opponents. But Billings, full back of the team cleared away all the balls. Regardless of spectators equalised the score through a free kick awarded them.

When play was resumed, the Maxwell’s team scored their second goal through Appiah, outside right of the team. Changing their tactics, the Harolds team dominated the field with long-range shots, and scored three consecutive goals the last of which was scored by Oduro, the most Nana Ofori Atta II, Okyehene was among the large crowd of spectators who saw the Abubakwa College Intermediates XI defeat the Kwahu All Schools team by two goals to one in a soccer match played at Kibi.

The visiting team scored their first goal during the first half. The Home team on resumption of play equalised, and added another to the scoreboard.

Presbyterians Win Silver Cup

In a silver cup football competition, the Suhum Presbyterian School XI defeated the Suhum E.C.M. School XI by three goals to one in a football match played at the Danso’s Park, Suhum. The play was very interesting as each team employed modern tactics. The score was one goal to one at the end of the first half.

During the second half, the field became slippery due to a slight shower. A few minutes from the end of the play, the Presbyterian XI became more aggressive and scored two more goals.

A silver cup was presented to the Presbyterian School team at the end of the match.

Dr. Danquah Will Call For Policy On ‘SG’ And Chieftaincy

Accra, Thursday.

Dr. J. B. DANQUAH, first M.L.A. for Akim Abuakwa, will table two motions asking the Government to declare its policy on (i) Self-government and (ii) Chieftaincy, during the session of the Legislative Assembly, which will begin on Tuesday, August 14.

In an exclusive interview with the “Graphic,” Dr. Danquah referred to statements made at Kumasi and Dodowah by Mr. Kwame Nkrumah before some of the chiefs that “no chief would be unjustly molested.”

“Policy is impolitic because it means that in the eyes of the Government the people are entitled to molest their chiefs if they do so justly,” he said.

Dr. Danquah denied that he would propose a motion for the removal of the three ex-officio Ministers. He pointed out that such a motion would not be appropriate because the Legislature was not entitled under the constitution to remove the ex-officio members, who are Civil Servants. He power to remove them is the Secretary of State for the Colonies,” he concluded.

Mr. E. O. Lamptey Will Not Attend Youths' Congress

MR. E. O. OBETSEBI LAMPTEY will not attend the forthcoming meeting of the Ghana Youth Congress to be held in Kumasi on August 5.

Mr. Lamptey, who has been invited to speak on the subject, “Youth in the changing world,” told a “Graphic” reporter today that he welcomed the opportunity to speak to the youth on the subject because it was a subject in which he was interested, but he had accepted a previous invitation elsewhere.

“I hope however that opportunity will present itself someday to address the youth of this country on their place in the changing world,” he said, adding that he first saw the publication in the “Graphic” when he had not received the invitation at all.

The Ghana Youth Congress has also extended invitations to Mr. George Padmore and Nana Nketia IV.

Mr. Lamptey, who is an executive member of the U.G.C.C., will attend the Delegation Conference of the Convention scheduled to take place at Saltpond on August 5.

Government Decides To Re-instate Dismissed Nurses

Accra, Thursday

The Government has decided to re-instate the 34 male nurses, who were dismissed wholesale from the Medical Department. They were requested to report for duty at the Medical Officer of Health’s Office and 16 of them reported for duty yesterday.

They are to undergo training as vaccinators for two weeks and will receive £52 a year plus a temporary allowance of 20 per cent.

“Mr. K. A. Gbedemah Minister of Health and Labour, told the “Graphic” that some of the re-instatement of nurses came to him complaining that they were dissatisfied with the work given them, but he advised them to go back to their work until the whole situation was reviewed.

“Our appointment now is non-pensionable, our war service credit has been cancelled and our previous services have been waved,” a spokesman of the nurses told the “Graphic”.

Northerners May Get Pauper Hospital

Mr. J. B. Harruna, Alhaji Osmany and Mr. Bukari Sumani, Legislative Assembly members for the Northern Territories, have now completed a three weeks tour of Eastern Dagomba and the Nanum district.

They assured the people that water supply, medical facilities, good roads and free primary education, were now engaging the serious attention of the Government. At Bimbila they promised to press at the next session of the Assembly for a pauper hospital.

They impressed upon the people that it was useless to travel to the South to seek employment as labourers. They referred them to the land and said that they could make more money if they took up farming for the production of foodstuffs, more seriously.

KUMASI

Judgment In Contempt Of Court Case Today

J. E. Jantuah, Under-Secretary to the Ministry of Justice, Mr. B. K. Poku, Under-Secretary to the Ministry of Communications and Works, and Mr. Kwame Adyae made their second appearance before the Kumasi Divisional Court presided over by Mr. S. O. Quarshie Idun and Mr. Widsor Aubrey, on Wednesday.

The three men have been charged for contempt of court brought against them by Mr. A. A. Akainyah the Kumasi Magistrate.

In the dock, the three men denied the charges preferred against them and said that the affidavit sworn by Mr. Akainyah that they went to his bungalow on July 3, to intimidate and threaten him with being sacked from the Judicial service was incorrect. After both Counsel had addressed the court, judgment was reserved until Friday.

The three men were represented by Mr. K. Bentis Enchill, the Accra barrister.

“Demand For SG Now Would Be Suicidal”

Mr. A. E. Attafuah, M.L.A. for Western Akim, told a large gathering here that to ask for self-government now in the Assembly would be suicidal. The C.P.P. he said had promised to try the new constitution for a time. The demand for self-government for the Gold Coast would be made he believed after five years.

On his arrival here he was greeted with state drums, singing, dancing and the firing of muskets.

Speaking on the position of the chiefs in the country, Mr. Attafuah said that the State Councils may only be retained to deal with matters affecting the enstoolment and destoolment of chiefs.

The Secret Of Janet Sabah's Beauty

Among the most attractive women I have seen about lately is Miss Janet Sabah. Miss Sabah who markets and does housework as any other girl has average features and figure.

She is attractive because she keeps to the four rules of beauty.

1. - Cleanliness. Her skin is black and delicate and she takes care to keep it that way.

2. - Hair Grooming. Miss Janet's hair is naturally straight but with forthnightly shampooing and setting it stays put in a fashionable smooth style.

3. - Beauty Treatment. Every Thursday is set aside for hair setting, eye-brow trimming, manicure and odd jobs like washing powder puffs and brushing out handbags.

4. - Diet. Miss Janet is naturally slim so she eats what she likes, but has plenty of vegetables like tomatoes, okros and fruits. She does not take too much of starchy food—like cassava and fufu.

Cosmetics cost Miss Sabah very little as she spends economically. She makes a habit of reading all beauty columns, absorbs all the knowledge and uses only the practical hints.

She does not use too much make-up to give her dry skin. She wipes off cleansing cream with wet cotton-wool.

She uses perfume always a light cologne for daily use and a French classic perfume for special occasions.

Miss Janet Sabah loves mild and pastel colours usually has her dresses and accessories in blues and navy blue with white.

PARIS RETURNS TO NEW LOOK

By Winifride Jackson.

The new look is back, with full skirts, wasp waists and the hemline one or two inches longer.

At a recent dress show in Paris a beautiful collection of these frocks were exhibited.

Ten yards of material are packed in tightly pleated skirts or folded circular ones.

Not only the skirts are full, but to give the correct swirling effect two taffeta petticoats interlined with tarlatan or horse hair are required.

PLEASING BODICES.

The dress bodices are pleasing, moulded to the bust, where fullness is developed, with a diamond shaped inset sleeve giving a wing effect to the upper arm. From above the elbow to the wrist it fits tightly.

ROAD SAFETY

By Mrs Alice Yeboah

Life is really very precious and it should be well-treasured and safe-guarded from all dangers.

The aim of this article is to teach children to realise the importance of keeping to the rules of the road and road signs.

The following are the principal rules which should be carefully observed:

1. Parents and guardians as well as teachers are advised to see that their children do not play about anywhere except the places specified for sports and games.

2. Children should not hang at the backs of vehicles of any kind, or carts drawn by horses.

3. When vehicles are motionless no child should cross the road. Before he does so he must look both ways to see if the road is clear.

4. Children who ride on borrowed or hired bicycles should see that their brakes are well in order. They should stop at cross-roads, look to left and right before moving on.

5. Children should not run into the street at any time except when applying to parents or friends. This is a very common practice among Gold Coast children.

6. Children should not on any occasion throw stones or any other object at vehicles.

7. Where road crossing is concerned, children should bear in mind this slogan. Stop! Look! Listen!

"THE TIMES" COMMENTS

Joint Togoland Council Is A Step To Unification

"THE TIMES" commenting on the future of the Ewe people in Togoland said that the France-British recommendation to the Trusteeship Council of the United Nations for a joint council for British and French Togoland was "the further move in the direction of the unification that it is feasible to take."

"The Times," says, such a council would serve as a link between peoples on each side of the frontier without having executive or legislative powers. Referring to the suggested unification of the Eves in a united Togoland, the "Times" points out "this is opposed by the other tribes in the area" and added that it would be awkward economically and administratively—the difficulty that would remain would be who should be the administrators, the British or the French?

"It is easy to think that the matter could be easily settled if the British handed over their interests to the French or vice versa, but a transference of that kind becomes less practical when put thus."

Commonwealth Agriculturists Confer At Oxford

Agriculturists from the Commonwealth recently attended at Oxford the third Commonwealth Conference of the Agricultural Co-operation.

Lord Listowel, Joint Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Agriculture opening the conference said the strength of the Agricultural Co-operative Movement in the British Isles had increased slowly but steadily. The movement had already gone far in the Commonwealth. It was perhaps in the non-self-governing territories that the need was greater. While good progress had been made in many Colonial Territories there was still a long way to go.

NOT A SPOT ON MY SKIN.
When the Nsawam U.T.C. African Storekeepers' Union met on Sunday, the new officers who were elected at a meeting on June 24, will be installed.

The officers for 1951-1952 are: Mr. J. F. Gyimah, general president (Suhum); Mr. J. Anaman, vice president (Kwanyaku); Mr. A. A. Bamfo, general secretary (Korridua); Mr. N. D. Doods, treasurer (Winneba); Mr. J. A. Bah, financial secretary (Salaga); Mr. J. S. Asante, publicist (Nsawam) and Mr. S. E. Asante, assistant publicist (Accra).

The Ewe people in Togoland said that the Franco-British recommendation to the Trusteeship Council of the United Nations for a joint council for British and French Togoland was "the furthest move in the direction of the unification that it is feasible to take."

"The Times," says, such a council would serve as a link between peoples on each side of the frontier without having executive or legislative powers. Referring to the suggested unification of the Ewes in a united Togoland the "Times" points out "this is opposed by the other tribes in the area" and added that it would be awkward economically and administratively-the difficulty that would remain would be who should be the administrators, the British or the French?

"It is empty to think that the matter could be easily settled if the British handed over their interests to the French or vice versa, but a transference of that kind becomes less practicable as time goes on. The Ewes living under the French rule are taught to look towards France in accordance with the normal French Colonial policy.

"But the Ewes living under the British rule are taught to think of themselves as Gold Coasters and with the introduction of the new constitution in the Gold Coast there is no doubt which idea exercises the greater attraction." - Reuter.

Six End Tour Of North And Ashanti

Tamale, Thursday.
Six agricultural learners at the two-year Agricultural Training Centre here yesterday completed a tour of Ashanti and the Northern Territories which began on July 2.
The touring team is made up of first and second year students. The first year students toured the North, while the second year students toured Ashanti and the Colony, accompanied by Mr. N. Yenki, Agricultural Education Officer.
Some of the places they visited are the West African Cocoa Research Institute at Tafo, and the Soap Works and Osu Fisheries in Accra. At Asuamasi the team saw seed multiplication plots and other experimental works.
In the North, the first year students accompanied by Mr. C. K. Techie-Menson and Mr. A. K. Menson, Agricultural Overseers, visited Kambaba valley, Wa vegetable garden, the Gonja Development Company's experimental plots at Damango, and Zuarungu Agricultural Station.
Russia Accused Of News Restriction

London, Thursday.

British National newspapers and many provincial papers yesterday published the full text of the British Foreign Secretary, Mr. Herbert Morrison’s message to the Russian people and the Pravda’s reply.

Tass, the official Soviet News Agency, said that the Pravda had published Mr. Morrison’s message in a prominent place.

Mr. Morrison said that there was no restriction on news and views in Britain but it was different in Russia. If the Russians could meet more British people the ignorance of how the rest of the world lives would be broken down.

In reply the Pravda said that Mr. Morrison had not mentioned more important freedoms than the freedom of speech and the freedom of the press. They included the freedom from exploitation in an economic crisis, from unemployment and from poverty, which had existed for a long time in the Soviet Union. Freedom did not exist for the enemies of the people.

Mr. Morrison said that Britain wanted peace but Pravda said that if the North Atlantic Pact had been only defensive Russia would have been invited to join it. — Reuters.

ASHANTI KOTOKO ROUT ELECTED EUROPEANS

The Ashanti Kotoko XI defeated the Elected Europeans XI by five goals to one when they met at the C.Y.O. grounds, Nsawam. Derrick Barton of the European XI scored the first goal for his side, a few minutes after commencement of the game. But the Kotoko team equalised the score through Wallace. The second half saw the Ashanti Kotoko team very vigorous in their attacks and P. A. Mills, their inside left scored the third and fourth goals. Shortly afterwards, Wallace again scored the fifth goal.

More than 300 people witnessed the match.

TEPPAH CRUSHES BECHEM

The Teppah Catholic School XI lost to the Bechem Catholic School XI by two goals to one in an inter-school soccer match played at the Catholic School park, Bechem. The home team opened the score immediately after the start of the game through their centre forward, Amoabeng. The visiting team became aggressive and breaking through the defence line of their opponents equalised the score through Kwadwo Nsiah, outside left of the team. On resumption of play, the visiting team pressed hard on their opponents to score a goal but were unsuccessful. A few minutes later, Abokyi, of the Bechem team, scored a second goal for his side through E. C. M. School team registered the first goal, followed by A. Y. Asiedu centre for E. C. M. School.

The three men had been charged with contempt of court brought against them by Mr. A. A. Akainyah, the Kumasi Magistrate, for intimidating and threatening him with being dismissed from his office as a Justice of the Peace.
Cabinet Reshuffles After Ho?

By A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

A CABINET reshuffle resulting in a change of the Minister of Commerce, Industry and Mines is expected shortly after the annual delegates' conference of the C.P.P. which is to be held at Ho today.

I learn that step to be taken is the result of many complaints which had been made by members of the party since the present, Mr. T. Hutton-Mills took office. The complaint is cost of living had risen, and the Minister had taken no steps to bring the prices down.

A member of the C.P.P. national executive told me that Mr. Kwame Nkrumah, the chairman of the C.P.P., would be asked to fix a date not later than July 1942, on which to table a motion for full dominion status.

In a telegram despatched yesterday to the Conference Secretary at Ho, the Takoradi branch of the C.P.P. protested against the new constitution drafted for the party.

The telegram said that the constitution was not drawn up by a committee empowered to do so; and that if there was any need for a new constitution, the delegates conference should appoint a drafting committee to deal with it.

Another telegram also expressed great concern about the omission of the "rapidly rising cost of living" on the Conference agenda and drafted that the matter be discussed.

DO YOU KNOW?

By Frank Lambe

Is The World Gradually Cooling, And Will Life Eventually End Because Of The Intense Cold?

On the contrary, although the oldest theories held that because the sun was a fire, and fires generally burn themselves out, the earth would eventually be deprived of all warmth and would become a derelict, lifeless, ice-cold planet, astronomers in the past 50 years or so have put forward the theory that life on earth will come to an end through its inhabitants being roasted, not frozen. Apart from what may happen on the earth as a result of the sun getting either hotter or cooler, some great cosmic catastrophe could of course bring about the end of our World, but as regards the most recent theory, the broad basis of it is this: as it has been thought to be beyond doubt that the sun generates its energy by a nuclear-mutation similar to that of hydrogen bomb, it must be getting warmer and therefore expanding; eventually, the heat it radiates is great glowing mass of gas to swell up not only the earth, but Venus and Mars. But present generations can take comfort from the fact that this is not likely to occur for another 10,000 million years.

What Names Are Given To Very Large Numbers?

Everyday calculations seldom run into anything bigger than millions, billions and trillions; it is generally only scientists who find it necessary to quote quantities in mathematics or metaphysics involving greater lengths, speeds or quantities than can be expressed by the more usual terminology, and in these cases they very often depend on symbols rather than names. The ancient Greeks had no word or symbol to express a figure greater than 10,000, which they called myriad; the Latin Millie for thousand was the root of the word million (a thousand thousands), while the word billion (denoting in the United Kingdom the second power of a million) was first used by a French mathematician, Jean Adam, in 1840. In the U.S.A. and elsewhere, "billion" denotes a thousand million. Numbers very much larger than these can of course be expressed by word-compounds of millions, billions, and trillions, but are apt to be clumsy, and as it was astronomers who first found the need to express in convenient symbols the immense distances they have to calculate, it was they who invented the term parses, to denote a unit equal to 31 billion kilometres, 19 billion miles or 20 light-years.

What Is The Difference Between Luminescence, Fluorescence, And Phosphorescence?

Luminescence is the name given to the light emitted from a substance which in itself is capable of converting its natural radiances into visible light instead of into heat. When this reaction is a chemical one the light emitted is called chemiluminescence, and this light, a rather cold type, is seen in the fire-flies, glow-worms, some kinds of fish, and sometimes in decaying wood. Fluorescence is caused by ultraviolet light shining on certain substances which reflect the short, ultraviolet rays in longer wavelengths which the eye can see; they will only do this so long as what are called the exciting raditions are impinging on them, and the light they give out is then usually blue-green, but may be red or violet. Many things which look alike can thus be immediately distinguished in ultraviolet light, because some will fluoresce and others will not; in medicine, for instance, ring-worm can be detected by it because the fungus that causes the disease fluoresces with a brilliant green light. Phosphorescence is the glow emitted by substances that have the capacity to continue for a while to reflect light that has been shining on them, after it has been cut off; but it should not be thought of as a glow that lasts for hours or days, it is an extremely slow light.
Week-end Meditation

THE GOLDEN GATE BRIDGE

Regarding the opening of the Golden Gate Bridge, "Literary Digest" said: "A thirty-five million dollar bridge now swings across the Golden Gate. . . . A monument of American genius, to catch the eye of every tourist to the United States, arrives in the West, as the Statue of Liberty is the landmark in the East."

In it have been 100,000 tons of steel, 57,000 miles of wire, enough lumber in scaffolding to build a village of seventy-eight modern, five-room bungalows, concrete equal to the displacement of ten first-line battalions of 33,600 tons each. If all excavations made during the work were figured on the basis of a single hole, that hole would be ten feet square and twenty-six miles deep. If a man walked four miles an hour for eight hours a day it would take him six years and ten months. From end to end of the wire used in the two main cables, the elevation of each of the massive towers is 740 feet.

A unique feature in the building of this, the world's longest suspension-type bridge, was the giant safety net which was swung under the construction work of the bridge. It was the first time in the history of major construction that such a net had been used. (The bridge has a 4,230 foot main span.)

The safety net is reported to have cost between $30,000 and $50,000. The "Engineering News Record" declared when the net was put in position that if it saved one life it would be a good investment. It is deeply gratifying to find such a value placed upon the body of a workman. And if the engineers and workmen who put the bridge together to such a costly measure to save a workman's body, should it come as a surprise to find that the creator of man has made provision at infinite cost for the saving of man's soul?

"It is God the giving up of His beloved Son, and He cost the Lord Jesus Christ the endurance of Divine judgment against our sins to save our souls. For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whatsoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." (John 3:16)

"The redemption that is in Christ Jesus" may be likened to a giant safety net which saves all who trust themselves to it. The safety net, under the Golden Gate Bridge saved a few workmen, but the finished work of the Lord Jesus on the cross for our sins has saved millions of souls.

Man's inventions are not perfect, and strange as it may seem, an assistant befall the safety net under the Golden Gate Bridge. The bridge was completed and a portion of the net fell into the water and some workmen were drowned. But the work of the Lord is perfect. He saves with an "everlasting salvation." He not only died for us, but He also lives for us. "Wherefore He is able to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by Him, seeing He ever liveth to make intercession for them." (Heb. 7:25).

THE COLOSSAL PARSEC

As we see, the Latin million for thousand was the root of the word "million." A thousand parses, to denote a unit equal to 31 billion kilometres, 19 billion miles, or 3.3 light years, a light year being nearly six billion miles. One million parses make a "megaparsec" (megas is Greek for great).

Recently, American mathematicians suggested the use of the word "googol" (derivation unknown) for a figure denoting "one followed by 100 noughts" and "googolplex" for "one followed by a googol of noughts."

While to reflect light that has been shining on them, after it has been cut off, but it should be noted that while the glow of the clement phosphor is due to a slow chemical action, the glow of a phosphorescent substance is not.

Among the various other terms used to denote the action and reaction of light may be mentioned the metallic sheen of certain insects and sometimes oil, soap bubbles, and glass; this is called iridescence, from Iris the Greek work for rainbow.

BRITAIN WILL PROVIDE NEW HOSTELS
BY OUR LONDON CORRESPONDENT

ABOUT 1,000 WEST AFRICAN and West Indian students are expected in Britain between August and September this year to start courses in British Universities and technical colleges.

British Council officials estimate that two-thirds of them will come from West Africa.

The question that has been engaging the attention of officials and unofficials interested in the welfare of colonial students in Britain is how to provide accommodation for them.

Many of the students that are expected next month have made arrangements for their lodgings in England, but the shortage of hostel accommodation there is such that the majority of them will have to go to private homes.

There are three institutions which provide the main hostel accommodation for colonial students; they are the British Council, the W.A.S.U. and the International Language Club at Croydon.

An official of the British Council said that they can give temporary accommodation to a fair number of the students expected soon, in Hans Crescent House, London—the only hostel controlled by the British Council. The British Council is mainly responsible for Colonial Government Scholars and British Government sponsored students.

Investigations revealed that there is no accommodation in the two W.A.S.U. hostels in London. The highest number that the Chelsea hostel can hold is 27, while the other hostel at Camden Town can hold 16. At present both hostels are full.

Chief Ladipe Solanke said that “The W.A.S.U. cannot guarantee accommodation in the hostels owing to limited space, but as it has done in the past, if students will write in advance, arrangements will be made for them to get rooms in private houses.”

Mr. Terry Driscoll, proprietor of the International Language Club at Croydon says that the Club—which has a capacity for 500 residents—can only provide rooms for about 50 new residents between August and September.

Without doubt cycle engineering’s greatest achievement—the Rudge bicycle, acclaimed the best for over 80 years! Unfortunately today’s demand still exceeds the supply.

ANOTHER BRITISH COLONIAL HOTEL

Amid this problem of providing housing for colonial students in London, for it is in London that most of them live, the British Government is making efforts to ease the situation, though it cannot meet the demand of every student.

Following the recent Hans Crescent House incident, the Colonial Office has agreed in principle to the suggestion of the British Council that another hostel should be provided.

It is expected that when this hostel is ready it will accommodate 200 colonial students. It is also stated officially that there will be a third hostel at Camden Hill, London, for 60 students, but this will only be used as a transit house where new arrivals will stay for a few days before going to private homes.

It is not likely, however, that the two proposed new hostels will be ready before September when the new batch of students will be arriving.

STUDENTS STILL IN HOTEL

So far the students who were ordered to quit Hans Crescent are still staying there, and the recent decision of the Colonial Office to provide more hostels means that the students have won their main point.

A spokesman of the British Council stated, “We are still keeping an open mind on the affair of the students, and so far we have not decided to take legal action against them to make them quit the hostel.”

Drum-Major Salifu Ali

Drum-Major Salifu Ali of the Army Headquarters, Gold Coast District, has been appointed successor to the property of his mother, Madam Adjara Fulani, who died at Nima on Sunday, June 7.

A final announcement was made when the Mohammedan Chiefs, Mallams and Hausas attended the funeral celebrations of the late Madam Adjara on Thursday.

The will of the late Madam Adjara revealed that in view of the fact that Salifu Ali took great care of her during the time of her illness, she was handing over to him all her properties.

All the members of the family of the late Madam Adjara who were present said that they had not the slightest objection to Salifu Ali inheriting his mother’s property.

Major Salifu Ali then assured the members of the family of his co-operation and added that he would share everything with them in common and would not hide anything from them.

Cultural Society Offers Silver Medals For Composers

The West African Cultural Society proposes to offer five prizes of Silver Medals, to be awarded for works accepted to be performed as test pieces in the drama event of the Gold Coast National Festival of Music and Dance.

The composition must be a one act play of not more than 45 minutes in duration, written by a West African in any of the following Gold Coast languages, Ga, Twi, Fanti, Ewe, Dagomba or Hausa.

Plays should not have been previously published, performed or broadcast and the story must be strictly adaptable to African way of life or a well-known event in West African history, ancient or modern.

"I AM NOT SATISFIED WITH STREETS IN THE TOWN"—YANKAH

Speaking at a rally of C.P.P. members, supporters and sympathisers, at Kpeking near Osu, Dr. David's house, yesterday, Councillor N. E. E. K. Yankah said, "I am still not satisfied with the streets in Accra, especially those in Osu here and I will do my best to see that they are well constructed."

During the last meeting of the Accra Town Council, Mr. Yankah said, "I moved that the streets should be built as soon as possible. I was made to understand that there are not sufficient rollers at present, but some have been ordered and they will arrive soon."

Continuing, he said, the councillors were still going round the town to see things for themselves. On a visit to the Kpeking Hospital he found that there were not enough nurses to staff it properly.

Commonwealth Ministers Will Confer On Supply Of Raw Materials And Production

Preparations are getting steadily ahead at the Commonwealth Relations Office for a London Conference of Commonwealth Ministers concerned with production and supply of raw materials and manufactured goods. It is now "shaping up definitely," it was learnt.

The conference which is expected to be held in September will consider what efforts can be made by the Commonwealth as a whole to increase the production of vital raw materials and arrange equitable distribution.

It was during the Commons debate on the Ministry of Materials Bill four weeks ago that Mr. Stokes, Lord Privy Seal, announced the proposals for such conference.

Charge Of Stealing Cotton Prints Fails

Accra, Friday 198

Kojo Fio, Yusufu Fulani and Yusufu Zabrama, otherwise known as King Kong, were acquitted by his Honour Mr. Justice John Jackson when they appeared before him on charge of stealing at the Assize Court here yesterday.

The three men were charged with having stolen two bales containing 198 prints of cotton valued at £594 from the Warehouse at the Customs Department. The two bales of print were the property of S. D. Karam and Sons.

Mr. Justice John Jackson, giving his verdict, said that the Customs Department had reported the loss of two bales of print from the Warehouse, but the prosecution could not prove if the prints found on Fio, Fulani and Zabrama, some of which had been sold to some market women, were among those stolen.

Presbyterians Beat Washington Carver By 12-1

The Washington Carver XI suffered a total defeat of 12 goals to one when they met the Presbyterian Training College XI at Akropong-Akwapim.

The Presbyterian attack was an all out bombardment from start to finish. The skillful manner in which they passed their balls on to other was remarkable. Arouse by the cheers of the spectators, six goals were scored in quick succession. At the end of the first half, the opposing team had scored only one goal through a penalty kick awarded them.

The Presbyterians resumed play with the same vigour and therefore added six more goals, making 12.

“Destoolments Are Revolt Against Rule Through Chiefs”

“THE PRESENT WAVE of destoolment of chiefs in this country is the result of the revolt of the people, not directly against the chiefs, but against the system of rule of the imperialists through the chiefs,” declared Mr. Kwame Nkrumah, Leader of Government Business here yesterday. He was speaking at a durbar held by the Dutusso Confederacy Chiefs headed by Nene Kwel Keteku, chief of Agotime Kpetoe.

Continuing, he said that he hoped the new local government set-up would wipe away most of these discrepancies. He assured the audience that the amenities brought about by the new constitution would not only be enjoyed by the people of the Northern Territories, Ashanti and the Colony but also by the people of Togoland under United Kingdom Trusteeship as well.

Mr. Nkrumah concluded that the Ewe Unification problem was his great concern and that he was working hard on it in order that a good solution might be achieved.

COLONEL YOUNG TO ADVISE GOVERNMENT ON POLICE ORGANISATION

Accra, Sunday

THE SERVICES of Colonel A. E. Young, Commissioner of Police for the city of London, have been secured by the Gold Coast Government to advise the Government on the future organisation, training and methods of the Gold Coast Police Force in keeping with the needs of a modern state, said a statement issued by the Ministry of Defence and External Affairs here yesterday.

This was the result of an announcement made by the Minister of Local Government, Mr. E. O. Asafu-Adjaye in the Legislative Assembly, with regard to the impending reforms in Local Government.

Colonel Young, after many years experience in Police Forces in England, served from 1943 to 1945 in North Africa, Italy and Sicily, holding the posts of Director of Public Safety with the Allied Control Commission in Italy and Director of Security for Italy.

In 1945, he was appointed Chief Constable of Hertfordshire County Constabulary and from 1947 to 1950 he was Assistant Commissioner of the London Metropolitan Police. He was appointed Commissioner of Police for the City of London in 1950.

Colonel Young, who will arrive here on about September 18, will be accompanied by Chief Superintendent F. W. Wilson, of the London Metropolitan Police, as his Staff Officer.

T.U.C. ON COST OF GOODS

Accra, Sunday

The Gold Coast Trades Union Congress is to study and draw up recommendations for cutting down cost of goods and to check the rising cost of living. The recommendations will be submitted to the Government.

This was decided at the eighth annual conference of the Congress held here yesterday. The T.U.C. will transfer its headquarters from Sekondi to Accra, to make easier contacts with the Government and head of commercial firms.

In furtherance of trade union education, the Congress will request the Government to supply all trade unions with copies of all Labour Ordinances passed in the Gold Coast.

OFFINSO

D. C. PROBES ESTIMATES MYSTERY

Mr. P. H. Canham, Senior District Commissioner of Kumasi, assisted by Major Seth Anthony, conducted a preliminary inquiry here on Wednesday into the 1949-1951 estimates of the Offinso State.

Mr. Canham accepted the view that the young men represented all the elements in the state and further stated that he would like to see the constitution of the Sentinel Club, in future.

He also told the young men that he had come to settle the difference in Offinso.

TWENTY-FOUR young men from the Gold Coast have just sailed from our shores on a diplomatic mission.

They are the Gold Coast soccer players who will tour the U.K. We would like them to win a good proportion of their matches. But whether they win or lose is relatively unimportant so long as they do it in a sportsmanlike manner.

The eyes of the Gold Coast and of Britain will be upon them. That is why we describe their journey as a diplomatic mission.

If they 'play the game' fairly they will win the hearts of the people of Britain who hold good sportsmanship in higher esteem than a goal average.

And by winning the
And by winning the admiration of the ordinary people of Britain they will do as great a service to the Gold Coast as any party of high-ranking ambassadors.

We have no doubt that our boys will uphold the prestige of their country. We wish them well in their mission. We will follow their progress every day and our good wishes will always be with them.

Mankessim Youth Will Form “Dynamic” Union

A mass meeting of the Youth of Mankessim, all over the country will shortly be held at Mankessim, near Saltpond, to discuss means of improving the town socially and economically.

This was disclosed to a “Graphic” reporter by Mr. John Anderson, an Assistant Building Inspector of the Kumasi Town Council, in an interview at Kumasi.

Heading a group of young men from Mankessim who are planning to launch a campaign shortly to organise the Youth of Mankessim, Mr. Anderson said that they were anxious to form “a very dynamic and active” Mankessim Union which will be affiliated to the Saltpond and District Improvement Association.

"Relations Of Switzerland And Gold Coast Are Constantly Strengthened" -- W. Jost

I am pleased to state that the relations of Switzerland and the Gold Coast are constantly being strengthened. Swiss doctors and technical specialists may soon answer a call from the government of the Gold Coast, to come to work here. Also Swiss machines and equipment may play a part in the development plan of the Gold Coast," said Mr. Werner Jost, Vice Swiss Consul at the celebration of the 666th Anniversary of the Foundation of Switzerland in Accra.

The Governor, Sir Charles Noble Arden-Clarke, accompanied by Mr. R. H. Salway, Minister of Defence and External Affairs, was present at the celebration which took place at the roof-top of Swanmill in Station Road.

Mr. Jost in his address said that in cities, towns and villages in Switzerland, church bells were ringing and on the long battlefields, bonfires were rising into the skies, symbolising the centuries old struggle of the Swiss for peace and liberty.

Neutrality of the Swiss did not mean neutralism, it meant the forming of a bastion of strength in the heart of Europe, for the defence of Swiss ideals, for the protection of liberty and the preservation of peace.

Before the end of his speech, Mr. Jost paused. "Long live the King, long live the Gold Coast, and long live Switzerland," he concluded.

Mr. Werner Jost, the Vice Swiss Consul, with the help of all Swiss residents in Accra organised the celebration which consisted of a concert by the Band of the Gold Coast Police, the screening of special Swiss films and refreshments.

Minister Of Education Visits Ho School

The Minister of Education and Social Welfare, the Honourable Kojo Botsio, who arrived at Ho on Thursday afternoon on the first stage of a visit to the TransVolta area, carried out a series of inspections there on Friday. The Minister visited the prison, the Roman Catholic Senior Girls' School and other primary schools in the district, and met the staff of the Social Welfare Department, and later attended the official ground-breaking ceremony for the Ho School.

Mr. P. H. Fitz-Gerald, the General Manager of the United Africa Company, and member of the Legislative returned to Accra by air on Friday from leave in the United Kingdom.

Survey Department Is Busy On Vital Geological Survey Projects

An investigation of a possible reservoir for Axim water supply is being undertaken and low-grade manganese rocks are being surveyed in the Apam area as a prelude to the proposed detailed country-wide assessment of deposits of this valuable mineral. A survey in the Manso area is being carried out with a view to providing a suitable quarry site for ballast for the Railway. Surveys in connection with the Volta River project and the proposed new harbour East of Accra continue.

Members of the Department are engaged in both Ashanti and the Northern Territories on the location of water. A possible source for the Regional College in Kumasi is being tested and small reservoir sites for Tamale are being investigated.

In preparation for the big programme of work planned for the coming dry season, six members of the staff who are shortly proceeding on leave will take courses at the Imperial College on the most advanced technique in geophysics.

The new headquarters laboratories at Saltpond, built with money provided by the Colonial Development and Welfare Scheme, is expected to be ready by the end of the year.

Minister Of Education Visits Ho School

The Minister of Education and Social Welfare, the Honourable Kojo Botsie, who arrived at Ho on Thursday afternoon on the first stage of a visit to the TransVolta area, carried out a series of equipment there on Friday. The Minister visited the Prison, the Roman Catholic Senior Girls' School and other primary schools in the district, and met the staff of the Social Welfare Department, and later attended the official groundbreaking ceremony for laying the foundation of Mawuli Secondary School. On Saturday, the Minister went to Amedzofe.
FESTIVAL VISITORS COMPLETE 14,000 MILES PROVINCIAL TOUR OF U.K.

THE FESTIVAL VISITORS returning to London all voted the English and Scottish provincial tour of 14,000 miles just completed a magnificent experience which would always be remembered, wrote a Colonial office special correspondent.

Mr. A. Soelof of Nigeria, who was a student at the Durham and London Universities in 1941, said he had seen more during the last nine days than in the whole of his undergraduate days. "It was a fine idea to give us people from the Commonwealth countries the opportunity to meet and enjoy the traditional experiences of this country and to exchange views". He said "it is particularly gratifying to an old student like myself to renew memories of university days and to see that cultural traditions are still maintained. Those who had not had such an experience before are now better able to assess the value of the historic English university system."

Dr. K. M. Ariff of Malaya considered the tour well organised, adding "We could not have got through so much on our own, and seeing the performance of 'Richard the Second' at Stratford on Avon was a fitting climax to a tour which has enable us to appreciate those associations important to British life. It has also enable us to see the beauty of famous architecture and the glory of your rich countryside".

Mr. L. L. Simmonds of Jamaica expressed the opinion that the closely packed programme of the provincial tour had completely overshadowed the London experiences and had been illuminatingly educative.

Before leaving Oxford the visitors toured the Sheldonian Theatre built in 1669, where the university degrees are still conferred. The Divinity School and Bodleian Library were also visited after which the party left by road for London.

Committee Reports Remarkable Success in War Against Leprosy

The Medical Research Committee has reported remarkable success in the war against leprosy in Nigeria, Malaya and Northern Rhodesia. Drivers Asked To Be More Careful Of Roads

Accra, Fiday.

Mr. C. R. Edelston, Assistant Superintendent of Police in charge of the Headquarters Licensing Office, Gold Coast Police, Accra, told the "Graphic" that there was now need for greater care on the part of motor drivers on the roads increased in number.

He said that there was no truth in the allegations that the literacy test for obtaining forms for driving tests had been abolished.

"It is important that drivers should understand the reason for road signs and the Motor Traffic Ordinance. It is not sufficient to be able to read, but the driver must understand the meaning of what he reads. A driver should be able to understand what the sign 'Steep Hill' for instance means.

"It is my personal opinion that if the literacy test were abolished accidents would increase and more people would be killed on the roads. It will be my endeavour to make the roads safe for everybody," he concluded.

HORSES TO BACK TODAY

By DZOFOI GHANA

FIRST RACE:
Moko Noni, Merhabu and Greater London are all stayers who will be suited by this distance. Series ran very well at the last meeting.

SELECTION:
1. MOKO NONI
2. GREATER LONDON
3. MERNABU

SECOND RACE:
Another long distance handicap with Messenger, Do Or Die, Love All and Dobel proved stayers. Messenger always flatters in races of this description but falls at times to go through with his challenge.

SELECTION:
1. LOVE ALL
2. DO OR DIE
3. MESSENGER

THIRD RACE:
Lucky Jack, Me And You and Happy Man make most appeal. Moor returns after a long absence. For those racers who like an outsider with long odds, I recommend Sharif. Nylon is overdue a win but his turn may not be yet due.

SELECTION:
1. ME AND YOU
2. HAPPY MAN
3. SHARIF

FOURTH RACE:

SIXTH RACE:
Yahabibi, Dancing Feet, Nadeem and Miramar meet over 5 furlongs. Miramar early pace should ensure him a good run but he outpaced on the last furlong by Yahabibi.

SELECTION:
1. YAHABIBI
2. DANCING FEET
3. FFU

SEVENTH RACE:
Top race of the day and very open at the weights. Miracle may upset London if in form, and Yawa is always dangerous. We have not yet seen the best of Paris who carries only 8 stone 13 pounds.

SELECTION:
1. LONDON
2. MAJESTIC
3. PARIS.

Presbyterians Are No Match For Academy

The Accra Academy trounced the Presbyterian Training College by five goals to nil in a football match played at the Owusu Memorial Park yesterday.

About ten minutes from the commencement of the game, Emmanuel Amui, the centre forward and captain of the Academy team opened the score for his side in one of the constant openings they carried out against the opponents. Before the end of the first half, Ofiri Manteau, the inside right for the Academy, added another goal after a tactical dribbling in the goal area.

When play was resumed, the Presbyterians made several attempts to pull out from the defensive to the offensive, but their opponents held their ground firmly and warded off many attacks. Amui and Charles Odartey, centre forward and outside left for the Academy team added three more goals, two of which were scored by Amui. Academy went on an all-out offensive and they kept their opponents quite at bay up to the end of the match.

FREEMAN RETAINS CUP

In the 30th annual inter-house athletic sports competition held at the Mfantsempim School, the Freeman House retained its championship cup, taking the first place with 114 points.

Principal of the Abuakwa State College, and a crowd of about 1,000 people, the Abuakwa State College XI, defeated the Achimota School XI, by three goals to nil in a thrilling soccer match played at the Achimota School grounds here yesterday.

Fifteen minutes from the start of the game, the play became balanced and no one could guess which was the better team. Few minutes after, Joseph Amponsah, the centre forward of the Abuakwa College team, displayed the latest tactics and having collected a pass from F. K. Aidoo, the inside right, opened the score with a very terrific shot.

The forward line of the Achimota School team, which was more energetic than the Abuakwa College team, scored their second goal again through Joseph Amponsah, who dribbled the ball passed the full backs of the Abuakwa team.

During the second half, both teams appeared on the field again with new strength, each adopting new tactics to win for the day; but the Abuakwa College team, which was more energetic than the Achimota School team, scored their second goal again through Joseph Amponsah, who dribbled the ball past the full backs of the Achimota team and thus shot the ball into the net.

The Achimota team at this time tried aggressively to equalise and several times raided the goal area of their opponents with many dangerous shots but Owusu Boakye, the strong goalkeeper of the Abuakwa team, was too smart to be beaten. Few minutes to the full time, Daniel Osei Tutu, the outside left of the Abuakwa College Team, scored the third and last goal through a long range shot. The game then came to an end with the Abuakwa State College three goals and Achimota School 0.

The referee was Mr. A. W. M. Hodges of Achimota.
CPP Expels Lamptey

Ho, Monday

MR. KWESI LAMPTETY, M.L.A. for Sekondi-Takoradi Municipality, a member of the C.P.P. National Executive and Under-Secretary to the Ministry of Finance, was expelled yesterday from the C.P.P. at a delegates' conference which ends here today.

Out of more than 1,000 delegates who attended the conference only three voted in favour of Mr. Lamptey.

The expulsion took effect as from yesterday. Mr. Lamptey did not attend the conference. The conference at an all-night meeting on Sunday in April this year, by denouncing the constitution of the party when he addressed a C.P.P. rally at Tako on May 25.

Mr. Kwame Nkrumah, addressing the delegates, said that he had not compromised in his demand for self-government, but that, as a good “General” he had taken into account the strength of his forces before working out his strategy.

He said that he was working according to his own plan. “Towards the goal.”

Referring to Bediako Poku and J. E. Jantuah, the two Ministerial Under-Secretaries who were jailed for contempt of court on Friday at Kumasi, Mr. Nkrumah said that another blow had been thrown to the party.

School Board Decides To Give Free Tuition To Students

Akpafo Odomi, Monday.

"The local Board of Governors of the Akpafo Odomi Ghana Secondary School have decided to award all the students of the School free tuition this year," said Mr. K. Ampomah, president of the Board to a "Graphic" reporter here today.

Continuing, he said that the Board would like to show the people in the area the importance of secondary education, and to encourage parents who were financially embarrassed.

When asked as to how the teachers would be paid, Mr. Ampomah said that sufficient money had been collected from voluntary sources to maintain the school for the whole year. He stated that the students would only be required to pay for their boarding.

Speaking on the management of the school, Mr. Ampomah said he admired methods taken by the staff with Mr. Herbert O. King, the Principal of the School, in encouraging the members of the state to finish three classrooms and a tennis court. "I am confident that this will encourage the students to work hard," he concluded.

‘ABOLISH PANEL SYSTEM’

The Colony Registrars Union by a resolution have called for the immediate abolition of the Panel system in the Native Courts.

The resolution called for the appointment of Magistrates by the Chief Justice and also that the registrars should be placed under the control of the Chief Justice and governed by the Civil Service regulations.

A copy of the resolution has been sent to the Judicial Adviser of the Colony.

MAMPONG-AKWAPIM

Expenditure Exceeds Income

A statement from the Akwapim Native Authority said that the excess of £400 in the expenditure of last year over the revenue was mainly caused by the neglect of the people in the payment of levies. This refers particularly to the Adonten division. There was no deficit.

SORES BY RADIO DOCTOR

When I look at boys and girls who have newly come to school, one of the most noticeable things is that they nearly all have scars, often large scars, on their legs. These are due to sores. For some reason girls have fewer than boys — perhaps because they are better fed, perhaps because they don't play so roughly, and thereby cut their skins so often.

That raises several points for discussion. Firstly, sores are so extremely common we all ought to know something about them. Secondly, it is the poorly fed children whose skins are unhealthy who are most likely to get these big sores.

Fish, eggs, palm-oil and groundnuts are the foods which help to keep the skin smooth, soft and healthy. Cod liver oil is of course very good for the skin too, but most people prefer a good palm-oil stew, and I confess I am one of them myself. And the third point is that these sores often start with small injuries — a scratch, an insect-bite, a thorn or splinter. Neglect of these things may eventually result in enormous sores which eat out the flesh down even to the bone.

First of all how to treat a scratch, or small wound. Briefly "clean it and cover it". The easiest way to clean a fresh wound is to wash it thoroughly in warm salt water. A teaspoon of salt to a pint of boiled water is the right strength. You'll find one of the great advantages of this is that it does not hurt at all, whereas plain water is painful in a wound; it is an advantage in treating children. Wipe away all dirty or grease from the skin around the wound, and then cover it with some clean cloth. If it is a grave or a big wound I like to put some vaseline first on the cloth, and put the vaseline next to the wound — it stops the cloth sticking to the wound and makes it easier to get off. Leave the covering on for two or three days if it is comfortable; things heal more quickly if they are left alone.

If the wound is dirty, it will be good, after washing to put on some aertiflavine or tincture of iodine, then cover with the vaseline on a cloth.

There are several good things which you can use for cleaning sores; salt and water is the most easily prepared, or potassium permanganate.

Get a bowl of boiled water, and add to it just a very little of the powder; it will make the water pink. Don't make it too strong. It only needs to be just pink. Use this for washing sores. There is also a good medicine called eusol, which can be bought; that is also good for cleaning sores.
Mrs. Charlotte Neizer Grant (centre) with some of her pupils in front of their school house at Effia Kuma, Sekondi.

In 1948 at Effia Kuma Housing Estate, Mrs. Charlotte Neizer Grant founded the Effia Kuma Day Nursery School.

When in August 1948, Mr. Neizer Grant decided to settle down in Effia Kuma, a few miles from Sekondi, Charlotte the energetic wife solved the problem of education for her two children.

In her own parlour she grouped the children of other residents with her own and started teaching them little songs and simple exercises.

Pride of Charlotte Grant who sent us this photograph is that her young charges are now installed in a real school house and two young girls help her to manage the new rascals who join them daily.

The children number over 80 and range from 2 to 5 years in age. They learn the use of handkerchiefs, drilling, praying, action songs, games, Bible stories, free play. They also have regulated meals, fruit and periodical sleep.

Mrs. Grant opened other Day Nursery Schools at Adiembra, Sekondi, Old Hospital and Takoradi.
Krobo Edusei Wants To Know What Plans Britain Is Making To Replace “Undesirables” In Civil Service

Commonwealth Education And Welfare Trust Allocates £7,250 To Gold Coast

The Trustees of the Commonwealth Education and Welfare Trust at a meeting in London, made allocations to the Gold Coast totalling £7,250, as follows: £500 for a clinic now being built by the Salvation Army at Bogoro; £2,000 towards the cost of the Red Cross Society’s Anti-Natal Clinic at James Town, Accra; £300 to enable Mrs. M. A. Busia to complete her training in Child Care work in the United Kingdom; £450 to enable Mrs. A. C. Denton of the staff of the Methodist Women’s Training Centre, Kumasi, to take a short course in the United Kingdom; and £1,000 towards the cost of the research scheme in this country of the Royal Empire Society for the Blind.

In January of this year the Trust made a grant of £4,000 to the Christian Council of the Gold Coast for the building of its headquarters house in Accra on condition that the Council raised the further £945 required. That was done by April 30 and £2,000 of the grant has been received. Building has now begun.
BARRISTER ANNAN SETS UP ‘PARTIES UNIFICATION COMMITTEE’

“The task will be a hard one. I am however convinced that some sort of compromise on a united front can be achieved both among the leaders and their parties in the Gold Coast”, said Mr. Nil Boi Annan, the Accra barrister.

Mr. Annan expressed this opinion in a statement to the “Graphic” having interviewed leaders of the C.P.P., the U.G.C.C. and the N.D.P. during the space of seven days.

To effect the bringing together of the parties in this country for a united effort towards the achievement of self-government, Mr. Annan has requested Mr. K. A. B. Jones Quartey and Mr. C. K. Apaloo, to join him in forming a committee.

Both men have accepted the invitation and the “Gold Coast Parties Unification Committee” will work to find out ways and means of bringing about and ensuring “cleaner politics”. They will work out methods of achieving a united front.

Mr. Annan said that on the whole he had not come across any form of personal animosity among the leaders of the C.P.P. and the U.G.C.C. though the major political newspapers, in his opinion lead the people to the belief that it existed.

London's Pigeons Are The World's Tamest
By Fred Sarpong

YOU want plenty of pigeons for good African or European dishes, come over to London and go to Trafalgar Square, and just near the famous Nelson's column you can down a few yards and make a catch of hundreds. You need not even bend down to catch them, since they fly towards you as you go by, and it would be easy to catch them.

You could then start for home and hope for a good meal; but as soon as you had a few yards, a policeman would lay a heavy hand on your shoulder and march you to the nearest police-station to put you on a charge. These birds, which are used to make excellent dishes in some parts of the world, are in London protected by law, and nobody attempts to catch them. They are said to be the tamest in the world.

Hundreds of holiday makers visit Trafalgar Square every day to play with these lucky birds and feed them. Some of the birds will eat out of people's hands and settle on their heads, and they are the centre of attraction around the Square.

Fred Sarpong discusses the pigeons with a London policeman.

We wish to thank our old customers of the past and assure them of our prompt and individual service for the future.

Outstanding Economy with Good Performance
When I spoke to a school boy some time ago and asked him whether he would like to go to the Gold Coast with me, his immediate reply was that he would not. He said that he had been told that the Gold Coast is too hot for the white man, and added that he could not have the courage to meet the lions and the tigers on the streets. I nearly lost my temper with him for the absurdity he spoke but after I had, with patience, told him how wrong he was and explained all about the Gold Coast in particular and Africa in general to him, he was very much touched and wished to go with me; we soon exchanged addresses and promised to write each other, and parted firm friends.

Since I arrived in England, I have thought that there is something wrong with the teaching in schools about Africa, and about the people who live there; and I am strongly convinced that the average school boy or girl in England does not know what Africa is, and whom an African is.

The belief is widespread that hundreds of lions and tigers can easily be seen in the streets of African cities, and that the people there move about in the daytime. But this is not the case; one must go into the bush for this country to be seen. It is a matter of education and knowledge.

They do not know and respect each other. Therefore, in my opinion, before people leave their elementary schools here they should know enough about Africa and Africans, to make them look friendly and behave nicely when they meet one.

When I leave England, I do so with excellent impressions of the wonderful things I have seen here, but I would wish also that the people here were thought enough of the qualities and the true life of the African, which I think is the only way of encouraging cordial relations between the Black and the White.

Fred R. Sarpong, London.

LANTE DSANE CELEBRATES 'HOMOWO'

The Lante Dsane We exchanged the customary greetings in "Ngowala" after the observation of the Homowo, the traditional festival of the Ga people which falls on August each year.

The feast was celebrated by the Lante Dsane We on Saturday at Accra.

At noon the new Wulomo of the Lante Dsane We who dressed in white, followed by all the "Agbas" (the fetish priests of the god Dantu) sprinkled the "Kpokpo" a special dish which is prepared in nearly every house with corn, both in and out of the "Dantu We" and other important quarters of the Lante Dsane We amid drumming and traditional songs.

The height of the feast was reached at 3.30 p.m. with the newly installed Wulomo pouring libation to the god "Dantu" after visiting Chiefs Asafoatseme and elders and the Acting Lante Dsane We Manche in Asere, Mr. D. A. Lawson of the Textiles Company had taken their seats under state umbrellas.

I think this sheer ignorance, is caused by the fact that people are not taught enough about Africa and Africans; and that is why Africans appear to scare some people in England, especially the children. That is also why some people will not sit beside Africans in the buses and on trains, and those who are compelled to sit beside Africans, because of lack of seats, appear to be uneasy.

I found out that those people here who move very freely with Africans, are on the majority those who have read a lot of the right sort of books about or have journeyed around Africa. These are the people who know actually that the African is just the same as the white man, except for his colour which makes no difference.

And in the same way that a white man might claim his colour to be best, the African might say "No, mine is best." And these experienced people are those who would call Africans "brothers" who have the same human qualities as themselves.

It is very unfortunate that this state of affairs should exist in England which must remain friendly with African Countries, because how can two nations be friendly, when

U. G. C. C. Demands Commission On Chieftaincy

TO AVERT THE complete liquidation of chieftaincy in the Gold Coast, the United Gold Coast Convention calls for the setting up of a commission of inquiry, not only to find out the causes of the present assault against chieftaincy but to find a definite and co-ordinated place for the chiefs in the new democratic government of the country.

This was included in the resolution adopted by 200 delegates, representing 75 branches of the United Gold Coast Convention, with about 360 member observers, at the U.G.C.C. annual conference which ended here yesterday.

The resolution said that there can be no two opinions that the present wave of destoolment of chiefs in the colony and Ashanti was a direct outcome of the policy of the present Government which had treated chieftaincy as a plaything in the hands of the Colonial power and of the new dogma of making “the chiefs run away and leave their sandals behind.”

SELF-GOVERNMENT

On the question of self-government, the U.G.C.C. reiterated their policy to use all the achievement of self-government.

As regards the system of local Government and the contemplated elections to local government councils, the policy of the Convention is directed to seeing that the new local government authorities are autonomous and are composed of men of high and responsible calibre. The resolution added that mismanagement of the affairs of a local government authority affect the people more directly and more vitally in their day to day life than they are affected by the activities of the central Government.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT

While the U.G.C.C. believed that the reorganisation of the local government system is of supreme importance, they did not subscribe to the view that it must take precedence over the affairs of a local government authority, affecting the people more directly and more intimately in their day to day life than is the case with mismanagement in the Central Government.

RISING COST OF LIVING

Touching the question of high prices and the rising cost of living, the U.G.C.C. resolution said that the root cause of high prices was inflation. Inflation arises from a false or misdirected fiscal policy as regards wages and salaries, taxation, production, and the system of imports and exports and the form of duties levied thereon. Until the present Government gets to the root of these highly complicated economic issues all attempts to bring down high prices would be mere tinkering with the problem.

My Expulsion Does Not Affect My Seat in Assembly Says Lamptey

"I never addressed a C.P.P. rally at Tafo on May 25. If I have been expelled, I take the decision philosophically. After all, it is well that ends well," said Mr. Kwesi Lamptey, M.L.A. and Under-Secretary to the Ministry of Finance to a "Graphic" reporter in an interview today.

Mr. Lamptey was speaking about his expulsion from the C.P.P. which took place at the C.P.P. delegates conference held at Ho on Sunday.

He said he had not received any official letter from the C.P.P. Executive confirming his expulsion but he was however looking forward to receiving it.

Asked whether his expulsion will affect his seat in the Assembly, Mr. Lamptey stated that according to the Assembly Constitution no one could be removed from the Assembly unless he went against the constitution of the Assembly.

Mr. Lamptey whose expulsion took effect from Sunday, August 5, is alleged to have broken a written pledge of loyalty to the Life Chairman of the C.P.P., Mr. Kwame Nkrumah, which he gave in April this year by denouncing the constitution of the party when he addressed a C.P.P. rally at Tafo on May 25.

A CIRCULAR SWASTIKA WOULD BE MORE APPROPRIATE FOR THE TOGOLAND CONGRESS

Says Dr. J. B. Danquah

THE CHOICE OF THE Nazi Swastika or Fylfot in the flag design of the Joint Togoland Congress should form an interesting comment on the kind of impression that European ideologies are creating on some of us in Africa. Upon this aspect of the matter I offer no comment. I am moved, however, to comment on the choice by the Congress of a European form of the swastika in preference to our own African swastika which is in the form of a circle, not a square.

As you rightly point out the Swastika or Fylfot is one of the most ancient and widespread of all ornamental forms. It is in fact the relic of the old religion of sun-worship. It is found in Africa and in Asia as also in Europe. The European form shows the ends of the arms of the design (something like a Greek Cross) bent at right angles all in the same direction, clockwise. The African form, which is circular, has all the arms pointed to the left, anti-clockwise. One of its Akan names is Okore-namti. "Eagle's Feet", but in Ashanti it is known as the Nkotimse-fopuaa. It is worn on the head of the young girl attendants of the Queen-Mother at her residence at Manhyia, Kumasi. They wear it as a hair style, cut into the top of the head, a symbol of purity, and integrity.

The curious thing is that Hitler did not use the old European form, the clockwise pattern, but combined the African anti-clockwise pattern with the European square pattern, with the result that he produced what can only be described as a mongrel in "Hitler"'s own country. The French, in their usual way, have also made use of a similar design in their Army recruits' badges.

Another fine drawing of the Akan swastika worn on the head of a girl is to be seen at page 48 of Singer-Balridge's "White Africans and Black". The Akan circular swastika is commonly found as one of the patterns in the "Adinkra" or mourning cloth worn by chiefs and notables in the African tradition were they to choose the circular swastika which symbolises not only the sun, as does the swastika in general, but the entire orbit or rounded form of the universe. A circle, it is generally accepted, is a more perfect figure than a square, and, like African art, it has a more pleasing beauty than the squarish and angular forms associated with European forms.

Mr. Chinery Will Broadcast

Accra, Tuesday

Mr. Patrick Chinery, the Organising Commissioner of the Gold Coast Boy Scouts Association Headquarters, will shortly give a radio talk from the Rediffusion Station of the Broadcasting Department here.

Mr. Chinery told a "Fire-from what they have been accustomed to at home, should be given hostel accommodation, so that they may be among their friends and not feel "lost" in the bustling life of the huge city.

By the time the first twelve months have past it is thought that these young men will have "found their feet" and London will no longer seem strange and overwhelming.

So the policy of the British Council is that the "veteran" students who know their way about should leave the hostel to make room for the next batch of new arrivals. Alternative accommodation in private lodgings is found before the students are moved.

Now, since there is not room for everybody in the hostel, this policy of opening the hostel to the others who need it most seems a fair one.

We congratulate the "strikers" by bringing home their point to the Colonial Office, but we suggest that they should now unselfishly agree to make way for kinsmen whose need is greater than their own.

Scouts Bob-A-Job Week
A Daily Meditation

THE Scouts Bob-a-job week started on Sunday. Scouts who came to you will do voluntary work for you for a shilling or more.

Here is today's Bob-a-job saying, compiled by Mr. N. H. Abu Jaddeh, Headquarters Commissioner.

TO-DAY'S MOTTO: "BE PREPARED."

Whenever anything in human life succeeds it is usually due to careful preparation for the event. Scouting has a purpose, the training of boys character to be prepared for life as a Happy, Healthy, Useful Citizen. To carry this out every Scout goes through some years of careful training wherein he learns to get over difficulties, to lead others to be self-reliant, boldly strong and efficient in many ways. He learns First Aid in order to be prepared to help effectively.

Woodcraft widens his vision and with observation helps to train for swift and accurate decision. Handicrafts broaden his interests and provide an "alternative job" and through it all runs the cheery "Scout Spirit" which is found throughout the great Brotherhood of Scouts.

"Sow a thought, reap an act
Sow an act, reap a habit,
Sow a habit, reap a character
Sow a character, reap a destiny."

SOWANDE’S ‘SUITE’ COMBINES BLACK THEMES WITH WHITE HARMONY

FELA SOWANDE, the Nigerian musician and composer in Britain, has had his musical composition entitled “African Suite” recorded at the Decca Record Company’s studios in London. All the six parts of the “African Suite” will be on one side of the record. This is the latest type of the long playing disc, which, although of normal size, plays for over thirty minutes.

Mr. Sowande’s music combines African themes with European harmony and technique. The first two parts of the Suite “Joyful Day” and “Ontina” are based on themes by Mr. Amy of Achimota Training College. The middle section “Nostalgia” and “Dance” are original works. The last two parts “Akala” and “Lullaby” are based on folk melodies from the Gold Coast and Nigeria.

Complete Physical Training Course

Company Sergeant Major K. Amponsah of the West Africa School of Physical Training, Teshie Camp, who finished his advance course in physical training on August 4, at the Aldershot School of Physical Training, England is expected to arrive in the Gold Coast on August 18.

He left Accra by air on April 25 this year for the United Kingdom on an Army scholarship, and started his course on May 2.

Amponsah was made a physical training instructor in the army in 1940 and his first unit was the 1st Gold Coast Regiment. He was transferred in 1947 to the W.A.C.T.S which was later attached to the 2nd Gold Coast Regiment on October 20, 1949.

He is a keen sportsman and has been an active member of the police football team.

RULES FOR SANITARY BOARD ELECTIONS

Age Minimum Is 21: But Electors Must Have Paid Levy

The following regulations governing the conduct of the Oubusi Sanitary Board elections which will shortly be held in Oubusi have been made by the Gold Coast Government.

Qualified electors must have attained the age of 21 years and must have for a period of six months resided in the town before the date of their applications. They must also have paid any levy or rate charged by the Ashanti Native Authority or the Sanitary Board.

Any person who destroys or makes any alteration in any notice published, or makes any statement which he does not believe to be true shall be guilty of an offence and upon conviction shall be fined not more than £50 or six months imprisonment.

Any person who desires to be registered as an elector should within the period of 21 days from the first day of March every year deliver to the Registration Officer a Form B and should also produce evidence to establish his claim to be so registered.

The Registration Officer, in the month of December 1951, should ascertain whether any of the persons who registered themselves in the last list have ceased to retain the qualifications in respect of which they were registered, or whether any of them are dead.

Every candidate at the time when his nomination papers are delivered to the Returning Officer should deposit an amount of ten pounds; and any candidate who wishes to withdraw his candidature may by notice send to the Returning Officer not later than 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the 10th day before the election day.

Ministry Denies Alleged Epidemic

The Ministry of Health and Labour has issued the first statement in regard to reports of the yellow fever outbreak in the Kpandu area.

The first information that suspected deaths from yellow fever had occurred in the area was received by the Medical Department on July 15. Post-mortem confirmation in one case followed on July 20.

Meanwhile the Director of Medical Services immediately arranged that a team consisting of Mr. Prescott, Sanitary Superintendent of the Virus Research Institute of Nigeria and Mr. Wright, the Government Entomologist, proceed to Kpandu on July 28.

This team has now reported its findings to the Medical Headquarters, namely, that a few mosquitoes of the type that carry yellow fever are now prevalent and that the Kpandu area is declared clean from a sanitary point of view.

There is no substantiation of reports that upwards of 10 persons have died of yellow fever in the district, but evidence shows that one death was definitely attributed to yellow fever with two suspects. Of the five persons in Kpandu town, none showed symptoms of yellow fever.

In view of the first reports, the Director of Medical Services arranged that the Officer in charge of the Kpandu Yellow Fever Small-pox Immunisation Scheme should proceed with two vaccinators to Kpandu and carry out immunisation at the town. This has been done. There is no truth in any reports that a wide-spread epidemic exists and that officials have left Kpandu because of such an alleged epidemic.

Storekeepers Elect Officers

ADDRESSING OVER 30 delegates of the Gold Coast U.T.C. Storekeepers Union at the meeting held on Sunday at Nsawam, where the new officers of the Union were installed, Mr. J. F. Gyimah, the General President of the Union pledged his support to the Union both morally and financially.

He said that there was no doubt that there would be difficulties in the way of the Union, but these could be overcome through the members own unity, co-operation and determination to see that officers their respective duties and asked them to cooperate with each other for the successful running of the Union.

After the installation ceremony Mr. J. F. Gyimah, the President, Mr. A. A. Bampoe, the Vice-President and Mr. N. N. S. A. W. S. Addo, the Secretary were sworn in.

IMPROVE SITE FOR PROPOSED TEACHER TRAINING CENTRE

I learnt that the Achimota Secondary Teacher Training Centre will be removed to Kumasi to provide more room for our University graduates, but that is not an excuse that the poor students be placed under such poor conditions which is quite a menace to life and the community at large.

I believe the Minister of Education and Social Welfare is quite aware of the removal and I am happy the Leader of Government Business (Dr. Kwame Nkrumah) has also announced it. May it please both Ministers to investigate the conditions under which the poor African teachers are going to stay.

It is not my intention to disturb the removal, but what I want is an improvement.

He stated that he knew that some of these problems were due to the Native Authority Ordinance implemented by the British imperialists of this country. When the Local Government is introduced next year, the states and chiefs would have power to have their demands attended to.

Reiterating certain points in the speeches of Mr. K. A. Gbedemah and Mr. George Padmore who spoke earlier, Dr. Nkrumah stated that the durbar of the Ada National Festival was one of the “most magnificent” occasions ever seen in the Gold Coast.

Touching the question of the proposed harbour construction at Ada, he said he had been impressed by the slogan demonstrated by the Adas throughout Ada Foah and Big-Ada “Ada Harbour!!!” which had been written on walls, dining tables and cloths, in flags, badges and in streets, and which had become the greetings in the area. The harbour scheme, he continued, was under serious consideration by the Government and after decisions had been taken on it the public would be notified.

Earlier, Dr. Kwame Nkrumah with his colleagues were provided with three steam boats on which they voyaged from Ada Foah to Azizanya estuary back to mile one, to Big Ada and finally to Ada Foah on the Volta. The voyage took one and a half hours. The speed was about 20 miles per hour. They travelled on some of the fastest boats ever used in the Gold Coast.

Over 400 football fans saw the Great Argonauts XI draw with the Red Lions XI by two goals to two in a soccer match played at the Osu Memen Park at Accra.

About ten minutes from the start of play, C. C. Peters, succeeded in registering the first goal with a long-range shot in the goal area.

The Lions then became furious and B. B. Bukan the centre forward suddenly equalised the score.

When play was resumed, both sides became balanced by introducing new tactics. About twenty-five minutes later Paddington the outside left for Argonauts scored another goal for his side through heading.

Few minutes to the end of play, Red Lions equalised the score by a penalty kick awarded them.

Mr. Blankson Mills was the referee.

Cocoa Price Fixed At £4 Per Load

By A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

Accra, Wednesday

THE GOLD COAST Cocoa Marketing Board at its meeting here yesterday recommended that this year's main cocoa crop price was to be £4 per load of 60 lbs. Last year's price was £3 5s.

I learn that the decision of the Board is to be forwarded to the Executive Council for approval.

The Board unanimously elected Mr. Ashie Nikoi and A. Y. K. Djin as Directors. They replace Dr. J. B. Danquah and Mr. J. W. Brobbey.

Mr. Djin is a member of the Accra Town Council and an executive member of the C.P.P. He is a cocoa merchant and importer of general merchandise. He is reputed to be

NIGERIA PROPOSES WEST AFRICAN INSTITUTE:

New Bill Will Encourage Research In Palm Oil Industry

THE ESTABLISHMENT of a West African Oil Palm Research Institute is the object of a Bill to be tabled before the next session of the Nigerian Legislative Council later in the year. Published in the Nigerian Gazette of July 5, 1951, the Bill details the aims, objects, powers and organisation of the proposed Institute and provides for the setting up of a management body to be known as the West African Oil Palm Research Management Committee.

Over this committee will preside a chairman who, together with the Director of the Institute (a member also of the committee), will be nominated by the Secretary of State for the British Colonies. Not more than four members of the ten-man committee will be appointed by the Governor, while the Nigeria Oil Palm Produce Marketing Board will nominate two members. The Gold Coast and Sierra Leone Governments will each appoint a member to the Committee.

A feature of the oil palm industry in Nigeria and the other three colonies of West Africa is that, unlike other agricultural industries such as groundnuts and cocoa, it is based on a crop which grows wild, without human care and assistance. That such a foundation is not very reliable has become evident when, before the last war, the oil palm industry of Nigeria was faced with competition from the Belgian Congo and the Dutch East Indies where the plantation cultivation of the oil palm is on a carefully planned scientific basis. The good prices now being obtained for Nigerian palm oil are due partly to increased demand and partly to the slow recovery of the Eastern producing areas from the effects of the war.

In effect, take over and build upon existing research establishments. These include the Oil Palm Research Station at Benin; one big sub-station of about 400 acres in the East, and five provincial farms in Oyo, Benin, Onitsha, Owerri and Calabar.

Henceforth, Oil Palm research will be on a West African scale and not just confined to Nigeria. The new Institute will also interest itself in such problems of the oil palm industry as are

Scouts Bob-A-Job Week
A Daily Meditation

The Scouts Bob-a-job week started on Sunday. Scouts who come to you will do voluntary work for you for a shilling or more.

Here is today's Bob-a-job saying, compiled by Mr. N. H. Abu Jaideh, Headquarters Commissioner.

Today's Motto: "KEEP SMILING"

You can know a Boy Scout by his smile—it is as characteristic of him as his bare knees and his hat.

So wherever a Boy Scout goes he makes people happier. If he gets half a chance he does a Good Turn and quietly goes off saying nothing about it.

This habit of "Happyfying" people is extended wider as the boy grows up, and it is certainly true in this present age, that no more welcome gift could be given to the Nation than to spread the Jolly Scout Smile and cheerful outlook among all the people.

Ten thousand Scouts of all degrees and ages are spreading Scouting in the Gold Coast today. Help them to go forward and "Happyf our Country.... Scout Law No. 8—"A Scout Smiles and whistles under all difficulties."

"You hear this boy laughing?—You think he's all fun? But the angel laughs too at the good he has done."

Institute will also interest itself in such problems of the oil palm industry as are peculiar to the Gold Coast, Sierra Leone and Gambia. It will have a member from the Gold Coast and one from Sierra Leone on its Manage-

He Stabbed Victim Again On Way To Hospital

Accra, Wednesday.

The Nima shooting case involving Alhaji Mohamudu Multi and Berde Braima was heard by Mr. H. J. Crisland, sitting at the Magistrate's Court here yesterday.

Fatima Wangara, a crown witness, stated that she saw Alhaji Mohamudu Multi riding a horse with a spear in his hand when he went to the Fulanis quarters on July 6.

Continuing, she said that Alhaji Multi drew near the Fulanis who had bent down their knees praying and asked them to quit. When the people refused to go, she added, Alhaji Multi rushed on the people and pierced his spear through the shoulders of Molai, a Fulani, and Berde Braima assisting Alhaji shot Molai. She said further that when Molai was being carried on shoulders to the hospital, Multi again stabbed him in the head.

A party of thirty visitors were received at a tea party by the Prime Warden and Wardens of this Ancient Company in their Livery Room situated in the heart of the old city, close to the Guildhall and to St. Paul's Cathedral. They were welcomed by Mr. W. Godfrey Allen, Prime Warden, who later conducted the party through an exhibition of modern silver. They were also shown a number of select pieces of plate of periods dating back to great exhibition of 1851.

They examined a famous collection of ceremonial plate, belonging to the Company, and a display dealing with the system of Hall-Marking, and the methods of assaying plate.

Accra, Wednesday.

"I am not in favour of barrister Annan’s proposal to form a united front for self-government", said Councillor Yankah in an interview with a “Graphic” reporter.

Continuing, Councillor Yankah said, “If by a united front for self-government he means the co-operation between the C.P.P. and the U.G.C.C. and other parties for self-government, I agree with him. But if he means one national party comprising the C.P.P. and the U.G.C.C. then, I am not in favour of that proposal.”

'Mills Is Another Keen Manchester Businessman'

An article in the Gold Coast Daily Graphic of June 13, 1951, makes very interesting reading, and as a point of interest to the reading public I would like to draw your attention to the following facts:

Mr. A. Gaise is definitely not the only Gold Coast businessman living in Manchester. Right in the middle of the most commercial centre of the City—Oxford Road, there is a set-up of a small factory, employing European labour and manufacturing singlets, shirts, ladies' pyjamas, woollen pullovers, jumpers and woollen socks.

Orders in this small business concern cover several hundred dozens of an article at a time from other local businessmen and retailers. Who is this man of vision and enterprise? He is a former schoolmaster from the Gold Coast who has spent some 17 years in both Nigeria and Liberia and came to the United Kingdom also before the war. It will not be necessary for me to recount his many activities during the war as a mechanic but believe me he is a good one too. He is also a pianist and musical director and conductor of a

I was a mechanic but believe me he is a good one too. He is also a pianist and musical director and conductor of a Manchester Orchestra and a dozen and one chemical odd jobs which came under my survey in less than a fortnight’s contact with him as a friend. In fact he possesses a wealth of social, educational, commercial and industrial knowledge gained through perseverance, study, diligence and hard work.

He is Mr. J. G. Mills of 54a Oxford Road, Manchester 1. His relations are in Accra, and on discussions he had often expressed doubts of co-operation involving labour and financial problems in establishing a manufacturing centre in the Gold Coast.

My answer of course rightly takes view—“There is a call from Macedonia, Come and help”. There are a good many of our own, even now, who can help the country in various ways and therefore contribute their fair quota in solving the country’s commercial and industrial problems.

Catholic Mission Boys Are First In Keta Athletic Sports

The Roman Catholic Mission School (boys) retained the first position at the Keta Inter-Schools Athletic Sports meeting which was held at Keta under the chairmanship of the Rev. F. K. Flawo, the principal of the Zion College of West Africa. Dzelukope Roman Catholic School came second, followed by the Anlo State School in the third place. The Presbyterian School, the Zion School and the F. C. Gospel School occupied the fourth, fifth and the sixth places respectively.

An interesting event of the meeting was the pole vault which was keenly contested by the Keta Roman Catholic Mission School and the Anlo State School. The trophy for the event went to the State School.

In the girls' events the Presbyterian School came first. The Catholic School second and the Anlo State School and the Zion School came third.

Konongo Catholics Beat Methodist XI

The Methodist School XI lost to the Konongo Roman School XI by three goals to two when they met at the Purvis park, Konongo.

Play began with each side determined to score a goal. Shortly afterwards, Yaw Kuma, inside right of the Roman Catholic team, scored the first goal, which was immediately increased to two by Kwame Nkrumah, centre forward of the same team. The Methodist team intensified their play and scored their first goal through a penalty kick awarded them.

The tide changed during the second half when the Methodist School team dominated the field with a fair display of combination work. But the Roman School team became furious and added another goal through Aggrey, outside right of the team. The Methodist team were able to equalise the score through Asumadu, Billy Bones Retains Title

It was the lightning speed plus team work which won the C.Y.O. team two goals to nil against the Lome XI.

The home team scored their first goal through a penalty kick awarded them. The visiting team changed their tactics and succeeded in scoring the equalizer through Kofi Adjei, outside left.

On changing ends, the High Hopes XI pressed hard their opponents, but for the strong defence put up by the full backs of the Red Lions team, the High Hopes XI would have won the match.

FIELD MARSHAL SLIM REPLIES TO ASHANTI PETITION

Kumasi, Sunday.

FIELD-MARSHAL WILLIAM SLIM, Chief of the Imperial General Staff has replied to the Ashanti Ex-servicemen’s Union that the effect of their petition would soon be made known as the matter is under serious consideration. This was revealed by Mr. Bafuor Awuah, the president of the Ashanti regional council of the Ex-servicemen’s Union when the council’s office was opened here yesterday by Nana Adjel Kesse II, who acted for the Asantehene.

Earlier the regional council had handed a petition to Mr. Krobo Edusei, one of the Gold Coast Assemblymen invited to the Festival of Britain by the Colonial Office, to be forwarded to Sir William.

The council in the petition outlined the poor living conditions of the disabled ex-servicemen, and asked for higher pensions and better housing.

Before the opening ceremony took place, the Last Post was sounded and two minutes silence observed for the dead.

Gold Coast Commissioner will hold discussion on new Ministers’ policies

Accra, Sunday

Mr. Frank Leach, the Gold Coast Commissioner in London, in an exclusive interview with the “Graphic” revealed that the object of his coming to the Gold Coast was to find out what his office in London could do for the new Ministers and their policies.
Four education experts from the United Kingdom who are on tour of West Africa will arrive here by air on Friday, August 17.

They are Dr. G. B. Jeffery, Director of the University of London, Institute of Education; Mr. E. W. Woodhead, County Education Officer of Kent; Mr. F. T. Arnold, Inspector of Secondary Modern Schools of the Ministry of Education and Dr. Josephine MacAllister Brew who is Education Adviser of the National Association of Girls' and Mixed Clubs.

A Government statement said that the party would spend over six weeks in the Gold Coast during which they would consult with educationists, administrators and members of the public on education policy and practice. This consultation will be mainly concerned with education up to secondary school level.

During their tour of the country, they will visit Tamale, Navrongo, Yeendi, Kumasi, Tarkwa, Sekondi, Cape Coast and Winneba.

The education experts have just completed a similar visit to Sierra Leone and the Gambia. During their tour of the country they will be accompanied by Mr. A. C. Lawrence, Senior Assistant Secretary of the Ministry of Education and Social Welfare.

Mr. Leach said that he is trying to find new markets for newly developed Gold Coast products, for example the cake of groundnut which will be used in making artificial wool.

The Commissioner said that with the Gold Coast Commerce and Industry Department he would develop the sheanut export trade.

In conclusion, Mr. Leach said, "when my office is fully developed it would serve as a place of reference to those who are interested in the Gold Coast."

Power transferred from stool to subjects

Speaking at the last meeting of the Akwamu Native Authority Council, Nana Kwafu Akoto II, said that the Native Authority Council would cease to exist shortly in view of the new local government set-up. He said, he was happy that most of the members, who were mostly traditional rulers, acquitted themselves creditably in the performance of their duties.

Continuing, he said that the new Local Council which will be formed will be composed mostly of non-chiefs and said that this will mean a transfer of power from the stool to the subject. He said this change was quite new to the people of this country but it behoved the young men to make good use of the opportunity.

Speaking about the position of chiefs, he said the chiefs would not be discarded outright but they would form a third of the New Council's membership. The State Council would still be in existence, but its functions will be entirely different from those of the Local Councils. "The youth should not be power-drunk to forget the allegiance they owe to the stools. You should therefore do nothing to defame chieftaincy, as any such thing will cause an irreparable damage to the state," he said.

Tricolor flag pulled down

Mr. I. V. Elyan, sitting at the District Magistrate's Court discharged Bafuo Kwaku Amoako, Odikro of Panoh, and three others, charged with assaulting three C.P.P. members of Panoh, a village near here.

The prosecution said that the three C.P.P. men had hoisted the C.P.P. tricolor flag at the village without the consent of the Odikro, who ordered the flag to be pulled down. This caused a quarrel.

The Magistrate, in his judgment, said that the Odikro acted on provocation since it was customary that he should be informed before the hoisting of the flag.

Adam and Eve and the P.R.O.

THE AUTHOR OF “The Mind Of Moscow” radio talks is Major Lewis Hastings, M.C. The publishers are the Public Relations Department of the Gold Coast. The Government Printing Department, also willing to assist in the establishment and spread of Communism in Ghana, prints the talks in leaflet forms for the publishers—P.R.O. (P.R.D. is the correct abbreviation but the department is well known all over the country as P.R.O.), who issue them out—FREE of course—as supplements to the “Gold Coast Bulletin.”

In fact, so much noise is made about Communism by those who are supposed not to want it introduced into this country that many people are obliged to ask themselves or their friends: What is this Communism all about? Why all this noise about Communism in the Gold Coast now?

After a very thoughtful and careful analysis, the only conclusion one arrives at is that there must either be some “strange” people in this country who are trying to make the whole world believe that there is Communism in the Gold Coast and that they are trying to “purge” the country of all Communists, or that there must be some active “secret” Communist agents over here who are struggling to sow the seed of Communism in Ghana. But have we any fertile soil here for it?

Some parliamentarians from Britain have recently visited this country and returned to paint a very nasty picture of the Gold Coast Africans. They say there is Communism in the Gold Coast. Where they saw Communists, or signs of Communism, nobody knows.

COMMUNALISM

The people of this country have told the world over and when God made the world and created Adam and Eve, He told them not to eat the fruit of a particular tree in the “Garden of Eden.” But we all know what happened: Adam and Eve ate the fruit after they had been deceived by Satan, and as a result, they were punished by God.

Maybe if God had not said anything about that tree to have told the world over and over again that they do not know anything about Communism. But some people with the “what we have we hold” aims have, for reasons best known only to themselves, chosen to call the Communism of the Gold Coast Africans, Communism. They choose to call the people of the Gold Coast Communists in the sense that the people have become conscious of the atrocities surrounding them and are demanding to be left free to manage their own affairs.

If Communism is a type of nationalism or a struggle by a subject for self-determination, then the people of the Gold Coast will not have anything to say in protest when they are branded Communists. But is that how the British ruling class interpret the Communism they speak against? I wonder!

ADAM AND EVE

Psychology would have us believe that people rarely speak or do not talk at all about things they do not like. So that Major Hastings the P.R.O. and the Government Printing Department cannot tell us that they dislike Communism. They like it. They are interested in it; else they will not make all this noise about it.

Wilmot's discussion on Trade Unionism

Mr. C. H. Wilmot, Director of the Colonies Department of British Council, told over 40 Trade Union members, representatives and officers at a free-for-all-discussion meeting at the British Council House yesterday that there was at present a great need for “a very big education” of the working people of the Gold Coast on Trade Unionism.

Mr. Wilmot said that Trade Unionism in Britain began over 125 years ago when a great mass of the people were uneducated. He said that there were not many schools in Britain at that time as the Gold Coast has now. He added that in spite of this educational and other difficulties, British trade unionists met them squarely and conquered them. He advised them not to be discouraged.

Mr. Wilmot was replying to Mr. S. Larbi Odam, general secretary of the U.A.C. Employees Union and vice chairman of the Trade Unions Congress, who said that some of the difficulties in the success of trade unions in the Gold Coast were the refusal of the members to pay their dues and their lack of education on the subject of trade unionism. He added that the simple aim of trade unions which was to safeguard wages and improve conditions made it vertical, but as trade unionism evolves, the horizon grows bigger and bigger.

Continuing, Mr. Wilmot said in reply to a question that in England at the moment, if a civil servant belonged to a trade union he could strike, “but”, he added, “there are various machineries in the Civil Service which do make strikes unnecessary.”

Answering another question whether he recommended horizontal or vertical trade unionism to the people of the Gold Coast, Mr. Wilmot said that depended upon the experiences of the people in the trade unions. He added that the simple aim of trade unions which was to safeguard wages and improve conditions make it vertical, but as trade unionism evolves, the horizon grows bigger and bigger.

SCENES

The latest figures available put to the total in the registration of unemployed persons which is at present in progress and will continue throughout the Gold Coast until the end of September, is 1,502. P.R.O.
the refusal of the members to pay their dues and their lack of interest in the unions, impediments placed in the ways of the unions by employers, lack of understanding and good education. Mr. Odum said that some of the workers were also afraid of victimisations and the officers also lost the support and co-operation of the members. Mal-administration was another difficulty.

GOLD COAST POLICE HAVE NEW NUMBERS

Accra, Sunday

The identification numbers of the Gold Coast Police Force are now being re-numbered from 100, the "Graphic" learnt from Mr. J. F. G. Coles, Commanding Officer of the Gold Coast Police Training Depot.

These numbers are worn on the uniform by all Police Constables so as to identify them and to provide members of the public with a measure of the Gold Coast Police Ordinance in the same year.

In the early days of the force, recruitment was unpopular in the country and so a large number of West Indians were engaged, the last of whom in the Force today is Sergeant S. Martin. Before he joined the Force in 1933 he was engaged in the Government Printing Department at St. Lucia.

Left: Mr. C. H. Wilmot, Director of Colonies' section of British Council, waves to the crowd as he alights from his plane on Wednesday.

Central: Mr. Frank Leach, Gold Coast Commissioner in London (left) who travelled on the plane, welcomed by Mr. M. des Enors of the Ministry of Defence and External Affairs.

Right: Mr. Edward Nassar, of Edward Nassar and Co, waved goodbyes before he embarked for Tripoli.
Accra, Sunday

The identification numbers of the Gold Coast Police Force are now being re-numbered from 100, the “Graphic” learnt from Mr. J. F. G. Coles, Commanding Officer of the Gold Coast Police Training Depot.

These numbers are worn on the uniform by all Police Constables so as to identify them and to provide members of the public with a measure of protection against harsh and oppressive treatment by an individual officer. Mr. Coles said that it is a serious disciplinary offence for a Police officer to fail to give his number at once when requested by a member of the public to do so.

ORDER OF NUMBERS

Because of this, numbers have been allotted to members of the force serially in chronological order but those numbers so allotted are approaching 10,000. It is recognised that it is more difficult for a citizen to memorise a five-figure number and it has been decided to re-number the constables from the number 101.

The last number so far issued by the Gold Coast Police is 9,978 and this week 50 escort policemen will pass out in Elmina sub-Depot.

The identification number was started in 1894 when the Gold Coast Police was detached from the Gold Coast Constabulary at the passing of the Gold Coast Police Ordinance in the same year.

FOR AIR PASSAGE
The British Overseas Airways Corporation has announced a temporary reduction of space for the carriage of newspapers and other categories of freight by "Hermes" speed bird services between London and West Africa.

This is due to adverse seasonal wind which necessitates the uplift of additional fuel for the Sahara crossing with a consequent reduction to payload. This would have been offset had it been possible to use Malduguri as an alternate instead of Lagos on the rare occasions when Kano is closed to air traffic on account of weather conditions.

Unfortunately the supply of technical equipment necessary to bring Malduguri to the high operational standard required by B.O.A.C. for the safe operation of its trunk line services has been unavoidably delayed in the United Kingdom, but it is understood that the Nigerian Authorities have taken active steps to ensure its delivery by air and subsequent installation within a few days.

The B.O.A.C. will then resume the carriage of newspapers and other freight as hitherto.

Murder appeal dismissed

Justice Sir Henley Cousse, presiding judge, sitting at the West African Court of Appeal on Saturday with Justice J. Jackson and Justice K. A. Korsah, dismissed an appeal filed by Dare Lobi, who was sentenced to death at the last Assizes, for the murder of Matile Lobi.

Mr. Nee Amaa Ollenu, Counsel for the defence, argued that since the accused person was only suspected and charged for the reason that he was found about half-a-mile from the dead body, this strong suspicion was not enough as required by law. The appeal was dismissed.

Field Army for Africa

The suggestion that a large field army should be raised mainly in Africa was put forward in the House of Commons debate on Colonial manpower. The Secretary of State for War Mr. J. Strachey said that this would cause grave problems in view of Home Rearmament Programme which is already strained to the full to equip divisions, formations and ships.

Mr. Strachey pointed out that if anything in the way of a large Field Force is ever developed in Africa it would undoubtedly be necessary that very considerable training establishments should be set up there.

On a broader issue, with the world as it is today he thought that the raising of such forces in the Colonies and Territories was a step towards self-government.

ELECTION TO VACANT STOOL UNCONSTITUTIONAL

In answering to the Acting District Commissioner's letter of June 28, on the protest of the accredited elders of Lakpler against the installation of Mr. Nartey Okerehre, as chief (Westonsie) of Lakpler division, the matter was accordingly referred to a special State Council meeting held at Prampram on June 15.

But we abhor Nene Anorkwei, the president's attitude on the matter. He declared that there was no need dealing with it as it had already been decided and he would, of course, submit his report on it to the District Commissioner, Accra.

It should be pointed out to Nene Anorkwei that the youth as well as the accredited elders of Lakpler detest his action on such an all-important question. The matter, which he declared settled by the State Council, was the case between Kofi Aledu of Oklewe and Tei Ankrara, the acting chief and others on the question of the House's election of a candidate for the vacant stool. In deciding this matter, either or both parties paid a customary fee of £20, to the State Council, and the decision was in favour of Kofi Aledu of Oklewe.

Our protest now is, therefore not on the candidature of the candidate.

Tetteh Waka and several others were ignored while certain irresponsible fellows, who falsely claim to be the accredited elders and whose names are not on the Native Authority members list for Lakpler, acted in this instance.

The custom is that the House, which elects a candidate for installation, presents him to the accredited elders for their approval and recognition before a formal ceremony; and not in the way this was done.

Under the circumstances, it is essential that I call Nene Anorkwei's attention to take a serious view of the position and take necessary steps in reviewing the case despite the fact that he had already ordered the gong-gong to be beaten that Mr. Okerehre had been recognised by government and that any one, who refused to appear before him for any complaint lodged with him, would be severely dealt with, while in reality the man has not been Gazetted.

However, the impending dissension in this connection will be detrimental to the interest of the state in the prospective local government set-up for we are resolved never to recognise Mr. Okerehre's chieftaincy should

GOLD COAST STUDENT SURPRISES WELSHMEN

Mr. F. K. Amarnuay of Accra, Gold Coast, who is now studying in the United Kingdom, gave one of the big surprises at the Welsh National Eisteddfod Festival at Llanrwst Wales, when he made a speech in both Welsh and English. The Eisteddfod is a big annual Welsh Cultural Festival.

Mr. Amarnuay, in his speech thanked Britain for helping the political advancement of the Gold Coast. He was glad to know he said, that Mr. Griffiths, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, during whose tenure of office the new constitution was introduced, was a Welsh-speaking Welshman.

University vacation courses planned

The University College Department of Extra-Mural Studies at Ibadan, Lagos, has arranged to hold a series of vacation courses shortly, a reliable source said.

The purpose is to enable those who attend to undertake the courses in a University atmosphere, with an adequate supply of books and to exchange ideas with fellow students and with tutors.

Visual education, local government and social science course will be the subjects for discussion. The Visual Education course which is intended primarily for school teachers will have more training in techniques, rather than theoretical lectures.

The local government course will include a comparative study of local government developments in different parts of Nigeria and to give an explanations of principles of local government in the United Kingdom.

Trade Union members and students will study current economic and social problems. It will give a comprehensive survey of the background against which local government bodies do their work.

It is hoped that Nene Anorkwei will act accordingly to make the issue clear.

TOLLER DISQUALIFIED AT SATURDAY'S FIGHT

The referee, Mr. Francis Dove, stopped the heavyweight championship fight at the Rodger Club last night in the sixth round and awarded the title to Billy Wells, the holder. Jack Toller, the challenger, walked in the ring several minutes after decision, dissatisfied and ready to go on with the fight.

Toller was warned on three or four occasions by the referee for foul blows. Toller had to call the attention of the referee once to Wells using his head. The end came when Toller's elbow came down on Wells' head. Wells was hard on the offensive in the fourth round. Toller still delivered steady punches as in the first round. The fifth round saw Wells still hard on the offensive with equal replies to Toller's heavy punches.

In two previous supporting bouts, Fred Acheam and Toller walked in the ring after the end of the fight. To Toller's surprise, Wells was hard on the offensive in the fourth round, delivering a hard left to Toller's body. Sir Charles opens Church Synod office

Accra, Monday.

THE Governor, Sir Charles Noble Arden-Clarke, accompanied by Mr. Casely Hayford, Minister of Agriculture and Natural Resources, and Mr. E. O. Asafu-Adjaye, Minister of Local Government, formally opened here yesterday the new offices of the Presbyterian Church, situated in the junction of Thorpe Road and Cantonments Road.

The Governor before opening the door of the building, handed over to the Clerk of the Presbyterian Synod, the Reverend C. H. Clerk, a silver key. “The Presbyterian Church has ordered me to present this silver key to these offices to you”, he said.

The Governor, Lady Arden-Clarke, Mr. E. C. Quist and the two Ministers were then shown round the rooms by Mr. A. L. Adu, the Commissioner for Africanisation, a church member.

The land was given to the church by the Government in November, 1944, and the building commenced with the sum of £2,123 3s. 11d. Donations from church members and contributions from various quarters raised the sum to £8,923 3s. 11d. At the ceremony, the Clerk of the Synod presented a cheque for £2,123 3s. 11d to Mr. E. O. Asafu-Adjaye for the church.

LAMPTERY WILL BE INDEPENDENT IN ASSEMBLY

NINGO

STATE COUNCIL WANTS TO SECEDE

The Ningo State Council, by a resolution adopted at a meeting, have decided to secede from the Dangbe Confederacy Council. This decision was taken in anticipation of the local government system to be introduced next year.

 Copies of the resolution have been sent to the Dangbe Confederacy Council and Mr. E. O. Asafu-Adjaye, Minister of Local Government.

The Ningo, according to the resolution, complain of having been neglected by the Confederacy, and so they have refused to pay levies. They are convinced that their state of 79 towns and villages with an approximate population of 24,000 could easily form an independent local council.

Women's athletics in Nigeria

By Mrs. IRENE WILLIAMS wife of Mr. Fatayi Williams, the Crown Counsel, now on leave in the United Kingdom, spoke from London on Women's Athletics in Nigeria.

WHEN I FIRST WENT out to live in Nigeria just over two years ago, many things were new and strange to me, and one of the strangest things I noticed was that Nigerian girls seemed to take very little active part, or indeed show much interest, in games or athletics. The men had it all their own way. They had their Boxing Board of Control, their Football Leagues and Cricket Fixtures, and of course their athletics meetings. The public tennis courts were practically monopolised by the men and even when the table tennis craze began to swipe Lagos and tables of all shapes and sizes sprang up in every nook and cranny, it was only the young boys who played—their sisters and girl friends were quite content to stand by and watch.

Things have improved a little since then in one or two directions, and a few Lagos girls have started playing tennis seriously, but the majority are still very inactive—which is a great pity as one misses such a lot of fun and pleasure by not playing games. In England, young women take part in all kinds of physical activities.
They swim, row, run, jump, hurdle, climb mountains, ski—when there is snow—fence, play tennis, table-tennis, hockey, netball, lacrosse, and even cricket. And girls of African origin from other countries are beginning to make their mark in world competitions. In 1948, Jamaican girls and coloured women from America, took part in the Olympic Games and this year, for the first time, an Afro-American girl from Harlem, Althea Gibson, played in the Tennis Championships at Wimbledon, the holy of holies of the lawn tennis world. Looking most attractive in her trim, tailored shorts, tall, angular Althea delighted the crowds with her powerful service and forceful forehand drives.

There must be many West African girls who have a natural aptitude for one or more branches of sport, but this evening I want to talk particularly about Athletics; of a little that is being done in Nigeria to stimulate interest, and then in sharp contrast, what can be achieved by those who have reached the top and have become stars. In this paper, latent talents.

Last March, history was made in Lagos, when for the first time in Nigeria, an athletics meeting purely for women was held at King's College. At first many people laughed at the idea. They didn't think that women would take running and jumping seriously; the farthest their imagination ran was to thread the needle, egg-and-spoon, and other comic events. However, the doubting Thomases were proved wrong and the meeting was a great success. It was run on proper Amateur Athletics Association lines and the events—50 yards and 100 yards sprints, long jump, high jump and relay—were divided into three sections.
Secondary Schools under and over 14, with separate events for girls who had left school.
Spurred on by this initial success, a Nigerian Women's Athletics Association has now been formed. Lady stage his mother is companion enough, but by the age of three to four, there is a definite need for child companionship, because no matter how successful the relationship between parents and child may be, the fact remains that the parent is an adult.

What a child needs is to meet someone on his own level, one who can share his world of phantasy.

He needs a child or children of his own age to play with. And while children play together, they should be free from adult interference, if they quarrel they must settle their dispute between themselves.

The mother who interferes in a quarrel on her own child’s behalf, is encouraging her child to rush to her for protection on every occasion, instead of settling his own dispute. She is in fact tying him to the proverbial apron strings, which put the child at a great disadvantage when he is eventually left to fend for himself.

A friend once told me, when she was young, her mother always defended her when she had quarrels with her playmates.

Then at the age of 9 she was sent to a boarding school. Her first term, she said, were the most miserable months of her whole life. She had never been taught to stand up for herself, she didn’t even know how to.

Her quarrels had all been fought for her. And at the boarding school she found herself alone, undefended, and the butt of the other children’s gibes because she was so timid and helpless. This example illustrates the need for children being brought up to fend for themselves from early childhood. They can do well if left alone, and through it they learn to give and take, to lead and be led.

Amateur Athletics Association has now been formed. Lady Macpherson has graciously consented to be president and Lady Alakija and Lady Abayomi, vice-presidents.

James Bannerman was first African Governor

Accra, Monday
The late James Samuel Bannerman, was the first African Governor of the Gold Coast and was first African to preside over the official meeting of the Gold Coast Legislative Council.

This was revealed at the Methodist Church yesterday when all members of the Bannerman family attended a memorial service for their great ancestor. The service was part of the programme of the centenary celebration regarding the late Bannerman's appointment as Governor.

The Rev. Ernest Bruce, the oldest member of the Methodist Church, officiated. The tomb of the late Bannerman was visited after the service, and libation was poured.

Dr. F. V. Nanka-Brace were among the prominent persons who attended the ceremony at the grave side.

Accra High School to celebrate 28th anniversary

The Accra High School will be 28 years old on August 17. The anniversary will be marked with a thanksgiving service and a speech day, the Reverend J. T. Roberts, the Founder and Principal told the "Graphic".

The school is one of the first secondary schools founded in the Eastern province of the Gold Coast. A year after its foundation its students entered for the preliminary and Junior Cambridge Syndicate examinations. In subsequent years the school was noted for its hundred percent passes in the two examinations.

Mr. Roberts said that during the early years of the school was maintained through generous contributions from the people of the Gold Coast and the collection of school fees.

He remarked that the school had never had grants from the government, yet it had turned out such brilliant scholars as Nii Amaa Ollennu, the Accra barrister, Mr. Arthur Dove, a graduate of the Durham University, Dr. Louis Roberts, and Mr. F. K. Amarquaye, a graduate of Cambridge University, who was reported in the "Graphic" to have surprised Welshmen with his Welsh dialect.

The first President of the Board of Governors of the school was the late Glover Addo. He was succeeded by Dr. F. V. Nanka-Bruce.

NSAWAM C. Y. O. PUT POLICE IN THE SHADE

The Nsawam C.Y.O. football team in their second match in Accra beat the Police on Sunday by two goals to nil at the Old Technical School Grounds.

The C.Y.O. from the start of the match showed themselves as men trained in the game and used to victory. Repeated attacks backed by good combination, won for the C.Y.O. the first goal in the first half. It was scored by Nicholas Gyekyi, centre half and captain of the team.

The C.Y.O. after that carried on their offensive against the Police, raiding the goal area as often as their forwards A.N. Kommey and J.B. Essandoh, the centre forward and the outside left respectively could lead them on. Towards the end of the half the full backs of the police put up a splendid defence.

The second half of the match showed the Police still on the defensive but strongly maintaining their ground, and warding off attack after attack from the opponents. Many important matches in Accra.

The second goal against the Police was scored by S.B. Ampsonsen, after a scramble in the goal area.

ASSEMBLY PAYS TRIBUTE TO JOHN LEVENTIS

Tributes were paid to the memory of Mr. John Leventis, Special Member for the Chamber of Commerce, who died as a result of a plane crash near Liberia in June, when the Legislative Assembly began sitting today.

Mr. P. H. Fitz-Gerald, General Manager of the United Africa Company and M.L.A. for the Chamber of Commerce, moved that "the Assembly should record its sense of the loss it has sustained in the death of the Honourable John Leventis, Special Member for Commerce, and its appreciation of the valuable services rendered by him to this Assembly and to the country in general, and convey to the Chamber of Commerce and to his family an expression of the Assembly's sympathy in their bereavement."

Speaking on the motion the Minister of Commerce, Industry and Mines said that he had planned with Mr. Leventis what should be done in regard to the present high cost of living in the country. He quoted the famous lines from William Shakespeare which says "The evil that men do lives after them; the good is oft entered with their bones."

£25,000 Cathedral for Accra
A Cathedral, which will have the highest church tower in the Gold Coast is to be built by the Roman Catholic Church at Adabraka, Accra. The Cathedral when completed will cost £25,600 and will have accommodation for more than 2,200 people.

Revealing this to the "Graphic" the Rev. Father Joseph Jud said that if arrangements are completed in time, building of the Cathedral will be started in October this year. The tower will be 135 feet high and a cross, 12 feet high, will also be erected on it.

The very Rev. Father A. Elsbernd, Vicar-General of the Accra diocese, said that he hoped the Cathedral would be the largest in the Gold Coast. He said that the Town Engineer of Accra approved the plan for the building last Friday.

The building would be 244 feet long, 85 feet wide, 65 feet high in front and the side walls would be 50 feet high. The Cathedral will be built on a site which is being leased to the children of the Adabraka Methodist School as a play-ground. The land had been purchased by the Methodist Mission, but when the Roman Catholic Mission applied for the area the Methodist Mission agreed that an alternative site should be found for them. The Catholic Mission agreed to level the site which would be chosen for the Methodist Mission at the expense of the Catholic Mission. Another site which has been found is being levelled by the Catholic Mission. Work on it began a month ago and is nearing completion.

The Rev. Jud who designed the Cathedral studied architecture in Switzerland. He took six months to design the plan of the proposed Cathedral. The Cathedral will have narrow and high windows which will prevent the rays of the sun from entering the building. The baptistery will be in front of the tower and there will be three galleries. N.T. Farmer wants Government to encourage mechanical farming

MR. GILBERT MENSAH, a farmer here, speaking to about 200 farmers, said that the problem of unemployment could best be solved if the government encouraged mechanical farming in the North.

He said the Northerners are industrious and if the government could grant loans to interested farmers, the Gold Coast would become a real agricultural country with an abundance of wealth and foodstuffs.

C.P.P. members refuse to pay levy

Members of the C.P.P., about 2,000 strong, by a resolution, have refused to pay any levies to the Native Authority here.

They are demanding a statement of account of the revenue of the town. They complained of the lack of social amenities and the complete neglect of sanitary conditions in the town.

Until such time that the statement of account would be forwarded to them, they have refused to pay levies and would not appear in court to answer summons in that respect.

New trawler will explore W.A.

A STURDY NEW TRAWLER recently left the River Thames in London specially fitted to explore the fishing potentialities of West African waters.

The capital cost of providing this ship, the first built by Britain since the war for fishery research in the Colonies, has been provided through Colonial Development and Welfare funds, and the operational costs of the research, which will go on for years, will be jointly contributed by the Governments of the United Kingdom and the four West African territories—the Gold Coast, Nigeria, Sierra Leone and the Gambia.

The basic object of this research by Colonial Office scientists and fishery experts is to explore, develop and govern a sound fishing industry in West African waters to provide an increased source of food which will help fill the shortage of protein in the existing West African diet. But latest phase of fishery development throughout the British Colonies. There are altogether seven fishery research stations in action or soon to be inaugurated, in Africa and the Far East. The East African
The two political parties have agreed to do a thing which we in the Gold Coast would do well to emulate. They have agreed to drop polemics.

We in the Gold Coast consider — and rightly so — that we are far ahead of any African territory in the Commonwealth, but there is a strong feeling that political parties tend to seek their own immediate interests first and the national interest afterwards.

Like the Nigerian political parties, we ought to have an understanding between major political parties aiming at co-operation in national matters. This understanding could be initiated by the C.P.P. and the U.G.C.C. which are the two main political parties in the Gold Coast. Each party would carry out its own policy, but we would have politics free from the abuses which have made it most difficult for the two parties to work together in the interest of the country as a whole.

The ship is primarily designed to serve West African interests as a whole, its work will dovetail into the world-wide pattern of fishery research conducted by Colonial Office experts and make an important contribution to world knowledge in this food-producing field.

The ship, built by the Aberdeen (Scotland) firm of Hall, Russell, which is famed for trawlers, and christened the Cape St. Mary, is the last word in fishery research. Those who see her at her base at Kissy, near Freetown, Sierra Leone, may be reminded by her general appearance of the Royal Navy’s anti-submarine trawlers which visited those waters during the war.

The Cape St. Mary will cover about 1,000 miles of coastal waters in survey work, and may even go as far afield as Ascension Island. She will start with a trawling survey this year, and later will do oceanographical research as well. She will be the first ship in West African waters to be able to do deep trawling, having equipment which should permit working to depths of 250 fathoms. Three science students from British universities sail on her. The Colonial Office is recruiting young scientists and will also give any Africans who show an aptitude and have the qualifications a chance to join in the work at Kissy and on board the trawler. The trawler will have the assistance of two 30-foot motorboats fitted with echo-sounders which are already in West Africa.

Dr. C. F. Hickling, fisheries adviser to the Colonial Secretary, points out that this is the first ship in West African waters to be able to do deep trawling.
Family monopoly in Kibi politics to end

"WE MUST endeavour as much as we can to break Kibi family politics which is doing a great harm to this country; relatives in one own must not be allowed to dominate the entire Akim Abuakwa politics," declared Mr. Kofi Baako, C.P.P. Acquitted on charge of attempted murder JUSTICE H. G. MORGAN, sitting at the Accra Assize Court, on Monday, acquitted Yaw Mensah of Kofi Dede, a village near Nkawkaw, when he stood trial on a charge of attempting to murder his divorced wife, Yaa Oforiwa, and causing harm to Afua Badu, his wife’s younger sister.

Yaa Oforiwa, witness for the prosecution, told the court that after her divorce from Yaw Mensah, she went to her village at Ampeyo. In the evening, she saw a man shoot at her sister Badu with a gun.

Dr. M. D. Hayford of Koforidua, in his evidence for the prosecution, said that the wound must have been caused by the direct hit of a flying blunt object. He found no sign of a gun shot.

Yaw Mensah, in his defence, said that he visited the village of his divorced wife to claim the sum of 30s. which the wife owed him. A quarrel ensued. One of his brothers-in-law attempted to strike him with a cutlass but missed and struck Badu instead.

GA LANGUAGE A TREASURE TO GAS

Speaking at the Community Centre under the chairmanship of Mr. E. A. W. Engmann, of Achimota School, on “The Ga language as a treasure” Mr. G. T. Odamten said that the Ga language was the greatest treasure the Gas possessed.

He realised this on one occasion in England when he was asked by an International gathering to read a poem or story in his own language but felt embarrassed because there was none.

Mr. Odamten traced the origin of the English language and impressed upon his audience the fact that their own language could be developed on similar lines. He suggested that people should write plays and also stressed the need for a Ga journal.

Sick man magically changed

If you feel ill and tired you should read of the wonderful recovery of a man whose life was burdened with sickness but who now finds it good to be alive. What happened to him is so amazing that we publish his own words below:

"Up to a month ago, I had suffered continually from kidney disorders, sciatica, rheumatism, and I generally felt off-colour. I was constantly tired. I tried many remedies but without effect until I gave Kruschen-Salts a trial. In four weeks Kruschen has brought about a complete transformation. I once more feel it is good to be alive."

-S.V.N.

When your kidneys get out of order, acids and poisons stay in the body instead of being filtered away through the kidneys. Kruschen restores the kidneys to natural healthy action so that they clear all excess acid and poisons from your system. Then pains disappear and you know again the joy of feeling fit and well.

The nutritional value and vitamin content of Ovaltine are of great importance to athletes.

They make Ovaltine an essential part of their training programme. It was officially recognised at the Olympic Games held in Los Angeles in 1932, Berlin 1936, London 1948, and at the Empire Games in New Zealand 1950.

Ovaltine provides such abundant reserves of staying power. In every walk of life Ovaltine is highly prized because it maintains that bodily vitality which is Nature's own defence against attack from illness.

"Ovaltine is easy to make—delightful to take! It contains nothing but the delicious goodness of creamy milk, eggs, barley and other naturally sustaining foods. It is a most enjoyable and refreshing beverage hot or cold, last thing at night or at any time during the day whenever a little extra energy is needed.

"FIRST THINGS FIRST"

WHEN the Legislative Assembly resumed on Wednesday, Mr Kwame Nkrumah, Minister for Development, moved that the Assembly should approve the aims and objects set out in the Development Plan. In tabling the motion, Mr. Nkrumah stated that the development plan could not be given a time limit for "we shall tackle first things first."

He gave the total estimated cost of the development plan, which he said was £74,000,000 and added that the Volta River project which was outside the plan would cost £65,000,000.

One of the fundamental objectives of the plan, said Mr. Nkrumah, was that the Gold Coast should exploit its natural resources to the maximum and added that this plan was subject to further review.

Revealing the emblems in the plan, Mr. Nkrumah said that local fisheries would be developed, "for, we want to get into the deep sea and see what amount of fish we can get there."

Concluding, Mr. Nkrumah said that unless it could be demonstrated to the outside world that the present Gold Coast Government was stable and sound, we would not get a word from the old plan prepared by the old Government, because one saw little or no difference and intimated that the cost of the plan should be cut down.

Magnus Sampson, associating himself with Dr. Danquah said that we must not leave behind a heavy debt for posterity, all for the desire to implement these plans and he maintained that health services should be given prominence in the plan because a sound mind must surely be in a sound body.

Mr. Sampson stated that the plan could only be put into
PRICE CONTROL A MATTER FOR EXECUTIVE COUNCIL SAYS HUTTON-MILLS

Accra, Wednesday.

Mr. T. Hutton-Mills, Minister of Commerce, Industry and Mines, told a delegation of market women at his Ministry yesterday, that he had submitted a memorandum on the high cost of living for consideration by the Executive Council.

The delegation handed over to the Minister a petition complaining about the high cost of living and the continued rise in the price of imported goods.

Mr. Hutton-Mills said that the memorandum, which he had placed before the Executive Council, was requested by Mr. Kwame Nkrumah, Leader of Government Business. He would also submit the petition of the market women to Mr. Nkrumah.

He said that his duty was only to investigate into the existing situation of high cost of living and submit his findings to the Leader of Government Business, who would in consultation with the Executive Council decide upon such laws or regulations whereby prices could be effectively controlled.

Mr. Hutton-Mills said that apart from the re-inforcement of the Price Inspectors, a voluntary watching committee would be formed of respectable citizens, whose duties would be to check up on the storekeepers and the Price Inspectors.

The Executive Council's decision on his memorandum, Mr. Hutton-Mills said, would be placed before the Legislative Assembly during this session.

Will stand trial on assault charge

Twenty C.P.P. men from Sekyinas including Kweisi Antwi, Odikro of Sekyinas, today appear before the District Magistrate at Kibi, on charges of assault.

The men were alleged to have attacked a group of U.G.C.C. men on their way home from a rally at Abonomu. Nana Frimpong Manso, Odikro of Tetteh Barfuo, received a wound in the head and was sent to the hospital at Kibi with others.

Expelled for alleged misconduct

THE executive committee of the Ashanti Farmers' Association have, by a resolution adopted at a conference held at the Prempeh Assembly Hall here, expelled Nana Osei Kwabena, President of the Association and two linguists, Kwadwo Wusuan and Kwadwo for an alleged misconduct.

The three men were alleged to have despatched a cablegram to the Secretary of State for the Colonies disassociating themselves from the Cocoa Marketing Board Amendment Bill which was passed at the first session of the Legislative Assembly.

The resolution stated that the men deliberately refused to send another cablegram to London to refute the former one when asked by the executive to do so.

HOMOWO FESTIVAL

This is purely a Ga National Festival

By ADO-Ayi BORWN

THE ARRIVAL in August of various family groups in Accra, singing traditional songs, heralds the annual festival of the Ga people, the "Homowo." Literally, the word Homowo means "hooning at hunger." It is a historic custom to mark the time when food is plentiful. It is purely a Ga National Festival.

On the Thursday preceding the feast, the villagers flock into the city with dancing bands, formed mainly by the youths. Girls carry bundles of loads, mainly foodstuffs and sing folk-songs. Merry-making continues far into the night. The people who come from far and near into Accra for the festival are usually nicknamed "soo-bii" which is to say "men of Thursday."

On the next day, Friday, general cleansing of houses takes place, gifts of foodstuffs are exchanged and the kitchens in all homes are plastered with clay. With regard to the gifts, the custom is that wives are expected to make gifts of big logs, four to start with, to their mothers-in-law. The four are for the first year have been served. Others prefer to lay a special table intended for the souls of the dead. They are left standing over night and it is believed that the spirit of the food had been removed by the dead for whom it was meant. Any one who entered a house, whether a relative or a stranger, would be served with free food.

HOOTING IS NOT SERIOUS AND OBJECTIVE POLITICS

By AKABU KOFI

I think all the people of a country are bound, and cannot be expected, for that matter, to have one and the same political conviction. Differences of opinion exist in politics just as they exist in other spheres of life.

It will be a mistake, therefore, if not an act of ignorance, to expect all politicians of a state, however small that state might be, to have practically the same view on a given issue.

Calling people names because of their differences of opinion cannot be considered as serious and objective politics. They soil the reputation of a nation, and the earlier they are stopped in the Gold Coast the quicker our political maturity can be proved.

But there is this remark to make. It's only those parties, whose leaders fall victims to this hooliganism, that condemn the practice. Normally one would expect the majority party, that is the C.P.P., to take positive steps to remedy the situation. However, the leaders of the C.P.P. have been careful not to speak out on the matter.
Now seven months have elapsed and we can rightly assume that every member of the Assembly has read the Standing Orders and acquainted himself with parliamentary procedure.

Every member of the House knows, of course, that the duties of the Sergeant-at-Arms is to eject any recalcitrant member, and we hope that our Legislative Assembly will never have occasion to need his services.

While on this subject we would also like to point out that some of the people who gather in front of the King George V Memorial Hall before the arrival of the members of the Assembly still indulge in hooting. We hope that in the interest of peace in the country these ill-mannered people will cease their deplorable behaviour. It is unfortunate that elected members of the Assembly should thus be treated by people just because they do not belong to some particular party or group. We condemn this practice and hope responsible people in the country will help in stopping it altogether.

MOTOR ROADS
The people of Ayomah in the Buem State, which is one of the cocoa producing areas in British Togoland need good motorable roads. The people here are very industrious and a good percentage of them are farmers.

The only motor road in this area is the Ho-hoe-Ayomah road which is in a very bad condition. This has rendered transportation very difficult and people wishing to convey foodstuffs to the bigger towns for sale have found it impossible.

The Minister of Communications and Works will do well to ameliorate the situation. If foodstuffs can easily be sent from one place to another for sale, the present high cost of living will no doubt be lowered.

TRAIN SUSPENSION
Year in and year out, the Gold Coast is confronted with the shortage of coal and consequently the urban trains are temporarily stopped from running.

The urban traveller and the country dweller who has to travel in these trains have in such situations to suffer the loss of time. I hope the Minister of Transport will not neglect this important matter.

HOSPITAL
The Kwahu State, with a population of approximately 100,000 needs a first class hospital. I suggest that the hospital be built at Mpraeso, because judging from its geographical position it is in the centre of the state, and with the various villages and towns around it, cases of emergency coming from any of these towns could reach the doctor within a short space of time.

I hope the Minister of Health and Local Government will not neglect this important matter.

Dispute brings match to an end

A dispute, owing to the unsportsmanship of the players, brought an abrupt end to a football match played at Kumasi between the Nkawkaw C.Y.O. and Kumasi Red Lions on Sunday. A score from a penalty kick against the N.C.O. team started the trouble, and the referee gave his decision as a drawn game.

The game was very keen from the start. The Red Lions pressed their opponents harder, and scored a goal through their inside left. The C.Y.O. were on the offensive for the rest of the first half. In the second half, before the dispute occurred, the match was as keen as from the start, and the C.Y.O. equalised the score through a penalty kick.

A well-contested boxing tournament, to determine who is the featherweight of the Akwatia Boys' Club, took place at the school premises on Saturday. Blue Peter and Tommy Still came up as the two best, and they will contest for the club's championship in the next term of the school.

Before the boxing there was a concert by the drama group of the club, under the direction of Mr. E. S. T. Ababio, under and director of the club.

ALL BLACKS LOSE TO STANDFAST

AKWATIA Standfast defeated Swedru All Blacks by two goals to one when the two teams met at Akwatia School park at the last week-end.
Both sides started the game with zeal. After 20 minutes of a ding-dong battle, Charles James Ackom, the centre-forward of the Standfast team scored the first goal for his side.

The visiting team wasted no time in equalising through a shot by C. O. S. Baidoo, the inside right.

After ten minutes half-time, both teams came back with renewed energy, and the struggle was harder. In the second half, the combination put up by the home team was superb. After 15 minutes’ play, C. J. Ackom, who had then gone to the outside right position, increased the score to two with a long-range shot.

Despite relentless efforts made by the visiting team to equalise, the game was taken away from them.

Solid Trade Unionism assured

THE PRESENT difficulties of the Gold Coast Trades Union Congress could be said to be akin to conditions which existed 125 years ago in respect of the British T.U.C., said Mr. C. H. Wilmot, Director of the Colonies Department of the British Council, London, here.

He was addressing a large number of trade unionists on the subject "British Trade Unionism Today". He said the growth of responsible government in the Gold...
MR. Kwesi Lamptey, speaking on the motion tabled on Wednesday by Mr. Kwame Nkrumah on the Development Plan, said, “having crossed the carpet of this house to the other side (meaning the Opposition bench) I feel I am free to speak my mind for I am not going to swallow everything wholesale. I congratulate the Government for following its policy of copying, because it has copied from the ten-year development plan and now calls it its own development plan; and I also congratulate the Government for having been able to make us accept what the old Government could not make us accept.”

Mr. Lamptey suggested that it would be better if the Government would draw up a development plan year by year.

How can the people of the Gold Coast control their own local affairs and run their own local services? How can democracy be extended to every town and village?

These questions are answered in the Government pamphlet “Local Government Reform in Outline” which sets out proposals for instituting local democracy throughout the land.

Tomorrow’s “Daily Graphic” will contain a special three-page feature devoted to a summary and extracts from the pamphlet. It is a subject of vital importance to every citizen who is concerned with the future development and progress of his country.

Do not miss your copy of tomorrow’s “Graphic.”

Works who supported the motion said it appeared that the feeling in the House was that the plan would be accepted but the only objection to it was that it contained too many ‘ifs’. He informed the House what ‘ifs’ could do by saying that if there had been no 1948 disturbances, if the U.G.C.C. had not been formed, if the Watson Commission had not sat, and if the Coussey Committee had not been brought about, the present Gold Coast Constitution would not have been in existence.

Mr. C. W. Tachie Menson made it clear to the House that he had no objection of experts being imported from overseas to carry out the development plans; but he contended that the Government should at the same time send Gold Coast men overseas to qualify as experts.

Mr. Kojo Botsio, Minister of Education and Social Welfare, said, “Some members say that the plan contains much of the old ten-year development plan. I do not think those members mean this seriously, for it, will not be right to discard some of the good things achieved by the old government, because if that is the case then some members who are now with us should not be here.”

Coast and the system of local government to be shortly introduced, would be solid foundation upon which the T.U.C. in this country could build.

Mr. Wilmot said that illiteracy should not be allowed to deter the progress of trade unionism in the Gold Coast because there were many facilities in the country for educational improvement.

To check members of trade unions from falling out from trade union meetings, educational classes, discussion groups and games, for members should be introduced.

Oldest queen-mother leads in celebrating Yam Festival

The celebration of the annual Yam Festival rounded off the stool celebrations of the Nana Takyiwa and Koko Mensah Stool of Abura Okutupon Eminsins Mampon which began here on Sunday, July 30.

Nana Abina Mensah, the 105-year-old queen-mother and Obaa of the Abura State, led her people in the celebrations. She has been on the Abura Okutupon Eminsins Mampon Stool for 30 years.

The Abura Odanasi Asafo Company joined the celebrations. Women whose faces were besmeared with white clay, sang war songs as they danced. A sheep was slaughtered to purify the stool.

Many people from Cape Coast, Saltpond, Kumasi, were cordially invited.

She is respected because she is industrious

By Victoria Asumah

SARAH SMITH is one of the most respected women in Accra. There are many reasons why she is so respected. First she is industrious and secondly she is a fashionable woman.

One of Madam Sarah Smith’s ambitions is to see a better trained class of young girls in the Gold Coast. “It is useless trying to appear gay if you cannot cook a decent meal or make a cake or sweets. “I would like to see our girls making confectioneries and cakes so that they may be respectable,” she has always said.

This year she opened a school for training girls in how to make cakes confectioneries and other sweets which are very much in demand at parties, weddings and other social functions.

Madam Sarah Smith is one of the very few women in Accra who have specialised in baking wedding cakes. She has baked wedding cakes for some of the leading society men and women, and those who have enjoyed her cakes say that she is an expert at her job.

Madam Sarah Smith is the wife of a well-known Accra journalist, Mr. Daniel George Tackie. She has won many first prizes for making cakes and confectioneries. A few years ago, Sir Alan Burns, the then Governor of the Gold Coast, presented her with many prizes which she won at an exhibition which was held at Odumase, Krobo. Among these much cherished prizes is a bronze medal. She showed it to me yesterday. “I am very proud of this prize, and I shall keep it in my house for ever.”

Children lie when taught to

By Victoria Asumah

Some people are today talking about the need for using the cane once more in our schools. They say that the birch should be used particularly in the infant schools as well as the junior schools because it is the most effective way of training children to obey orders.

One argument which is used in favour of using the cane is that it produces fear for authority, whereas the absence of the cane does not make the child responsible.

Some parents are fond of asking their children to lie so that they, the parents, may be able to avoid some responsibilities. For instance, some parents would tell their children to tell their creditors that they had gone out when in fact they mean only to avoid paying their debts by doing so. In fact the child who knows that its parents are not telling the truth will always have to tell a lie of his own.

They will sink differences

Early on Sunday morning, Ga women in Accra will walk in memory of their departed relatives and greetings will be exchanged between family members.

This custom which follows Homowo is known as “Ngowala.” It means, the wishing of luck and prosperity for the coming year. Relatives, who during the year have been at variance, patch up their differences and words of advice are exchanged between the old and young.

Husbands pay early morning visits to their fathers-in-law with bottles of gin.

Generally there is much drinking and merry-making, which may continue throughout the week. The festival is akin to the passover feast of the Israelites. The Ga are therefore said to be of the tribe of Dan.
I fear for authority, whereas the absence of the cane does not make the child responsible. Should we therefore use the cane in our schools or not? In the first place let us ask ourselves what good the use of the cane is to a child. He is hurt when he is beaten. He becomes angry or afraid of the effect it will have on him. But if you use the cane several times on a child he becomes used to it and he then does not care whenever he is threatened with the cane.

It is therefore evident that the cane can have no useful effect if it is used too much. A child can be made to respect people if it understands that it is wrong to do a particular thing. If a child itself is taught to practice lying to other people.

If after teaching a child to lie you later try to cane him because he is practising what he had been taught then it is not fair for the child to be caned. Therefore the best way to train a child is to direct him by word and action and, above all, by example.

Registration figures are disappointing

Acera, Thursday

In an interview with the Labour Officer yesterday a “Graphic” reporter learns that only 28 women registered for work on Monday.

“We thought there would be a large number of them, but we were disappointed. We are ready at any time to register them as they come in,” he said.

The 28 who registered are seeking employment as follows: 16 as clerks, one baker, one midwife, five seamstresses, one book-binder, three compositors, and one programme officer. They have not qualified for all these jobs, but seek to be trained for them.

Their ages—15 to 21 years—19 girls; 21 to 45—9 girls. Their tribes are, Ga—16, Ewe—3, Akwapim—6, Fanti—3. Education qualifications standard Seven—23. Under Standard Seven—5.

U.A.C. TO OFFER PRIZES FOR BEST LAUNCH

The United Africa Company Limited is to offer a monthly prize of five guineas for the best tug or launch operating in the Lagos harbour and surrounding creeks.

The prize, which is meant to be an encouragement to crew of the new U.A.C. fleet here, also consists of holding of the company's housetopping for one month during which it will be flown at masthead.

The first winner is the MR. "Yoruba", the newest and largest of the fleet and at a simple ceremony, watched by a large number of spectators, Mr. L. Passage, Transport Manager, U.A.C., presented the money prizes to Captain Joseph Nduwenu and his crew when he brought the "Yoruba", looking very clean and shipshape, alongside at Egba. After Mr. Passage had congratulated the crew on a fine turnout, the U.A.C. House Flag was hoisted, and the "Yoruba" moved out into the stream and back to work.

Sentenced For Unlawful Possession

George Abekah was sentenced to six months' imprisonment by His Worship Mr. H. J. Crisland, when he appeared at the Magistrate's Court, Accra, on Tuesday, on a charge of unlawfully possessing a number of articles valued at about £1. 10s. 6d.

August Ernest Bruce, a crown witness, told the court that on that day, as he was returning from the town to his house, he met Abekah carrying a number of articles. He said he recognised some of them to be his property and when he challenged Abekah, he said he received them from a friend. He then took Abekah to the Korle Gono Police Station where he reported the matter. In his defence Abekah said he knew nothing about the articles and that he received them from a friend called Kofi Boye. Abekah said he met Kofi Boye, a washerman, who asked him to assist him by carrying some of his washing for him.

Boyce, in his evidence, told the court that in fact he went to help Abekah to remove his property. After Abekah informed him that he had no room and wanted lodgings.

Examination Date Fixed

The next Midwives' Board examination will be held at the Maternity Hospital, Korle Bu on Monday and Friday, October 8 and 12, 1951.

Study of new educational policy

THE CHART shows the future educational structure as outlined in the recent scheme issued to implement its policy of free primary education.

The arrows show how students, beginning in the schools, can proceed through the middle school, training colleges, trade, agricultural, or science, as per their aptitude.

For the present, until the standard of primary schools is raised, entry to secondary schools will be from progressing lower forms in the middle schools. Even when most of the pupils enter secondary schools from the primary schools, there will be provision for late entries from lower forms of middle schools.

Post-secondary pupils will receive training as teachers in the teacher training departments of the College of Technology, Science and Arts.

Post-primary pupils will be trained as teachers in certificate 'B' colleges after appointment as untrained teachers, and in certificate 'A' colleges after a period of teaching with certificate 'B'.

Transit Quarters Built

Transit quarters have been provided in Kumasi for junior civil servants, travelling on duty.

The new quarters are situated on a hill south-west of Kumasi, surrounded by a spacious compound covering an area of about one and a half acres. The quarters consist of four bachelor's and two double quarters, all partly furnished. Dining rooms, and the necessary outhouses are provided.

Water is obtained from an underground tank, and is distributed to taps in the compound and bathrooms through an apparatus worked by a hand pump. Occupation is limited to a fortnight.
Great Ningo people want separate local council

The 32,000 people of Great Ningo do not want to be grouped as one body with Prampram State and Kpone division under one local council, under the new constitution.

Revealing this to the "Graphic" on Wednesday in an exclusive interview, Mr. E. A. Ackam, president of the Great Ningo Youth Association, said that his Association had taken this decision because the people of Great Ningo did not benefit under the old constitution. "The chief cause of our refusal to have anything to do with the other people is because they do not wish to pay their levy.

"People can only progress if they agree to cooperate in their onward march, and to compel the people of Great Ningo to cooperate with Prampram and Kpone would be prejudicial to the well-being of the Great Ningo people."

Mr. Ackam said that the number of people of Great Ningo was large enough to enable them to form their own local council, and the Gold Coast Government would do well to give them every encouragement to organise themselves under their own local council. "We would then be able to collect our own funds and manage our own affairs in the way best suited to the people of Great Ningo," concluded Mr. Ackam.

C. P. P. SELECTS MAN FOR KUMASI ELECTION

At a C.P.P. executive meeting held at Kumasi on Tuesday, Mr. Kofo Afful, secretary of Ward A, was selected as a candidate to stand for election in the forthcoming Town Council by-election which is scheduled to take place on August 27.

The seat was made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Beatle Hayford, a member of the C.P.P.

True leaders must respect public opinion

“Short cuts and mendacious leadership will rather delay the attainment of self-government for the chiefs and people of this country” declared Mr. Enoch Mensah, Secretary of the National Democratic Party at the Merry Villas, Accra, on Tuesday. He was speaking at an N.D.P. meeting on the subject of “Leaders and the people.”

Mr. Mensah said that the duty of the true leader was to discharge his duties according to the wishes of his people. He added that in the present struggle for independence, only a step by step constitutional policy could help the Gold Coast achieve its aim.

‘White Elephant’ sold to Israel

Dares-Salpom, Thursday.

One of the biggest “white elephants” of the British groundnuts scheme in Tanganika - a 130 mile pipeline from Mwara to Nachingwea in the southern province, has been sold to the Israel government for 250,000 sterling payable in dollars—Reuter.

MR. A. R. MILLER, 35, Superintendent of Police, Accra, will leave the Gold Coast for good on Monday. He will take up a new appointment as Superintendent of Police in North Borneo.

He will be succeeded by Mr. C. H. K. Strike of the Accra Criminal Investigation Department.

Mr. Miller joined the Gold Coast Police as Assistant Superintendent in 1938. He was educated at the Royal Military School, and later served in the Royal Artillery in the Sudan.

THREE CHIEFS SWEAR TO OTUMFUO

Nana Osei Asibey III, the newly installed Omanhene of Kokofu has sworn the oath of allegiance to the Asantehene, Otumfuo Nana Sir Osei Agyeman Prempeh II at Manhyia, Kumasi.

Nana Asibey succeeded Nana Kofi Adu, who was destooled in his absence for failing to appear before the Kokofu State Council to answer charges preferred against him.

The new Omanhene who is an old pupil of the Kumasi English Church Mission school, was until his enstoolment the chief cocoa factor of G. B. Ollivant at Wampamu.

Other chiefs who together with the Kokofuhene swore the oath of allegiance to the Asantehene were, Nana Kwame Dami, the Konahene, and Nana Antwi III, the Kasaamhene.

The ceremony was watched by over 8,000 people who danced and sang through the streets.

Chill weather greets Gold Coast soccer tourists at Liverpool

By our London Sports Reporter

HEAVILY MUZZLED against the cold Mersey wind, the Gold Coast football team arrived here this morning to be greeted by grey skies on behalf of the weather clerk and Messrs Whitehall and Robinson on behalf of the Football Association.

The weather, unlike the reception, was chilly, sent the footballers in search of their overcoats in which they could be seen from the landing bridge pacing the deck.

The dull morning, however, could not remove the wide grin from the face of Mr. Richard Akwei, joint manager of the party with Mr. J. Darkwa.

"We hope to give all the teams we meet a good game, and we mean to learn as much as we can from them," he told me. "It is rather cold this morning and the team are feeling slightly chilled, but they will soon settle down when they get ashore."

Mr. Akwei said the voyage had been very pleasant and all the party had enjoyed it to the full.

The team kept fit on board with special exercises for legs and with the usual training runs around the deck.

WITH THEIR OWN SUPPORTERS

Accompanying the team are five West African football fans. Three thousand miles is a long way to go for an away match, but the distance has not daunted Bafuor Akoto, chief linguist to the Asantehene, or Messrs. S. H. Ackun and J. A. Asubonteng of Ashanti Football Association. They, with sub-chief Bonsu and Mr. Kwasi Adae are travelling with the team to all the matches to see that they do not lack for vocal support. The party will spend the remainder of the day resting at their Liverpool hotel. This evening they catch the night boat to Belfast where the first match of the tour will be played tomorrow, Tuesday, against a representative team from the Irish Football Association. Thus the Gold Coasters will take the field only a few hours after a journey of several thousand miles—hardly the best preparation for an important game.

However, as Mr. Akwei says, "we are not complaining and hope for a good game."

Abuakwa State College are no match for Odorgonno Secondary School

BETTER TEAMWORK won the day for the Odorgonno Secondary School when they met the Akim Abuakwa State College in a football match played at the Amateur Football Park, Adabraka, Accra, on Wednesday. The Odorgonno team scored seven goals against Abuakwa College, one.

The start of the match saw both teams determined to uphold the honour of their respective institutions; but as the game went on, the Odorgonno team took control and scored their seven goals in the second half of the game.

Mr. Ohene Djan, M.L.A., for Akwapim New-Juaben, was yesterday formally sworn in at the Government House as Under-Secretary to the Ministry of Finance.

Earlier Mr. Ohene Djan had received a letter from Mr. D. N. Allen, Secretary to the Governor, which confirmed his appointment. The letter stated that the Governor took the decision on Mr. Djan's appointment on the advice of the Executive Council.

Krobo Edusei will ask for Commission on Police

DURING the course of this session of the Legislative Assembly, a motion calling for a commission to investigate the conduct of the Gold Coast Police and to make recommendations for its improvement, will be proposed by Mr. Krobo Edusei, M.L.A., for Kumasi North-West.

This has been occasioned by the recent visit to England by Mr. Edusei, who told the "Graphic" that he found the London policemen "very friendly and kind". He felt that the police here could be made to emulate the courtesy of the London policeman. The London policeman "is the most courteous man you meet everywhere in London", he said.

Speaking on his proposed motion, Mr. Edusei said that the Government would do well in the interest of the people to send both senior and junior officers of the police here to England to train. He said that they should be made to study the London police system.

Farmers should get grants direct

THE COCOA Marketing Board will consider whether grants made to farmers should continue to be passed through the Territorial Councils or to be given direct to farmers' Associations in the various territories.

This is the result of a demand made by Mr. G. K. Martin, member of the Board representing farmers of Togoland. In a statement to the "Graphic", Mr. Martin said that he had made this request because farmers from his area were not very often consulted by the chiefs in the use of the grants that are made to them.

Mr. Martin referred to a sum of £4,000, a grant made to the farmers of the Buem State in Togoland by the Board and said that the farmers requested that the money should be used for the construction of roads to facilitate the transportation of their cocoa. But the chiefs on the other hand were of the opinion that the money should be divided into parts and a portion allocated to the construction of roads. This caused a deadlock.

Mr. Martin strongly suggested that the grants should be given direct to the farmers through their Associations. By this the farmers would be in a better position to use their monies in the best interest of their industry.

His statement further said that he had suggested to the Board to consider the immediate abolition of the system of having licensed cocoa buying agents. The reason being that these agents had in the past been exploiting the drivers who transport cocoa. They charged the drivers 20s, commission on every five ton freight of cocoa.

LOCAL DEMOCRACY

THE PLAN whereby the people of the Gold Coast in their cities, towns and villages will in future be able to administer their own local affairs and their own local services is contained in the booklet "Local Government Reform in Outline", published on behalf of the Government by the Public Relations Department.

The booklet contains a summary of the three reports on local government reform (Colony, Ashanti, Northern Territories) together with proposals relating to the regional administration in these three areas. There is also a forward by the Minister of Local Government, Mr. E. O. Asafu-Adjaye, M.L.A.

In summing up the booklet states that "the new proposals are based upon two main principles, decentralisation, or the transfer of limited powers from the centre; and democracy, which implies the transfer of power from the official and the chief to the common man".

On this and the next two pages today, we publish some of the proposals and recommendations contained in the booklet. A diagram showing the proposed pattern of local government in the three regions (Colony, Ashanti and Northern Territories) is shown on page four.

Programme of reform

Inquiries concerning the establishment of local government councils will be instituted as soon as possible.

It is hoped that an examination of the proposals will be made by the government during this month and next and that legislation will be drafted by October. Bills are to be published, if possible, by October 20 and presented to the Assembly at the November session. Finally, local government elections should begin in January 1952.

Local government

THE NEW Local Government Councils (district, municipal, urban etc.), should be located according to traditional state areas, suggest the reports. Before each district council is established a full public inquiry should be held to determine boundaries, composition, range of functions, etc.

One-third of the number of the people are to be elected from the communities. There will be three members elected by the community, one member elected from the urban area, and one member elected from the town council. The council will consist of a chairman, two vice-chairmen, and seven members.

On page four is a table showing the proposed pattern of local government in the three regions. The table shows the proposed pattern of local government in the three regions (Colony, Ashanti and Northern Territories).

The regional organisation

PROPOSALS IN THIS section are based on the Phillipson report.

It is assumed that there will be three regions corresponding to the existing territorial divisions of the Colony, Ashanti and the Northern Territories.

In their administrative and executive capacity the regional councils will discharge such functions as: holding inquiries before the establishment of local councils; approving local council estimates; authorising by-laws; approving rates, fees and licences; approving loans and precepts; disbursing grants-in-aid.

Local government in the Colony should be administered by a Board of Commissioners. The Board of Commissioners should consist of members elected by the local councils and the colonial government.

In the Colony, the Board of Commissioners should consist of members elected by the local councils and the colonial government.

In the Northern Territories, the Board of Commissioners should consist of members elected by the local councils and the colonial government.

In the Ashanti Region, the Board of Commissioners should consist of members elected by the local councils and the colonial government.

A Regional Board financed from an initial and substantial appropriation will be established to undertake capital works of development.

The establishment of regional local government civil service boards is recommended.

Booklet for free distribution

Copies of "Local Government Reform in Outline" have been distributed to local authorities throughout the country. Readers who are unable to obtain a copy in their own district are advised to apply to the Public Relations Department in Accra where a limited supply is available. The booklet is issued free.
One third of the membership of local councils should be reserved for persons appointed by traditional councils. The ASHANTI and COLONY reports accept elected majorities for all councils and District Councils being elected by, but not necessarily from, the lower councils. Direct elections will therefore be held only for lower councils.

The COLONY report recommends that all men and women over 21 years of age should have the right to vote subject to a residential qualification of five years and the paying of local tax or rates. Candidates for election (who may include civil servants) must be registered voters and have an annual gross income of not less than £100.

The ASHANTI report agrees with that of the Colony, except that it recommends no income qualification for candidates.

The NORTHERN TERRITORIES report suggests the vote be given to owners or occupiers of premises who are over 21 and taxpayers. Anyone may stand for election who has been resident anywhere in the Northern Territories for six months.

All reports recommend that councils should have a life of three years, one third of the members retiring each year.

COLONY and ASHANTI reports stress the importance of all councillors being literate in English.

CHIEFS AS PRESIDENTS

Chiefs, it is recommended, should act as presidents of all councils, attending the council on formal occasions only and having no vote. Chairmen should be elected annually by the councillors from among their own number. The chairman should have both an original and a casting vote.

As recommended by the Coussey Report, it is agreed that traditional State Councils should be limited to the customary and cultural aspects of the national way of life. The link between the old councils and the new would be traditional members (including the presidents) having seats on the new local government bodies, while members of the new councils may sit on State Councils either as co-opted or full members.

FINANCE

The reports differ in their recommendations on local taxation. The COLONY advocates a rate on the net annual value of premises. ASHANTI favours the existing direct tax as basis for future taxation, while the NORTHERN TERRITORIES suggest an annual tax at a flat rate plus a tax on oxen.

It is broadly agreed that the ownership of land should remain with the stools.

What the councils will do

The booklet suggests 77 different duties, functions and services which the new local government councils might be called upon to perform. Here are some of those duties:

- provide services for the improvement of agriculture;
- control methods of husbandry;
- prevent and control the outbreak or the prevalence of any disease among animals;
- provide services for the improvement of livestock;
- provide for building lines and the layout of buildings;
- prepare and undertake and otherwise control schemes for improved housing layout and settlement;
- build, equip and maintain social centres, public libraries, communal feeding centres, restaurants, catering and other rest-houses, or buildings designed and used for public purposes;

FUTURE ROLE OF DISTRICT COMMISSIONERS

The following is quoted from the booklet:

The Phillipson proposals recommend the retention of the existing framework of District Commissioners, which retention is in fact regarded as a necessity. There will, however, be marked changes in the duties of the officers concerned, and it is considered that in time, although not in the immediate future, their number may diminish. In short, the recommendation is that District Commissioners must remain as the local "general-purpose" representatives of the Gold Coast Government, in which field they will have many duties which it would be either impossible or inappropriate for the new local authorities to undertake. In relation to such authorities, it is suggested that District Commissioners might, by invitation, become the chairmen of the main committees of the various district councils. If this is not accepted, then they should become generally responsible for harnessing all the resources of the Central Government to the services of the new local government bodies.

The further recommendation is made that to denote and to emphasise the new role of the District Commissioner the designation "Political Administration" should be altered, and that the title of District Commissioner should be altered to that of "Administrative Officer".

THE NEW PROPOSALS

The Introduction to "Local Government in Outline" states:—

The recommendations contained in the Reports of the Committees on Local Government reform, together with the proposals put forward by Sir Sydney Phillipson, may be said to represent great changes in the structure and processes of government in this country. The nature of this change is two-fold: in the first place, it contemplates a departure from the dominant influence of the traditional elements. In the second, it involves a breakaway from the existing centralised and official framework of Government. The pattern for the future is not one of these.

EXPORT HOUSE, East Parade, BRADFORD, ENGLAND
WELLS GOES TO BRITAIN
By OUR LONDON CORRESPONDENT

JOE McKEAN, Roy Ankras's manager, is anxious to get Billy Wells to come to U.K. and is even willing to pay his passage. He feels that Billy Wells' earnings in Britain would more than repay the expense of getting him over.

Billy's passport has been arranged and the Colonial Office were very willing to co-operate in this, but the trouble is the lack of shipping berths. The longer the delay in getting Billy a passage the more difficult it will be to get him fixed up with fights.

"The main boxing season in Britain starts in September," says Joe McKean, "and before it has been on long most of the better class fighters are fixed up with enough fights to keep them busy during the winter months. Unless Billy gets to Britain within the next few weeks I will be unable to get him fixed up with suitable opponents. He must get here as near the beginning of September as possible."

Billy Wells told the "Graphic" here in Accra that he was not sure as to the exact date of his departure to the United Kingdom, but he would say good-bye to the Gold Coast some day before the end of September. "Before I leave for the United Kingdom I should like to defend my middleweight title against any comer," Wells said.

Billy Wells is the heavyweight, welterweight, and middleweight champion of the Gold Coast.

Mr. Rodger Lutterodt, a boxing promoter of the Allied Sports Syndicate, said that the syndicate are contemplating matching Billy Wells against Kobla Geyem, army physical instructor and ex-heavyweight champion before Wells leaves the Gold Coast.

"The best of Holland"
Local Government means more responsibilities

Accra, Sunday.

THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT system to be introduced shortly in the Gold Coast will not have a rigid pattern by which it will work. There will be variations as the people improve on their capacity for conducting their own affairs.

These were the points stressed by Mr. E. O. Asafu-Adjaye, Minister of Local Government, when he addressed members of the Legislative Assembly at Achimota yesterday. This was the first of a series of lectures and general discussions arranged specially on local government in the interest of the Assemblymen.

Mr. Asafu-Adjaye, said that although most people would be anxious to take part in the administration of their local affairs it was necessary that efficient men should be engaged to produce satisfactory results. Local Councils, he said, should have sufficient funds to carry out their projects. They would need help in that respect both from the Gold Coast Government and from taxes from the people.
£25,000 palace for Asantehene

The Kumasi Finance Board will meet today at the Divisional Council Hall to discuss the proposed £25,000 palace to be built for the Asantehene.

Ten thousand pounds has already been voted by the Board for the building. The palace will be the largest in the Gold Coast, an official of the Board said.

EDUCATION EXPERT ON TOUR HERE

Accra, Sunday.

THE STUDY GROUP of West African Education, sponsored by the Colonial Office and Nuffield Foundation, who arrived here on Friday, left yesterday for Tamale to start a six-week tour of the Colony, Ashanti and the Northern Territories.

The group comprised Dr. J. B. Jeffrey, the chairman of the group and director of the Institute of Education, London University, Mr. E. W. Woodhead, chief Education officer, Kent; Mr. F. T. Arnold, His Majesty’s Inspector of Modern Secondary Schools; Dr. J. MacAlister, Education Adviser of the National Association of Girls and Mixed Clubs, England, and Miss B. M. Lesmond, the Group’s secretary.

Man condemned for murder

Accra, Sunday.

Yaw Agidi Kumah, otherwise Nicodemus, was sentenced to death by Justice G. H. Morgan, at the Assize Court here yesterday, for the murder of Adabra Azagbadza at Tokokwe, a village in Togoland, on March 7, this year.

Mr. J. N. Glover, Crown Counsel, called eight witnesses for the prosecution. Kumah, in his defence, said that he was attacked in his house by Azagbadza and another man. As he could not stand up to the two men, he took his gun and fired downwards to scare them away. He never intended to kill.

Native authority petitions government

The Akrofuom Native Authority has petitioned the Gold Coast Government for measures against the contamination of the Jimi river by the Ashanti Gold Fields Corporation, which is alleged to have been causing the flow of a “poisonous chemical, black like coal tar” in the river.

The petition was submitted through Mr. Aboobekr, M.L.A. “During the dry season,” the petition states, “the poisonous chemical mixture becomes so predominant that its foul smell spreads and pollutes the air, resulting in the inhabitants suffering from coughs.”

The petition adds, however, that the Corporation has built an “aeroplane tank” for the local water supply, but adds that the supply is inadequate for the 3,000 inhabitants.

IN SHORT....

ANUM branch of the Akwapim Volta Presbyterian Teachers’ Union elected these officers when they met here: Mr. G. A. Acquah, president; Mr. F. M. Addo- Gyekye, vice-president; Mr. S. E. Adut, secretary; Miss Juliana B. Ashene, treasurer, and Mrs. Mallida Acquah, financial secretary.

DADIASI State will move its capital town to Nsaeam No. 2, a village on the newly built Asafo-Juso motor road.

LOCAL DEMOCRACY

A BIG gap in the Gold Coast plan for self-rule has been filled by the ambitious proposals for local government in every town and village.

Some of the proposals are controversial. What will be the position of police forces in relation to local authorities? And what is the proposal that local councils might be given power to “require any person to cultivate land to such an extent and with such crops as will secure an adequate supply of food for the support of such person and of those dependent upon him”?

This suggests compulsion which might be open to question.

WHY DO SOME PEOPLE HAVE HAY FEVER?

Because the mucous membranes in their nose, eye, and throat possess a heightened susceptibility—or as medical men call it, anaphylactic reaction—to irritation by certain types of protein in grass pollen, dust animal fur, or even certain types of food. Strong sunlight, which affects the optic nerve, can also cause acute distress to sufferers; it has the effect of increasing a substance present in the tissues of the body called histamine, which causes congestion in the nose, and sneezing is nature’s way of easing the condition.

Many medical authorities hold that there is no real cure for hay fever, since it is really a constitutional ailment bound up with the workings of the body.

What is the practical purpose of a census and which country had the first?

OFFICIALLY, a census is deemed necessary “to supply knowledge for the guidance of public policy” but its practical purpose is to disclose the fiscal, labour, military, and other statistics of the individual householder.

The United States of America claims to have the most efficient machinery for calculating census returns, which are taken there every ten years, the first U.S. Federal census being in 1790. The country to introduce most recently a regular census many of the German States were taking regular enumerations of the population in the latter part of the 17th century. The Romans, Greeks, Egyptians, and Babylonians organised regular counts, and King David, it may be remembered, ordered a census to find the

DO YOU KNOW?
Spain has had a periodic census from 1787, Denmark from 1769, and Sweden from 1748, while the first census of the modern type was in the French colonies of Quebec and Acadie about 1650.

The first danger is recognised in the sound proposal that before each local council is established a full public inquiry should be held to determine its boundaries, composition and range of functions.

The second danger is another test of our own fitness for self-government. Democracy cannot flourish if the people “don’t care.”

The public can make democratic local government work by studying these proposals, discussing them and forming opinions on them; by choosing candidates carefully and not failing to vote; by supporting candidates when they are elected and by co-operating to carry out all sensible measures.

We believe that the people of the Gold Coast will soon show that they are fully capable of administering their own affairs in the towns and villages, as well as in the central councils of the land.

The entire nervous system.

Of the entire nervous system.

Certain drugs such as Benadryl, phenergan, antihistamine, and others sometimes give temporary relief; cauterizing the tissues of the nose is a semi-permanent and rather unpleasant expedient, but the best method of avoiding attacks of hay fever is to recognize the conditions that give rise to individual reactions, and, as far as possible, avoid them.

DEVELOPMENT PLAN:
Ofori Atta asks for a comprehensive survey of labour

DEBATING the Development Plan at the Legislative Assembly on Wednesday, Mr. T. Hutton-Mills, Minister of Commerce, Industry and Mines declared that the people must begin to exert themselves if the Government meant to industrialise the Gold Coast. He felt there was too much cheap talk in the country at present and that action was needed to make the plan a reality. "Commerce is economics and not talk," he said.

Nana Kwame Gyei Ababio, the Essumegahene and Ashanti Territorial Member, said that if Government saw to the immediate development of the rural areas, it would solve the problem of the shortage of foodstuffs in the Gold Coast. He said that all farmers had left their villages to stay in the busy towns because their areas have not been developed.

Mr. William Ofori Atta, second M.L.A. for Akim Abuakwa, said that it would be better if the Government concentrated on a few industries which were of vital importance to the country. He added that millions of pounds have been wasted by other countries on schemes which were not easy to tackle and said this should serve as an example to the government. He cited the groundnut scheme of the Gambia and various schemes in East Africa as examples of what Government had done in the past.

KROBO EDUSEI PETITIONS GOVERNMENT

Mr. Krobo Edusei, M.L.A., who recently returned from the United Kingdom as the guest of His Majesty's Government, has dispatched a memorandum to the Minister of Education and Social Welfare, Mr. Kojo Botso, alleging that distressing conditions exist in the Kumasi Prisons, and asking that a change be made, with special reference to the welfare of the prisoners.

Mr. Edusei in his memorandum stated that Mr. J. E. Jantuah and Mr. Bediako Foku who were recently convicted for contempt of court are made to sleep on the bare floor, without light. In the cell.

Mr. Edusei, in his memorandum stated that Mr. J. E. Jantmah and Mr. Bediako Poku who were recently convicted for contempt of court are made to sleep on the bare floor, without lights in the cell.

He suggested that their sleeping hours be altered from 8 a.m. to 6 a.m. instead of 3.30 p.m. to 7 a.m. The memorandum contended that in view of their membership of the Gold Coast Legislative Assembly, the privileges enjoyed by convicted Europeans be extended to them, and that all other amenities benefiting their rank must be given to them.

Mr. Griffith J. Davis, Negro Special Correspondent of the Times and the Pittsburgh Courier, arrived here from New York to attend the opening of the third sitting of the Legislative Assembly.

Mr. Davies took many pictures of the chiefs, Ministers, the Assemblymen and Mr. E. C. Quist, the Speaker, in front of the King George V Memorial Hall this morning.

Mr. Davis, who is also a photographer with the Black Star Picture Agency of the New York City, told a "Graphic" reporter that he would stay in Accra for four days and leave for Lagos. He said that he would go back to Liberia “before returning home.” He added that he had been in Liberia for the past two months.

Mr. Davis was educated at the Columbia University, the Morehouse College in Atlanta, and the University of New York.

Mr. Justice H.D. Cribb imposed a fine on Th поя phillip Davis, who absented himself from Court on Thursday, held that he would go to the United States and stay there for six months.

Ghana Youth Congress wants free trade and policy on timber industry

THE GHANA YOUTH CONGRESS, after their conference held recently at Kumasi, has forwarded to the Government two resolutions on the timber industry and general trade in the Gold Coast.

In the first resolution, the Congress has asked that there should be free trade between places like Germany, Japan and France and the Gold Coast.

The resolution called on the people of the Gold Coast to avoid foreign goods as much as possible and to patronise African produced goods. It said the distribution of import licenses has been unfair and has been one of the causes of the present high cost of living.

It stressed the importance of good roads and urged that more roads should be constructed to all the food producing areas in the country. The existing system of group shipments, the resolution said, should be abolished to allow small traders to import goods more freely.

Essential foodstuffs, such as corn and rice, imported by the Government, should be distributed direct to the consumers and not through middlemen. Excess profit tax should be introduced to check the trading agreements and the formation of a Timber Marketing Board to review and control the sale of timber and to make regulations for the preservation of the forest resources of the country.

Finally, the Congress called on the Government to implement its project of producing locally such important items as cement, lime and distemper as early as possible.

The second resolution demanded the suspension of all existing timber concessions and the Ghana Youth Congress, at which decisions were taken. In connection with the two resolutions forwarded to the Governor, Sir Charles Arden-Clarke, was attended by George Padmore. Below, Padmore (left) and Dzeakle Drewu (centre) are seen coming out of the plane which took them to Kumasi. They were met at the airport by Balfour Ewiah (right) who returns Dzeakle Drewu's freedom salute.

Mr. T. K. Braima, regional propaganda secretary, Kumasi C.P.P., has resigned. He is now the General Secretary of the Sub-Supreme Council of the Gold-Coast Ex-service-men's Union. He is still a C.P.P. member.

Among the signatories to the resolution were the Acting Chairman of the Congress and President of the Club of Ghana Patriots, Mr. Saki Scheck and Mr. Ako Adjel.

PLAY BECOMES FILM

A film version of the famous stage play, "Tony Draws a Horse," which was produced last year by the Accra Players, is now coming to the Gold Coast. The film will be shown at the Globe Cinema tomorrow, Tuesday, and on Saturday. The hilarious comedy proved a big success at the stage and fans will now have an opportunity to compare the screen version.

"COLONIAL STUDENTS HAVE A HIGHER SENSE OF RESPONSIBILITY" -- KEITH

In a letter to the "Times" on the question of the selection of scholars from the Colonies, Mr. J. L. Keith, Director of Colonial Scholars at the Colonial Office, writes: "There are 1,404 scholarship holders at present in the United Kingdom, 393 of whom hold scholarships given by the British Council. All scholarship holders are carefully selected by Committees in the Colonies, in some cases as a result of competitive examinations. Before their arrival, arrangements are made through the Colonial Office for their admission to the Universities and Colleges and the British Council makes plans for their accommodation. Scholars are normally sent here only for courses which are not available in their own countries. Both academic results achieved by these Colonial scholars and their conduct here, fully justify the methods of selection used in the Colonies. Scholars have a high sense of responsibility and are eager to make the best of their opportunities and to return home qualified to serve their people."

Mr. Keith says that if scholars alone were concerned with the task of the Colonial Office and of the British Council it would be relatively easy, but there are also about 3,400 private students who have come over to the United Kingdom on their own initiative and pay their own way. Over half of these settle down in London where accommodation is particularly difficult. "Colonial Governments cannot control the selection of these private students" writes Mr. Keith "but they realised fully the need to warn them against coming over without proper preparations."

Mr. Keith points out that many students in fact made careful plans, but unfortunately there are also many who arrive announced.

The story of the name Hercules...
The village overseers seem to be sleeping and the village slaughter house has become so dirty that it is almost always full of flies.

These conditions at a time when new buildings are being built and the village is generally improving are deplorable, and I would like to see people of Kwabeng rouse themselves up and put right these faults.

They should also not forget the road which connects the town with Anyinam. It is in a very bad condition.

Association to meet

The informal meeting of the members of the Gold Coast branch of the Empire Parliamentary Association, comprising the members of the Legislative Assembly, with Mr. E. A. Fellowes, Clerk Assistant to the House of Commons, will take place here on Tuesday.

The meeting was postponed from Friday because the Ministers were attending a cabinet meeting.

The object of the meeting is to give the members of the Assembly the opportunity of gaining the advice of Mr. Fellowes on how they could run their House.

GOLD COAST TEAM KNOW FINER POINTS OF GAME—

SAYS A BRITISH SPORTS COMMENTATOR

The Gold Coast's team of barefooted footballers experienced an unhappy ending to the opening match of their British tour when at the Oval, Belfast, on Wednesday night. Their goalkeeper, Tom Wilberforce, was carried off on a stretcher 15 minutes before the end taken to hospital with his right leg broken. It is problematical as to whether or not the accident would have occurred had the team been wearing boots, but it is significant that throughout the match the Gold Coast players found it difficult to keep their feet on the grass pitch. Said one of the team afterwards: “We can get a grip on our hard bare grounds at home, but your grass makes it very slippery for us.” Their play no doubt suffered in consequence, but it was evident from their display that they had an excellent conception of the finer points of the game.

The Gold Coast team played their best football in the opening half and score at the interval was only 1-0 in favour of the Irish side. The scorer being Dobbin, their inside left. During this period their cleverest forward was Adjie, their inside left, who exploited the long, through pass to perfection, but his only colleague to make good use of the openings was Cunningham.

The British team were up to their reputation of being an agile and fearless goalkeeper and the crowd applauded sympathetically in recognition of a great display as he was carried off. Although suffering Wilberforce smiled and waved a hand in acknowledgment. Play had been held up for almost ten minutes and when it resumed Ireland had a fifth goal, the scorer being White.

Not being accustomed to the conditions it is not possible to assess the true ability of the side, but their marking and positioning was most interesting. There was no right half back. One stop about 15 yards directly in front of the goalkeeper, the other was about another 10 yards further up the field. The centre half played attacking game and the wing backs marked not the inside forwards but the wingers.

It was never again the same up to his reputation of being an agile and fearless goalkeeper and the crowd applauded sympathetically in recognition of a great display as he was carried off. Although suffering Wilberforce smiled and waved a hand in acknowledgment. Play had been held up for almost ten minutes and when it resumed Ireland had a fifth goal, the scorer being White.

One stop about 15 yards directly in front of the goalkeeper, the other was about another 10 yards further up the field. The centre half played attacking game and the wing backs marked not the inside forwards but the wingers.

As an attacking movement neared the Gold Coast goal the wing halves moved in and came into line abreast with the full backs - a style of covering which presented few scoring opportunities when the side was playing its best in the opening period.

PRESTEA DEFEATS
Instead of concentrating on Gyamfi in his original position, however, he was brought inside after the interval and was then carried off on a stretcher with Dr. M’Laughlin accompanying him as far as the waiting ambulance, summoned to take him to hospital.

Wilberforce had been living on his original position, but his function was now taken over by the waiting ambulance, summoned to take him to hospital.

Togoland delegate due back

Accra, Monday

Mr. S. G. Antor, Togoland delegate to the last session of the Trusteeship Council in New York, will return to the country on Thursday.

This follows the invitation sent to him in the United States by the working committee of the Joint Togoland Congress. On his return Mr. Antor may take up an appointment as a General Secretary of the Congress.

In a letter sent to Mr. George Clement, the National President of the Joint Togoland Congress, Mr. Antor stated that on his way back from New York he would pass through London to have talks with Lord Milvertoon, Seretse Khama, Taekedi Khama and Mr. George Norton.

As General Secretary of the Joint National Congress, Mr. Antor will also be in “APPROVE DEVELOPMENT PLAN,” SAYS NKRMUH

THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY today went into committee to discuss the motion by the Leader of Government Business, Mr. Kwame Nkrumah, that the Assembly should approve the aims and objects of the Development Plan.

Mr. William Ofori Atta, second Rural Member for Akim Abuakwa, told the committee that before the Assembly approved the plan, members should be informed as to whether the Government had enough money to carry out the plan, and if not he wanted to know where the Government hoped to obtain it.

Mr. Kwame Nkrumah then pointed out to Mr. Ofori Atta that what the Government wanted was the opinion of the members on the plan, and added that the question of finance would be tackled afterwards. He said, Mr. Ofori Atta was “placing the cart before the horse.”

A motion by Mr. Krob Edusei that the Assembly should refuse to grant powers to Price Inspectors to grade cocoa because the farmers would be duped by the inspectors was lost.

Mr. W. E. Arthur, M.L.A., for Saltpond suggested that publications of the work of the Department of Agriculture should be made in the vernacular as well as in English to enable the farmers to read, understand and appreciate the work of the department.

Mr. J. A. Braimah, the Minister of Communications and Works today read to the members of the Legislative Assembly the report of the commission appointed by His Excellency the Governor to inquire into the distribution of public utilities such as telephones, electric power.

The report stated that these amenities had been distributed without any form of discrimination.

Princess Margaret’s engagement may be announced soon

TODAY, Princess Margaret celebrates her 21st birthday. As with thousands of other girls she then comes of age, but in her case the occasion will bring many important changes in her life. Margaret Saville, author of “Britain’s Royal Family At Home”, “Royal Sisters”, and other authoritative books, writes in this article of the pretty and popular Princess’ personal life, her tastes and preferences, the developing maturity in her character and the likelihood of an engagement.

Her coming of age today marks an extremely important date that will bring many changes into her life. Today, Princess Margaret will begin to receive an official allowance of £6,000 a year from the state; she will also formally inherit the large private fortune left to her some years ago by the Queen’s lifelong friend, the Honourable Mrs. Granville.

One of the first purchases Princess Margaret intends to make for herself at the end of August is a Fur Coat. Mink is what Princess Margaret has in view, and her pretty pink and white sitting-room at Buckingham Palace, once the Royal nursery, is already littered with fashion magazines and furriers brochures.

Some costly heirloom jewellery will also be presented to Princess Margaret on her birthday. From her grandmother, Queen Mary, she will receive an exquisite diamond tiara in a lace-work pattern.

In fact Princess Margaret is becoming a charming woman and revealing definite character, with tastes all her own. In clothes, too, Princess Margaret’s taste has lately altered considerably and she no longer appears in vivid colours and startling hats that once distinguished her public appearances. Now she chooses plainer overprower her.

According to present arrangements Princess Margaret will spend her birthday in Scotland, her native country since she was born at ancient Glamis Castle in Forfar. To celebrate their younger daughter’s anniversary the King and Queen will give a big dance in the long white and gold ballroom which the Prince Consort added as an after-thought at Queen Victoria’s request when he built Balmoral Castle for her.

Although rumour and speculation during the last two years have linked Princess Margaret’s name with a number of potential suitors, it is not expected at Court that the Princess will want to announce her engagement on her birthday but it is felt she will then begin seriously to consider the question of marriage and that the announcement will not be long delayed after that date. So it is indeed highly probable that the partner whom Princess Margaret
TIGERNUT BLANCMANGE
By VICTORIA AZUMAH

Ingredients:
1 Cigarette tin of tiger nuts.
2 Table spoonfuls rice.
2 Table spoonfuls water.

Method:
Wash and pound the tiger nuts in a wooden mortar. Grind the rice. Mix pounded tiger nuts with water and strain. Put aside to be used last of all. Mix again and strain. Mix a third time and strain it. Then blend the rice into the third milk. Add the second milk and put on the fire. Stir with a wooden spoon for about 10 minutes. Pour in the first milk and stir until well cooked. Remove from fire and serve.

She teaches her daughter a craft.

The Queen is giving her daughter a turquoise ornament. Princess Margaret loves turquoise because they match her eyes. She wants a car of her own from her father. She had informed him a long time ago that she wanted her 21st birthday to be marked like her sister's, Princess Elizabeth, who received a blue saloon car on her 21st anniversary from her father. The King smilingly promised to give the matter his consideration. The Princess has already described to Prince Philip exactly what kind of car she prefers. She wants the most modern sports coupé, with red coachwork and beige leather upholstery. The Duke of Edinburgh himself an enthusiastic driver of fast starting hats that once distinguished her public appearances. Now she chooses elegantly simple dresses and suits in soft pastel shades that suit her gentle type of prettiness and do not highly probable that the partner whom Princess Margaret selects as her formal escort at her 21st birthday ball will also prove to be the man who is going to partner her through life.

PRESSMEN DO NOT REPORT BEHAVIOUR OF MP'S

Mr. C. H. Wilmot, the Director of the Colonies Department of the British Council speaking on "The Press and Parliament" in Accra said that it is considered improper for a pressman, because he is privileged to watch members' debate, to report the personal behaviour of a member in the British House of Parliament.

He told his audience that in the olden times, pressmen were not expected to go behind the scenes to get information for their papers.

HE WILL HELP TRAIN AS

Accra, Monday

Mr. Frank Leach, the Gold Coast Commissioner in London, said at a news conference here yesterday that although he had a short time to confer with the Ministers, he was going to arrange for the accommodation, boarding and the finance of Gold Coast scholars to be trained as artisans to help carry out the development plan of the country.

Mr. Leach further revealed that he intended getting chemists to analyse the cocoa pod to see whether something could be got from it.

“Wholesale promotions in schools” — Botsio

Mr. Kojo Botsio, Minister of Education and Social Welfare, speaking at Accra on Friday, said that the Government has set aside £2,000,000 for the new education scheme drawn up by his Ministry. Half of this amount he said would be used for scholarships for the first year.

Apart from free primary education, Mr. Botsio said that teacher training in some respects would be free. He said the scheme has provided for the training of 2,000 teachers every year.

The Minister mentioned that promotion in the primary schools would be wholesale but promotion in the College and Universities would depend on ability.
Mass Education Stimulates Voluntary Effort in Local Communities

The Mass Education and mass literacy work of the Department of Social Welfare is being intensified and a comprehensive plan for mass education and mass literacy is being presented to the Legislative Assembly.

In the field of literacy a promising start has been made. Over 200 classes now operating in Togoland have produced 7,000 literates and the expansion continues. Twenty-five new classes were started in May and June alone.

Ashanti, where Mass Education is of more recent origin has 121 classes and so far over 3,000 people have learned to read and write. Since its inception in March this year, Mass Education in the Colony has been extended from Ekumfi, and now, from an area comprising nine states, more than 1,200 men and women attend literacy classes twice a week.

The Department is now beginning its work in the Northern Territories where great strides in the building of new Rural Training Centres have been made at Tamale in preparation for a mass education and mass literacy drive.

A vital part in all this work is played by the Bureau of Vernacular Literature which is now producing and printing primers and text-books.

In the other branch of the Department's activities there is abundant evidence that voluntary effort in communities is stimulated by mass education.

In March this year, the Accra Community Centre was formally presented by a Director of the United Africa Company to the Minister of Education and Social Welfare, who received the Centre on behalf of the people of Accra. In the five months which have elapsed...

Eight elders and the youths of the Wenchil State have sent a resolution to Mr. W. H. Beeton, Chief Commissioner of Ashanti, protesting against the re-instatement of the Wenchilene to the stool.

The Chief Commissioner who had found the chief not guilty stated that the thirteen charges preferred against the Wenchilene were not sufficient to "justify his destoolment."

The resolution contended that since the Wenchilene was guilty on one charge, they would not accept him as their chief, and therefore demanded his immediate removal. "Failing to comply with our request, you will be held responsible for any disturbances which might break out," the resolution added.

Nana Kwabena Antwi, the Kuntanahene who has also been served with 15 charges by his subjects will appear before the Kumasi Divisional Council next Thursday, to answer the charges preferred against him.

He was alleged to have taken a bribe of £100 from Brodekano, a village in the state and was also said to have acted wrongly during the celebration of the "Kwasidua festival" in Kumasi.

MID-CROP COCOA

It was announced that the total purchases of Mid-Crop Cocoa for the fortnight ended Thursday, August 9, were 225 tons. This brought the total purchases up to that date to 3,760 tons.

Women's Kgotla ‘deeply grieved’ at exile of Seretse Khama

About 2,000 women of the Bamagwato tribe have met at Serowe in the first women’s Kgotla (tribal assembly) in the history of this tribe to tell British observers now in Bechuanaland that they were ‘deeply grieved’ at the exile of their chief designate, Seretse Khama.

The women’s Kgotla followed a general tribal Kgotla when 5,000 tribesmen roared their disapproval at the attempted entry of the followers of the banished Tshekedi Khamha, uncle of Seretse, in order to press their claims for his return to the tribe as a private citizen. Tshekedi’s supporters left after being refused entry to the gathering.

The headmen told the observers that the return of Tshekedi would not be contemplated until Seretse had been allowed to return to the tribe—Reuter.

The subscribed membership of the Centre, now 2,361, is increasing daily.

While pride of place in community centres must go to Accra, there are many other examples of community centres often built entirely by voluntary labour. Recently the Ministerial Secretary to the Ministry of Education and Social Welfare formally opened a centre at Suhum. In Togoland centres, at Ho, Kpandu and Ahenkro already thrive. Saltpond has a large and keen membership. Bisease is building its own and plans are made for Asafa and Asikuma. In Ashanti, Broahaho is building a Village Hall in cement blocks and Bamiri is completing the roofing of a centre with iron sheets.

Mass Education has many facets and is organised to permit adaptation to the needs of a particular community. Activities range from Young Farmers Clubs, such as exist at Techiman and Nehiraa, in Ashanti, to the construction of dispensaries in Fantland (stimulated by a mobile clinic with a daily roll of 70 patients) and new water systems such as one opened recently in Afrantso.

TURPIN GOES TO FIGHT ROBINSON

Millions of Commonwealth sports fans are solidly behind Randolph Turpin in the defence of his recently acquired world middleweight title, and it seems that a fair proportion of them wanted to see him off when he left for America.

It started at Leamington where Turpin lives; thousands turned out to see him leave for London, and wish him every success. It continued when he arrived in London, when he went by car to Jack Solomon’s gymnasium crowds barred the way, and people queuing for theatre seats abandoned their places in the queue to run and get a glimpse of him.

When he boarded the boat train at Waterloo Station to take him to Southampton the crowds were bigger than ever. It seemed that everyone in Britain who had an autograph book wanted Randy to sign it. He shook hands with so many people that his arm must have been tired with the effort, though his right arm is certainly capable of a great deal of hard work as Sugar Ray Robinson found to his cost.

Off to do battle in honour of the Commonwealth...

Turpin playfully nudged Jack Solomon the fight promoter as he prepares to board the boat train at Waterloo Station.

Kwesi Lamptey will move for re-instatement of workers

A NOTICE FOR A MOTION calling for the “complete re-instatement without any condition” of all workers in the Gold Coast, who were dismissed following the country-wide strike in January 1950, and those who have been re-engaged on certain conditions, has been handed to the Clerk of the Legislative Assembly.

The mover of the motion is Mr. Kwesi Lamptey, M.L.A. for Sekondi-Takoradi and former Under-Secretary to the Ministry of Finance.

Mr. Lamptey told a “Graphic” reporter here yesterday that the motion was particularly meant for the “immediate and complete re-instatement” of dismissed and re-engaged workers in the Government Departments. He said that he would deal with the question of workers in the commercial firms later.

Mr. Lamptey further said that he was not satisfied with the conditions under which the workers were “compelled to accept re-engagement.”

Mr. Pobee Biney, M.L.A. for Upper Denkyira told the “Graphic” reporter that the request contained in Lamptey’s motion was a “deliberate and calculated action by the government to dissuade workers from organizing in such a manner as to工信部 accept re-engagement.”

SECOND PARLIAMENT FOR SYRIA
Jerusalem, Tuesday.
Syria's second parliament was sworn in here yesterday. The House re-elected Mr. Joseph Sprinzaks as its speaker.

First Gold Coast African Bishop
The Archbishop of West Africa has summoned all the Bishops of the Province of West Africa to meet him in Synod in the Gold Coast in October, and he will then consecrate Archdeacon Ezra Douglas Martinson as Assistant Bishop of the Gold Coast at the Holy Trinity Cathedral on St. Luke's Day, October 18.

After his consecration Bishop Martinson will continue to be an Archdeacon.

Two new Archdeacons have been appointed. They are Canon C. H. Elliot and the Rev. J. H. Brewer.

Canon Elliot was one of the original group of boys who formed the S.P.G. Grammar School, now known as Adisadel College, Cape Coast. He is an African, and is at present Chaplain at Achimota.

Mr. Biney said that his sole aim in the Assembly is to work in the best interest of the workers outside the Assembly and so was doing his best to return to his former work as a locomotive driver.

Mr. Biney has already applied for re-engagement as a railway engine driver.

New law will remove middle men

THE Government is contemplating a law whereby middle men in the cocoa industry will be wiped out. Farmers would be required to sell their cocoa direct to centres which will be established throughout the country.

This was disclosed to farmers here at a meeting where Mr. Ashie Nikol, member of the Cocoa Marketing Board, was the principal speaker. He said that the position of the middle men in the cocoa industry would be greatly improved if they all joined the United Ghana Farmers Congress, the only body which would have Government recognition.

He told his audience that the Government was doing all it could to help all cocoa farmers together with farmers of other products. Loans from the Agricultural Loans Board will be made available to the farmers on application.

Rising prices-a world problem

IN FRONT of stores, in markets, in drinking bars, in offices and workshops, along the principal streets and in the press, the problem of the day which is actively discussed is that of rising prices. Everywhere a disturbing feeling is shown towards the ever-increasing cost of living. The parent, the teacher, the office clerk, the farmer, the fisherman and the labourer: all rightly view the situation with deep concern. They may not appreciate all the basic factors which give rise to such situations, but they surely know what its effects mean in their lives.

There is, for example, a growing practice in the big towns of having one main meal a day in order to cut down the cost of food or because the family cannot afford more than one meal a day. In many other towns such social evils as the low standard of living, poverty, malnutrition and poor housing conditions have much to do with the ever-increasing prices of commodities. No wonder, then, that the public are asking the Government to call a halt!

WORLD WIDE PROBLEM

Is the Gold Coast the only country undergoing a critical period of increase in prices? The answer is no, for the problem of rising prices is world-wide.

In a world of increasing economic interdependence, the problem might be tackled. Goods are produced, the costs of production are rising owing to a number of factors. The most important of these are an increase in the prices of raw materials and rising wages. Raw materials are needed not only for the manufacture of the consumer goods themselves, but also for the many tins, cardboard cartons and wooden boxes in which they are packed; and as supplies are everywhere inadequate to meet the wide demand, prices continue to rise.

Also, scarcely a month passes without news of a strike in one country or the other for more pay and better working conditions; and if producers are to respect the healthy agitation of their workers and still make any reasonable profit, then the consumer must natural-
Bishop was educated at the old Basel Mission School at Akropong and then at the Grammar School and Theological Seminary where he also received teacher training. He was later trained for one year at King's College, London. He is the first Gold Coast man to be ordained in the Anglican Church since Philip Quarcoo's in the eighteenth century. He was ordained a priest on October, 1916 and made Archdeacon in 1937.

It is a good omen that the Anglican Church has followed the lead given first by the Presbyterian Church, and then by the Methodist Church, in appointing Africans to the highest posts.

The Churches have played an excellent part in showing that Africans can be trusted with positions of responsibility, and if this fact could be realised by others who are interested in the advancement of the Gold Coast, our country will more quickly become a model democracy to be emulated by other countries who are also striving to achieve national independence.

more easily organised and expressed the problem has become a great challenge—even a threat—to governments.

Recently in the Gold Coast, the market women of Accra demonstrated against rising prices and later a delegation met Mr. Hutton Mills at his Ministry to discuss the problem. In Great Britain the Labour Government is unsurprisingly lashed for the rising cost of living by the Opposition at every opportune moment because the Opposition contend that cost of living is higher in Great Britain than in most countries of Europe.

In U.S.A. President Truman's statement to the Congress last June on the "Production Defence Act" came in for very severe criticism as mere words destined to achieve nothing. The Act aimed at keeping production costs low.

These three examples, taken at random, show that the problem of high prices is hitting other countries too; and for a general analysis of the basic causes, world factors cannot therefore be ignored. The world economic system has so developed that what happens on the distant markets of New York, London or Sidney is bound to affect us in the Gold Coast too.

Why are prices of imported goods rising?

Foodstuffs and manufactured goods imported into the country are costing more and more. Why should that be so?

In all countries where these

NEW HOUSE WILL OFFER OPPORTUNITIES FOR INTERNATIONAL FRIENDSHIPS

A GRANT of £6,000 from Gold Coast Government funds has been made towards the cost of an International Students House and Halls of Residence in London. The British Government has promised to contribute up to 40 per cent of the capital cost of the scheme. All Colonial and Commonwealth Governments have been invited to make contributions and the University of London has agreed to take over financial responsibility for the scheme when it is completed.

A statement issued by a distinguished committee of supporters in Britain, with Sir Otto Niemeyer as chairman says:

"There is urgent need in London for a central students' club-house with some residential facilities. The great numbers of British and Overseas students living in and passing through London should have a common meeting place. In this centre students would have the opportunity of making firm international friendships; and student members would represent their own countries in contributing to the community as a whole. In the halls of residence the proportion of students from the United Kingdom will be high — 30-40 per cent — in order to give students from other countries the opportunity of day to day living with the students of this country; the central club-house would naturally be shared equally by all students from all countries.

"The site for the new buildings will be as near to the main University buildings as possible.

"The club-house will accommodate a minimum non-residential membership of 2,000 students; membership will be available to all students, registered at any university in the world. The premises will include a lecture and concert hall, lounges, recreation rooms, study rooms, a library and prayer rooms.

"There will be programmes covering educational and cultural subjects. A general information and social welfare service will also be provided.

"There will be to begin with, two halls of residence—one for 100 men, and the other for 50 women. Accommodation will be reserved a term, primarily for students at the University of London, but during vacations will be available also for other students. The approximate estimated cost may be calculated at £750,000."
NKRUMAH WILL ADDRESS CHIEFS TO MARK END OF AWUBIA FESTIVAL

TO MARK the end of the celebration of the annual Awubia Festival of the Awutu people, Mr. Kwame Nkrumah, Leader of Government Business, will address the chiefs, elders and people of the Awutu State at a rally which will be held at Obutu Breku on Thursday, September 1.

Revealing this to a "Graphic" reporter here yesterday, Mr. P. Chatsu Awitor, propaganda secretary of the Jowliasi branch of the C.P.P., said that special bears had been sent to Mr. Nkrumah in Accra inviting him to speak at the rally. He added that Mr. Nkrumah will be accompanied by Mr. Kojo Botsio, Minister of Education and Social Welfare and M. L. A. for Winneba, Whetey Agyeman III, Odefe (Paramount Chief) of the Awutu State, will be chairman at the rally.

The Awubia Festival itself, which is similar in celebration to the Ga Homowo Festival, will begin on Thursday, August 30. It will last for a week.

On Friday, "kpokpe" (special food prepared for the occasion with corn flour, palm soup and salt) will be sprinkled all over the towns in the state by many groups of people. This will be continued on Saturday.

Sunday is meant for the pouring of libations. Drinks will be served to members of various families.

On Monday afternoon, the Odefe of the Awutu State, Whetey Agyeman III, accompanied by all his sub-chiefs, elders and the two Asafo Companies of the Awutu State, will visit the Royal Cemetery at Obutu Breku. He will sprinkle some of the "kpokpe" on the graves of all the dead members of the Awutu Royal family and all over the cemetery and later pour libation to their souls. Earlier during the morning, the people will hold many entertainment parties in several groups.

Merry-making will continue until the following Thursday, September 1, when the festival ends.

RE-INSTATIONMENT

The executive committee of the Railway Electrical branch at a meeting held at Takoradi passed a resolution asking the Government to cancel the probation period of three years which the dismissed workers had to serve, since they had been working for "instalment" payments.
The executive committee of the Railway Electrical branch at a meeting held at Takoradi passed a resolution asking the Government to cancel the probation period of three years which the dismissed workers had to serve, since they were pressing for "re-instatement" and not "re-engagement."

The resolution demanded that with effect from the date of their dismissal, their gratuity, pension and leave should be given to them and all monies due to them must be paid accordingly.

Prampram Manche alarmed at talk of secession of Ningo from Dangbe

THE MANCHE of Prampram (Nene Annorkwe II) President of the Dangbe Confederacy told a “Graphic” reporter today that he was greatly surprised that the people of Ningo had suggested that they would break away from the Dangbe Confederacy and have their own Local Council under the new constitution.

The Manche revealed that he had written a letter to Nene Tei Doku Aguda III, Ningo Manche in which he had stressed the need for unity.

In the letter the Manche pointed out he had prayed in bringing about unity in the Confederacy which consists of Prampram, Ningo and Kpone.

“When I became a member of the Native Authority as a result of my enstoolment as Manche of Prampram in 1949, there was disintegration in the Ningo State. It was through my personal effort that peace was restored in Ningo.”

Nene Annorkwei claimed that at his request the Accra District Development Committee granted the Dangbe Confederacy the sum of £1,114 for the improvement of the Prampram-Ningo road, which, he said was mostly used by vehicles from Ningo. The Gold Coast Government also granted £1,500 for the establishment of a firewood plantation at Ningo, a nursery for which has been provided and is being maintained.

The Manche went on to say that he had assisted the Ningo State in their claim to the town of Ayikuma, over which the Shai state also claimed complete suzerainty.

“I admit that the amenities mentioned above are just little but we cannot do more than cut our coats according to the cloth at our disposal.

“As I stated earlier in this letter, I personally, have no objection to the Ningo State having a separate Local Council but I consider it unfair that the demand for a separate Local Council should be made at the expense of the Native Authority of which I am, at present, the President”, the Manche’s letter ended.

RISING PRICES upon making a quick profit from every sale.

The second is the inevitable effect on prices of giving more income to any considerable proportion of the community. Such increase in income is often intended to offer a solution to rising prices.

Unluckily it does not, as the recent increase in salaries and wages and the awards of back-pay have shown. Rather, the temptation to spend more, even at a higher rate, because one can afford it intensifies the problem of rising prices and completes the vicious circle of rising prices, higher wages, and still more rising prices.

The prices of our local foodstuffs are rising primarily because those of imported foodstuffs and manufactured goods which the farmer, the hunter or the fisherman needs are already rising. If he is to make some reasonable profit from his sales, then he must keep on adjusting his selling price accordingly.

Other factors are greater incentive to the cultivation of cash crops, lack of capital, problems of distribution and the general drift of young men and women to the towns. The farmers may abandon foodstuffs for cocoa because of the high price offered them.

The problems of distribution cover difficulty of transporting foodstuffs, lack of proper storage facilities and the large class of middle-women determined to make maximum profit.

GOLD COAST VS. CLIFTONVILLE

AGYEI, INSIDE FORWARD, EQUAL TO BEST ENGLISH PLAYERS

Says British Sports Commentator

The Gold Coast gave another excellent display of cultured football in Belfast, Northern Ireland, on Thursday night, but again were the losing side, being beaten 4-2 by Cliftonville, the all-amateur club of the Irish League.

There were no fewer than six new players in the side compared with that defeated 3-2 by the Irish F.A. Amateur eleven on Tuesday. These included Vande Bosscher in the goal for Wilberforce, who is still in hospital recovering from a grudge effort.

It took them about 15 minutes to settle down against Cliftonville but from then until the interval they were much the better side and on play should have led by at least a couple of goals instead of being down 1-0. The goal came in the 40th minute and prior to it, M'Auley and Johnson failed with a grand effort. In the remaining minutes of the period the Cliftonville goalkeeper had to be quick to save from excellent shots by Nelson and M'Auley.

In the eighth minute of the second half the Irish team forced a corner and with Agyei, the inside left, who, with all his efforts, could hold his own among the best inside forwards in England. He was largely responsible for the Gold Coast's first goal, which came within a couple of minutes of Cliftonville's second goal and was the best of the match.

Agyei, getting the ball from Johnson, fired in a magnificent swerving shot, from which the Cliftonville goalkeeper could only push the ball out to Addy, who shot first time to score. Three minutes later the Irish team got their third goal, which was the result of mistaken tactics by the Africans. They conceded a fourth goal but continued to play the better football and had much the better of the exchanges.

Once Agyei worked the ball cleverly past two opponents and got in a grand drive only to see the ball flash back off the crossbar from his effort, the raid ending with the Cliftonville goalkeeper making a good save from Johnson.

In fact, all the Gold Coast attack lying practically unmarked. The result was an easy goal.

There was a stroke of luck for the Gold Coast later. With three of their forwards in off-side positions, they were awarded a penalty and from it Johnson amazed the crowd with a powerful drive to get their second goal. They conceded a fourth goal but continued to play the better football and had much the better of the exchanges.

In the eighth minute of the second half Neizer had the misfortune to turn the ball into his own net to put them two behind. Neizer, who had a very fine game at centre-half on Tuesday, was at right half on this occasion, and, in spite of the exception of the goalkeeper and one of the full backs the whole of the side moved up into the Cliftonville goal area. There was a quick clearance corner and with the brilliant form of the first goalkeeper the Gold Coast might have at least shared the honours. Towards the end he made two particularly fine saves from Addy, either of whose shots would have been worthy of a goal.

The outstanding player in their defence was Darbah, an exceedingly cool full back, who seldom lost the ball and always placed it to advantage. One weakness, which was pretty general in the side, was their failure to try to draw an opponent out of position before parting with the ball. The Gold Coast party is remaining in Belfast until Sunday, when they leave for the South of Ireland to play a match in Dublin before crossing over to Wales.

The team against Cliftonville was:— Vanden Bosscher, Darbah, Brandt, Neizer, Wood Nk, Nelson, Addy, Ankrah, M'Auley, Agyei, and Johnson.

C.Y.O. lose to Kotoko

Quarter-Master Sergeant C. L. Demford, an official referee of the Football Association of England, refereed the match at Nsawam on Sunday in which the Ashanti Kotoko defeated the Nsawam CYO by two goals to nil.

The CYO team were an equal match for the Kotoko team, but the latter showed better experience in the game.
New Osu Manche elected

Mr. Ebenezer Nartey Dowuona, 51, a goldsmith of Accra, has been elected Osu Manche. He succeeds Nii Nii Owuoo II, the late Osu Manche, who died in September 1949.

The election has been approved by Nii Sabah Atsem, the Dsasese, Mr. Solomon Owuoo, head of the stool family, and his elders. Preparations are now being made for the installation and outdooring, which will take place shortly.

Contesting the stool against the elected candidate, was Mr. F. N. Dowuona, of the Catholic Mission, Osu, whom the elders maintained was the seventh in succession.

'TEMA HARBOUR WILL KILL ACCRA PORT'

Accra, Wednesday.

MR. C. W. TECHIE-MENSON, Third Territorial Member for the Colony, warned the Legislative Assembly today that if the second harbour for the Gold Coast was built at Tema or near Accra it would "kill" the Accra harbour as Takoradi harbour did to Sekondi harbour.

He was speaking on the chapter on "Communications" in the Government's Development Plan. He said that if the Government intended that the harbour should be built near Accra then the matter required further consideration.

Supporting this Nene Mate Kole said that the proposal to build the harbour at Ada was not new but an old one dating back to the days of Sir F. Gordon Guggisberg, who planned the first harbour.

Nene Mate Kole said that for Assin-Upper Denkyira, suggested that in view of the constant reports of coal shortage, Diesel engines which move faster than steam locomotives should be imported.

Mr. J. A. Baimah, the Minister, said in reply to Mr. Biney that the Government had contemplated importing from Switzerland Diesel electric engines, and an officer of the Railway Administration would for this purpose.
Congress, told the “Graphic” here today, “If I can show the same tenacity of purpose as Adolf Hitler it will be a credit to Togoland. We shall fly the Swastika because no other flag carries such a national spirit. Nobody can deter us from using it, not even the French and British.”

Mr. J. M. Dumoga, Treasurer of the Congress, said that the Swastika stood for a fanatical belief which they needed to achieve their goal.

Mr. Gerald Awumah, M.L.A. for Akpini—Asogli constituency in British Togoland, said that he supported the aim of the Congress of unifying both British and French Togoland into a separate independent state. But he did not want the Swastika flown because “The Swastika is identified with Hitler and will prejudice the minds of the whole world against Togoland.”

Mr. R. H. Saloway, Minister of Defence and External Affairs, told the “Graphic” that the adoption of the Swastika by the Congress was unfortunate because the impression to the outside world be that the people of Togoland wanted the German government back.

U.G.C.C. hold rally to inaugurate branch

MORE than 2,500 members and supporters of the United Gold Coast Convention attended the inaugural rally of the branch here, under the chairmanship of Bafuor Kwaku Amoako III, Gyasehene of Kibi.

Addressing the gathering, Mr. William Oforl Att’a, M.LA., said that he was highly instrumental in asking for the one month suspension of the cutting-out which was introduced by the Government. He said that Dr. Danquah had never encouraged cutting-out.

Referring to the Cocoa Marketing Board Amendment, Mr. Oforl Atta deplored that Akim Abuakwa, a vast cocoa producing area in the Gold Coast was not represented. He however condemned the nationalisation of the farmers’ money.

Other speakers included Dr. J. B. Danquah, Mr. A. Y. Larbi, Frank Donkor, the expelled C.P.P. Propaganda Secretary, and Nana Sekrehe Boateng, Pomasehene.

DIRECTOR OF EDUCATION ADDRESSES UNION
"It is upon the goodwill and earnest endeavour of all teachers that the whole security and prosperity of this nation depend; and I am confident that with your co-operation we shall achieve success," declared Mr. S. T. Hogben, Director of Education, when addressing a meeting of the Gold Coast Teachers Union here.

Mr. Hogben outlined the educational programme of the present Government and said that the teachers will have to play an important role in the new changes that are to be made.

JUANSA Chief and his elders, at a meeting, unanimously elected Mr. N. Mensah Twimasi, chief farmer. He assured the people of his preparedness to intensify the "grow more food" campaign.

Terrible Backache GONE!
Kruschen removed the cause

Thanks to the advice of friends, who told him how to get relief, this man is quite better now. But for weeks he was afraid to stoop owing to the agonizing pain in his back when he tried to straighten up. He writes:

"I suffered for weeks from kidney trouble and felt like an old man although I am only 31. If I stooped to do anything I was agony to straighten up again. Several people advised me to try Kruschen and they had found them wonderful. I tried them and found they gave me relief from pain, and I felt better in every way. I shall keep on with the daily dose because I can now do my day's work and not feel the worst for it."—S.Y.C.

Pains of this kind mean that your kidneys need help. Poisons and excess acids which form in the body have to be filtered out through the kidneys. If these become sluggish the poisons cause agonizing backache and severe pains in your joints. Kruschen cleans and tones up the kidneys and helps them to work properly. The pains go away and your health improves in every way.

KRUSCHEN SALTS
HIGH COSTS: HOW TO TACKLE THE PROBLEM

EVERY COMPLICATED situation has no simple solution. An attempt to remedy one aspect at the expense of the others only confuses the entire situation and diverts public attention from the steps which will give the utmost satisfaction. What then are some of the practicable lines of approach for reducing high prices of goods?

With imported foodstuffs and goods, price control must be considered first and foremost. Price control does not cure the basic causes of rising prices but it does call a halt if rightly applied and rigidly enforced, while other adjustments are being considered.

YOU TOO!!

By Roddy

Mr Farmer Grow More Food

Why don't you grow some too?

With imported foodstuffs and kerosene where there is a serious limit in supplies, price control must be considered first and foremost. Haphazard supervision does not help. What is needed is real organisation based, for example, on the supervision of flour sales to registered bakers who must conform to weight regulations in baking.

little to the farmers as the high price for cocoa beckons them. The Government must encourage the formation of co-operative societies for sales of local foodstuffs and then introduce price guarantees, whereby local foodstuffs are sold at guaranteed prices, the Government making up for the loss in sales. This will encourage the farmer of foodstuffs not only to undertake his work readily because his income is assured, but also to improve his methods of cultivation and choice of the types of crops best suited to the soil. The societies can then provide their own storage and transport facilities to help in their sales.

For immediate relief, however, foodstuffs must be imported to supplement local supplies, and the Government has already shown a quick appreciation of this need.

No amount of discussion on the problem of rising prices would be complete unless a repetition was made of the warning already given that their full effect has not yet been felt in the Gold Coast, nor, perhaps in any other country for that matter.

But is the extent to which the Government undertakes

Markets to be installed with lights

Sekondi, Wednesday

At a Town Council meeting here, three motions tabled by Councillor Teming Amoako were unanimously carried.

The first motion demanded that the electrical installations in all stalls and stores in the new market at Sekondi and Takoradi should be undertaken by the Council and not by the tenants.

The second motion also demanded that water mains be laid throughout Takoradi in order to ease the water situation and also to provide public stand pipes in the town. The last motion asked that the District Engineer be approached to start the development of the north-east block of Takoradi.

Before the close of the meeting, a resolution was passed forbidding landlords from let
It must be a government’s primary duty to ensure that excessive profits are not made, especially on essential commodities; hence control of Prices Regulations should be carefully reviewed from time to time.

Next must be an increase in the taxing away of surplus income. Income tax in the country is in its infancy, and a number of wealthy men escape payment because there is no organised system of assessing their income.

A possible solution under local government might be for local tax assessment committees to divide the community up into categories and tax them according to their income when it crosses a fixed mark. Until our taxation systems develop, the Government will have to rely on duties, rates, fees and indirect taxes as the only means of drawing away part of any surplus income.

Rationing of goods is a big problem in any country, and a bigger problem here because of the absence of correct data on the budgets of representative households and of settled habits. Yet it is the best way of ensuring the fair distribution of essential commodities such as sugar, flour.
PLANEs WILL TRANSPORT FROZEN MEAT FROM THE NORTH

WHEN THE debate on the Development Plan was resumed on Tuesday, Mr. Archie Casely-Hayford, Minister of Agriculture and Natural Resources, told the House that in the near future aeroplanes would be used in transporting frozen carcasses from the Northern Territories to the coast, and fish from the coastal areas to the North.

Mr. Kwesi Lamptey said that too much was being made of the cement factory to be established in the Gold Coast. He said that baked bricks could safely be used in building in the country. He said that in England baked bricks were in abundant use.

Mr. T. Hutton-Mills, Minister of Commerce, Industry and Mines, said that it was dangerous to make any statement on the nationalisation of the Mines at this time when the Government was inviting foreign investments to help develop the Gold Coast. He said that men should rather be sent to the Mines for training so that they might be in a position to take over when the time came.

Earlier on Monday when the House resolved into Committee, the establishment of the three Agricultural Stations at Asuansi, Kumasi, and Nyan-kpala (near Tamale) for research, experimentation and training, for which £1 million has been voted, were severely criticised.

Mr. Yeboah Afari, M.L.A. for Sunyani, said that Government should open more agricultural schools and colleges in various parts of the country. He added that priority should be given to Western Ashanti in the development of agriculture.

Mr. Ala Mensah, M.L.A. for Mampong South, said that he saw no reason why the Gold Coast should import butter when milk is here. He was referring to the experiment in producing cocoanut butter which is being carried on at present by F. Hills at Takoradi.

Mr. Casely Hayford said that the cocoanut butter being made by F. Hills was not meant to be used here, but was exported to the United Kingdom for the making of chocolate.

Mr. W. E. Arthur, M.L.A. for Saltpond, said that members should not sit in the Assembly and swallow more

SUGAR CHILE IS A CHILD PRODIGY

By "GRAPHIC" LONDON Correspondent

ONLY FOUR feet high and twelve years old, huge crowds whenever he appears on a stage. Boogie-woogie is his speciality, and as he plays like Nellie Lutcher's.

His size makes it difficult for him to play the piano as his feet cannot reach the pedals when he has however he does not bother to sit down. He plays his hands are not big enough to reach all the keys, and he does not bother Sugar Chile.

He uses his arms and if ever there was a true child prodigy it is Sugar Chile. He turned round and said, "How am I doing, Mr. President?"

At present Sugar is touring Britain, and has already appeared on television and broadcast for the B.B.C.

The highlight of his tour will be a period at the London Palladium, generally reckoned to be the top variety theatre in Britain, if not in the world. Any artist who gets a Billboard at the Palladium has got to the top of the tree.

Sugar Chile Robinson has got there at the age of twelve.

Mr. Jones-Quartey will broadcast

By a Special London Correspondent

Mr. K. A. B. Jones-Quartey, of the Gold Coast University College Department of Extra-Mural Studies, will broadcast a talk on "What's happening in the Gold Coast" on September 19, 1951.

If there is a Gold Coaster today who can efficiently present a true and unbiased picture of Gold Coast affairs such is none other than Mr. Jones-Quartey.

A graduate of Columbia University and a well-known West African journalist, Mr. Jones-Quartey is held in high esteem throughout West Africa. He has on previous occasions given many broadcast talks since 1947, and his voice on the radio will be familiar to the majority of listeners of West Africa and Britain.

Before the Gold Coast riots in 1948, Aidan Crowley, former Under-Secretary (Colonial Office) and Jones-Quartey debated over the BBC, whether Colonialism was "development" or "exploitation." And Mr. Jones-Quartey took the listeners by irresistible arguments which proved that Colonialism was "exploitation."

Mr. Jones-Quartey has a history with the BBC. During the latter part of 1950, he withdrew from the cast of a BBC programme dramatising the life of an African student in England.

Before returning to the Gold Coast, Mr. Jones-Quartey was sworn of the West African Students' Union hostel in Chelsea. While holding this position, he displayed great organisational ability and was a friend of the many students who stayed at the hostel.

Quietly efficient and hard-working Jones-Quartey is the author of "Problems of the Press in West Africa," and is at present acting for the Director of the Department of Extra-Mural Studies of the University College of the Gold Coast.
CHILE ROBINSON
CHILD PRODIGY

Through the efforts of his parents, Sugar Chile Robinson, age 10, a prodigy on both the guitar and piano, is being brought to the attention of the world. His remarkable musical talent was discovered by a professional musician who heard him play the piano at the age of 18 months.

Sugar Chile can play the piano in the normal fashion, but he prefers to sit on the pedals when he sits down. He can reach all the notes he wants, including some that are difficult to reach with the arms and elbows. Sometimes he uses his feet to press the pedals!

Sugar Chile began playing the piano at the age of 10 months, but he was not a novice. His parents held him up to reach the keys. He was a natural performer, and his parents taught him to sing and play the guitar. He soon became known as the "Baby Beethoven." His parents took him to perform in public at the age of 18 months, and he was a hit.

Sugar Chile is a prodigy in both music and athletics. He is a star athlete in the U.S. Army, and has already played for several professional teams. His parents have been able to support him by playing in public, and he has also earned money by playing in public.

Sugar Chile is a natural talent, and his parents have been able to take him to perform in public. His parents have been able to support him by playing in public, and he has also earned money by playing in public.

Even dissentient Ministers will be expelled... Nkrumah

"We have expelled Kwei Lamptey from the C.P.P. and any one or any body or people who are not satisfied with the manner of Lamptey's expulsion will also be expelled", Mr. Kwame Nkrumah, Chairman of the C.P.P. told 3,000 people at the Gyanadu Park, Sekondi on Saturday. When he explained the causes which led to the expulsion of Mr. Kwei Lamptey from the C.P.P. Mr. Nkrumah added that since the days of "Positive Action" Lamptey's activities in the party had been disruptive.

Referring to the C.P.P.'s new constitution, Mr. Nkrumah announced that there would now be no regional executive, but a regional secretary and a regional propaganda secretary would be appointed as paid officials of the national executive of the C.P.P.
GOLD COAST STORY COMPETITION

Entries are invited for a story-writing competition, the purpose of which will be to encourage writers and foster story-writing with an African environment.

Stories, which should be between 6,000 and 20,000 words in length, may be on any subject but should have a Gold Coast setting.

Entries will be judged by their literary merit, originality and imagination and their ability to interpret the mood and idiom of the African people. Stories should deal with persons rather than things. Exposition on politics, education and similar subjects are not required.

Stories should be typed in double spacing on one side of the paper only and have the name and address of the writer on the first page. There is no limit on the number of entries that may be submitted by each competitor.

All entries must be accompanied by a signed statement that the manuscript is the original work of the writer and that it has not been published, that it is not at the time in the hands of a publisher and is free of copyright-infringement.

A first prize of £35 and subsidiary prizes of £10 each will be awarded. The Public Relations Officer reserves the right to award the prize of prizes if in his opinion the entries submitted are not of a sufficiently high standard. No correspondence respecting his decision will be entered into.

Winning entries will become the property of the P.R.O., Accra. All rights to prize-winning stories for publication, film or broadcasting will belong to the Public Relations Officer without payment to authors.

Entries should be addressed to the Public Relations Officer, P.O. Box 748, Accra, and envelopes should be marked “STORY COMPETITION.”

Closing date for entries is 1st November, 1951.

STATE LEVY

In view of the fact that the Accra Town Council is solely responsible for the good government, social amenities and the sanitation of the Accra Municipality, the collection of levy by the Ga State only means taxation without any services to the benefit of the levy payer.

The irritating aspect of it all is that certain quarters, comprising mostly Ga's, have refused to pay the levy yet the chiefs of those quarters receive salaries from the state levy which is a burden on the non-Ga majority. This must stop.

Takow Schindell, Adabakra, Accra.

COST OF LIVING

There has been a lot of contribution to this paper about the problem of the present high cost of living. Some say that imported goods should be boycotted, others say that production of local foodstuffs should be on a larger scale while others too say that salaries of the workers...

A. K. Adu, Koforidua.
APPROPRIATION

In my view, none of these contributors has gone half the way towards the real solution of the problem. An increase in the price of cocoa and in salaries means an increase in the price of raw materials.

If, therefore, the price of cocoa goes higher and higher, and the salaries of the workers are increased, the cost of food production in this country will be high, and we shall still be where we are now.

AL ALLOTNEY MEETS GENE FOWLER

Al Allotey of Gold Coast has been billed to fight Gene Fowler of Canada at Bullen’s Car Park, Elstree, Boreham, England next Saturday. The fight which will be a special eight 3-minute rounds light heavyweight contest will help to raise funds for the Boreham Wood and District Community Centre Appeal Fund.

Fowler had fought the present Cruiser King of Great Britain, Don Cockell; the Cruiser King of Wales, Dennis Powell; and the British Empire heavyweight contender, Lloyd Barnett.

Al Allotey wrote to Surpriser Sowah in the Gold Coast, “This Fowler has fought some of the best boxers in Great Britain but he is meeting a real fighter in me.”

OVAL WILL COST £108 TO MAINTAIN

The Gold Coast Cricket Association has now 168 members, and 14 clubs are affiliated to it, said a statement from the Association.

The Association has bought cricket gear worth nearly £100 during the year, and the Oval which has been improved will cost £108 a year to maintain as a proper cricket ground. Better seating accommodation has been provided in the pavilion on the ground.

ASSEMBLY APPROVES ‘DEVELOPMENT FUND’

Acera, Thursday.

THE LEGISLATIVE Assembly today approved the establishment of a fund to cover the Government’s Development Plan. A motion to this effect was tabled by Mr. A. C. Tours, Minister responsible for Finance.

Mr. Tours told the House that it was necessary to have a “Development Fund” established so that when the time for the implementation of projects in the Plan came, the House could easily vote for the sum required.

Before the House approved of the “Development Fund” Mr. Techie-Menson, Nana Sir Tsibu Darku, and Nene Azu Mate Kole, stressed that Government should make it known to the house the definite expenditure for each item on the Plan.

Mr. Kwesi Lamptey said that it would be well for the Government to tell the Assembly whether money for the Plan was available.

Mr. William Ofori Atta said that the House was not going to be pushed into this, but the House was going to want to know where the money was coming from. It was impossible to just say that the Assembly was going to have to vote for the money and not be told where it was coming from.

“U. S. direct deal is impossible”

Jasikan, Thursday

WHEN MR. S. G. ANTOR, the Togoland delegate to the Assembly, asked whether the Government was going to enter into a direct deal with the United States, C. T. W. Agyemang, Minister for Finance, said that it would be impossible to do so if the Assembly did not approve the Plan.

Ningo will not secede

Accra, Thursday.

The resolution passed by the people of Great Ningo asking for a separate local council in the new Local Government set-up, did not mean a break-away from the Dangbe Confederacy, said Tefi Doku Aguda III, Ningo Manche, in a statement to the “Graphic” today.

With a separate local council for Ningo, the wishes of the people would be fulfilled and levy collection would be much easier than before.

The Manche finally stated that his membership of the Dangbe Confederacy would not be affected in any way, if Ningo people had their own local council.

Lidbury Report expected in September

In reply to a question by Mr. Fobbee Eney M.L.A. for Assin Upper Beninrya, Mr. E. H. Saloway, Minister of Defence and External Affairs, said that the Lidbury Commission Report would be released in the middle of September.

Mr. Saloway said that the report would be signed by the Commissioner, Sir David Lidbury, at the end of this month, and the Government will receive a few copies of it for its consideration.

In respect of the buying of cocoa direct by an American firm.

While in America, Mr. Antor wrote to the chiefs and farmers of Togoland that he had contacted an American firm who were prepared to buy cocoa direct from the Buem State of Togoland. His letter requested that he should be given a mandate to prepare all the necessary contracts.

Commenting on Mr. Antor’s message, Mr. G. K. Martin, representative member of Togoland on the Cocoa Marketing Board, said, “such a bargain will be impossible and impracticable. It is not likely that the American firm referred to could offer higher price than what the Cocoa Marketing Board has offered.”

GOVERNOR ATTENDS MUSIC RECITAL

Accra, Thursday

The Governor, Sir Charles Arden-Clarke, and Lady Arden Clarke attended a music recital given at the British Council House here yesterday by Miss Peers Coetmore, the celebrated B.B.C. and Concert Cellist. She was accompanied by Mr. Leonard Pearce, who played the piano while Miss Coetmore played the violin. After the recital which lasted 90 minutes, Miss Coetmore was presented with a bouquet of flowers on behalf of the British Council.

Over 200 people attended the concert.

BISHOP C. S. DALY ACCORDED ROUSING RECEPTION

BISHOP C. S. DALY was accorded a rousing reception by school children, scouts and church members when he arrived here.

Addressing the gathering, the Bishop stated that he was grateful to the members for the welcome given him. He said that the presence of the various church members was a sufficient indication of the happy relations existing between the churches.

He revealed that in the Gambia where he worked for fifteen years, there was cooperation among all the established denominations.

"I am, however, looking forward to the churches making good progress in the year that lie ahead", he concluded.

The Bishop preached at the High Mass the following day and the confirmation service for 23 candidates brought the function to a close.

THE TRAINING OF CHILDREN

BY THE RADIO DOCTOR

WHY AM I going to talk about bringing up children? What does a doctor know about bringing up children that everyone doesn’t know already? Well, I’m going to talk partly as a doctor — because the upbringing of a child (particularly in its early years) develops its mind in a pattern which remains for the rest of its life. And doctors are interested in and know quite a lot about minds, because minds can become diseased just like the body can; and health of the mind is as important as health of the body.

I don’t want to say much about children’s bodily health; I shall say more about that in my next talk. But obviously we must bring up our children with good healthy habits. We must teach them to go to the latrine regularly, and to wash their hands afterwards: to clean their teeth regularly: and to breathe through their noses not their mouths. The important thing is to establish these good habits in the early years so that they remain habits for life.

But don’t expect your children to learn habits which you yourself do not possess—children are born imitators. If you don’t clean your teeth, you cannot expect your children to take kindly to the custom. And that is true the other way round too. If father spits out of the window, then although you may try to teach your children that the habit is dirty and spreads disease, they will want to spit too. Like father, like son. Your habits will also become your children’s habits. They learn by example.

And one of the first lessons we have to teach the young minds of our children, is the lesson of courage. A brave child will grow up into a leader. I’ll give you an example of what I mean. It is most interesting to see how mothers handle their children when they come up to hospital for treatment.

Miss Wakefield is translating the Bible

An Englishwoman, Miss Daisy Wakefield, who for fifteen years has lived alone in a small mud dwelling in the Hoggar Mountains of the Sahara, has recently been visited by an English traveller Mr. Ivor Thomas. Writing in the "Church Times", Mr. Thomas says that Miss Wakefield's village of Tamanrasset is 1,315 miles due south of Algiers, and is just south of the Tropic Of Cancer. All round are Tuareg people who live a nomadic life, and for them Miss Wakefield is patiently translating the Bible into the Berber language.

Her missionary career began forty-four years ago in Northern Nigeria and she came to the Sahara at the age of fifty-two as an Independent missionary. Miss Wakefield has two nephews in the House of Commons—Sir Wavell Wakefield and Mr. E. B. Wakefield.

GOOD SENSE AND COURAGE

Now here is a mother with some good sense and courage. As she takes her child for an injection she holds his hand so that he may feel her protection; she says "This will hurt, but not too much; and you must be brave and put up with it; it is to make the sore on your leg better." The child is prepared for the injection, cries for a moment, and then stops.

"That was good" says the mother, and the child's courage is rewarded with a piece of sugar.

Now what happens next time they come to hospital? The first child screams before he's even inside the hospital—this is the place where he screamed before, and where he was hurt and his mother was cross. The second child comes quietly and bravely—his mother has his hand in hers, and there's a lump of sugar in her pocket. Courage pays.

New councillors discuss housing and bus service

Cape Coast, Thursday

A number of people witnessed the proceedings of the general monthly meeting of the newly elected Cape Coast Town Council which took place here. Before business began members were introduced to the new President, Mr. A. Howe, Acting District Commissioner, Cape Coast. In a brief address of welcome, the President appealed for the cooperation of all members in the interest of the Council and the people of Cape Coast.

Replying on behalf of members, Councillor Orleans Thompson paid tribute to the work done by the past Councillors and said the new Councillors would continue the good work of their predecessors.

Discussions centred on the provision of houses for fishermen in the new estates, and the need for slum clearance in the town. It was announced that plans for the provision of tickets, uniforms and other equipment in connection with the bus service were well in hand. At this meeting members were appointed to serve on the various standing committees.

The Postmaster General announces that owing to floods in the Northern Territories, mails to all stations north of Pwalegu will be seriously delayed.
POLICY ON RAILWAYS CRITICISED

Accra, Thursday

Mr. Kweisi Lamptey suggested to the Legislative Assembly yesterday that the salaries of dispensers and nurses, who are transferred to the Northern Territories, should be increased and that if the government was not prepared to do that then it should start to train many Northerners in these professions.

He said that whenever people in the south were transferred to the Northern Territories, they felt reluctant because they either felt that their services there would not be duly remunerated or the climatic conditions would have unpleasant effects on them.

Mr. Pobee Biney said that the Railways Administration was the main source of the country’s revenue but their African staff were neglected. “Their quarters are fit for pigs and their rest houses appalling”, he went on.

Mr. Biney added that the government had been saying that it would import technicians into the country to carry out the development plan of the country, but the few African technicians were not encouraged. “I do not want to be personal but there is a Mr. G. K. B. de Graft Johnson who holds a bachelor degree in science. He has seen 14 years service in the Railways Administration and he is still an assistant locomotive superintendent.”

Mr. W. E. Arthur pointed out that if roads leading to the rural areas were improved, the present high cost of living would be greatly reduced. He cited for an example the Ekomfi State which has a large store of corn, cassava and other foodstuffs but there were no means to transport them to the areas where they are greatly needed.

NOTICE

SUPE INQUIRY

The Public are hereby informed that Mr. E. A. N. FFoulkes Crabb, Acting Senior District Commissioner, will resume the Inquiry into occurrences at Supe on November 5, 1950, in which certain persons were alleged to have taken part in riot, the quelling of which led to certain fatalities at Keta on Monday, August 29, 1951.

All persons desiring to give evidence or any information regarding the said inquiry are requested to submit their names to the Assistant District Commissioner, Keta.
The Society believe that this could probably happen in half that time if a concerted attack were made on the problem "using facilities on the same grand scale as those employed to make atom bombs".

In London on September 3, there begins the second International Congress on Astronautics, and plans for achieving a flight to the moon will then be discussed. In private sessions, they will also discuss the proposals for the setting up of an International Astronautical Federation.

TRIALS OF GOLD COAST BOXERS IN U. K.

The meteoric rise of Roy Ankrath to the Empire featherweight championship is accompanied by the lesser flights of many other Gold Coast boxers in Britain. There is no room for the boxer who will not work hard and establish an early reputation for himself, and I had plenty of evidence among the boxers whom I met after the Ankrah-Clayton fight in London. They had expected quick recognition, but without credentials from a recognised boxing authority in their country of origin, the British Board insisted that they should start from the bottom of the ladder.

I have the Boxing Board's version from general secretary Waltham, himself a boxer of repute: “We want to encourage good boxers,” he said, “but some of your boys claim to be champions and when we have tried them out they had not shown championship class.” The trouble was that when good boxers did arrive in England from the Gold Coast they inherited all the prejudices and setbacks which their indifferent predecessors had established. It took some time, but it was eventually possible for me to assure the Board’s secretary that the Gold Coast had very good boxers beside Roy Ankrath and that in future these boxers would be furnished with cre-promises by spurious managers who either decamped with the money, or after giving the boxers indifferent training put them up in the ring against much more experienced opponents who used them as chopping blocks. Other “managers” put our boxers in so-called boxing stables and fed them on to the boxing market as and when required.

Miss Baeta will represent Gold Coast

Miss Annie R. Baeta, the Accra barrister, will leave by air to Lebanon on Thursday, September 27, to represent the Gold Coast in the World Young Women's Christian Association conference, to be held on October 7.

She is leaving earlier for the conference to attend an Executive meeting of the Y.W.C.A. This is the first time the Gold Coast will be represented on the World's Council of the Association.

This decision to send a delegate to represent the Gold Coast was taken at Kumasi on Friday, June 22, when a branch of the Association was inaugurated.

Miss Baeta told the "Graphic" today that the Y.W.C.A. offered to bear half the expenses of the trip of a Gold Coast delegate, but as the Gold Coast branch could not meet the other half due to lack of funds, she would attend the conference both as an Executive member and a representative of the Gold Coast.

£1,800 MINISTER’S SALARY

Lagos, Friday.

THE NIGERIAN GOVERNMENT has provisionally suggested that with the setting up of the new constitution the salaries of Members of the Central House of Representatives will be £600.

Central Ministers without portfolio would get £500, Central Ministers with portfolio of Regional subjects £900, and Central Ministers with portfolio of Central subjects £1,200.

The salaries for ministerial responsibilities would be in addition to the salaries drawn for membership of legislative houses. Thus the most a Minister can receive will be £1,800.

The salary arrangements would be modified in the case of Chiefs and Native Administration officials who become members of the legislature. Where a Chief’s Native Administration salary is greater than his total legislative salary, he would refund to the Native Administration an amount equal to half his legislative salary during such period as he is a member of the legislature. But where a Chief’s salary is less than his total legislative salary as a member of the legislature he would draw from the Native Administration only half of his salary while he is a member of the legislature.

BEKWAI
Youth Association demand dissolution of committee

THE Bekwai Youth Association recently met at the State Park and passed a four point resolution demanding that the convictions of the Jacobuhene and Kronthene were political and as such they should have the Government’s recognition.
That the Committee of the Bekwai Native Administration should be dissolved and supreme power of administration invested in Nana Kwame Poku, the Bekwaihene and his newly installed sub-chiefs.
This was to check the policy of divide and rule in the Bekwai State.
It asked that the Bekwaihene, Nana Kwame Poku and his sub-chiefs should all be gazetted so that there might be peace in the state and lastly that all petitions, letters and documents written by the ex-Bekwaihene, Nana Yaw Gyanti, to the effect that the Jacobuhene and the Bekwaihene and Kronthene had been destooled should be revoked because the people still recognise these people as their chiefs.
The resolution was signed by the president of the Association, Mr. A. K. Yamoah, the secretary-general; Mr. E. H. Y. Yeboa and Mr. J. B. Sarpong, Moses Dwomoh and Mr. P. Addai, respectively.

HOW OLD IS PAPER MONEY?

CAREFUL distinction should be made between
(a) paper notes which may prove a title to goods and which may be accepted by persons between whom there is an understanding with regard to a specific transaction, and (b) bank notes which are legal tender within countries that have legalised this form of money-backed currency.

Money is of restricted durability and do not represent the intrinsic value requirement, though they are honoured if government may be said, in fact, to be a mere auxiliary of bank money.

It is true that from very early times, traders settled their accounts with one another by the exchange of rec ceipts (which may have proved their title to goods or to gold); and within a small community such notes of hand were indeed a kind of paper currency, and some of these that have survived (one of them is a Chinese trader’s note dated 1339 B.C. and printed on coarse mulberry-leaf paper) have been instanced as paper money; but in modern nation's economies, traders' receipts bills of exchange and even che ques are neither legal tende

THE KING'S JESTER
Week-End Meditation

MANY years ago in a far away country, lived a king. The king had many jesters. These jesters were men who had to think up foolish things to say and do before the king to make him laugh.

One day when he called, in one of the jesters, the jester did not do anything foolish before the king. Instead he stepped up to the king and asked, "Do you know a wide-spread search a man, who had once been the king’s jester, was found. He was brought into the presence of the sick king.

The king looked up at him
"I'm dying," he said, "What shall I do? Tell me quickly!
How can I gain entrance into heaven?

The man looked down at the king. At last he said, "You have lived a long life. O

Why is the Red Sea so called?

One explanation is because parts of the water are coloured by small red organisms called Infusoria, the name for the group of single-celled animals of the protozoa class which swim about in shoals. There are also extensive growths of red coral on Red Sea's bed, and there are red coral formations on both its coasts. Other seas acquired their names as follows.

The Black Sea's shores are chemical or mud and sand lacked by hydrogen sul-hide produced by a form of bacteria which exist in the lower depths of the Sea in large numbers. The Dead Sea is so named because no animal life can exist in it, wings to its great salinity and extraordinarily high concentration of mineral substances; the surplus water has no outlet and can only vaporize.

The Yellow Sea, off the north-east China coast, gets its name from the lemon-yellow colour of the mud suspended in the water near land. The White Sea, a branch of the Arctic Ocean off north Europe, is white, with stepped up to the king and said, "O king, I have become a Christian, and I do not want to do foolish things."

"So you think you are no longer a fool, do you?" the king asked.

He took a cane from behind his throne. It had many odd carvings on it. It had been made by one of his favourite jesters, and the king had often looked at it and laughed because it was so funny looking.

He gave it to the Christian now, and said, "If you ever find a bigger fool than you are, give this cane to him." The man took the cane and turned and left the royal court.

Many years passed by. The king lived on in wickedness, and grew old. Then he became very ill. The royal physicians came to his bedside. They examined him carefully and shook their heads.

"Tell me!" demanded the king. "Can you not make me well?"

The chief physician looked down at the king. He did not speak. The king understood why he did not speak.

"But I'm not ready to die," the king gasped. "I... I... I'm not ready!" The king's mind went back across the years. He remembered the Jester who had become a Christian.

Quickly, he summoned one of his chief servants. He told him to scour the whole kingdom until he found the Jester. After a short, but

Acra, Friday

MR. ANTHONY WOODE, M.L.A. for Sefwi, does not know what has happened to the motion he gave to the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, Mr. E. C. Quist, during the budget session of the Assembly in March this year. The motion called for the complete re-instatement of all dismissed and re-engaged workers in all Government Departments.

In an interview with a "Graphic" reporter today, Mr. Woode said that he thought his motion "has been suppressed somewhere." He said that as his motion was not tabled at the last session, he had been "making contacts to know if it was lost."

Speaking on Mr. Kwesi Lamptey's proposed motion for the "Complete re-instatement of all dismissed and re-engaged workers in the Government Departments without any condition", Mr. Woode said that he would support it as the motion is the same as his. "It will be in the best interest of all workers in this country if such a motion is given the support it deserves by all the members of the Assembly," he said.

Mr. Woode said that he did not know if Mr. Lamptey's motion would suffer the same fate as his. "If Mr. Lamptey's motion is not hidden somewhere, I have every hope that it will go through," he said.

"I AM IN FOR ALL THE WORKERS" SAYS BINEY

At the Legislative Assembly next week, Mr. Pobee Biney, M.L.A. for Assin Upper-Denkyira and former General President of the Gold Coast Trades Union Congress, will table a motion for the reduction of the working hours of Government technical workers.

Mr. Pobee Biney told the "Graphic" today that he felt it was a "cheat for clerks to work only six hours while the technical employees worked for eight hours." He said that Kodwo wants resettlement scheme

Speaking on the Development Plan at the Legislative Assembly, Mr. J. Kodzo, M.L.A. for the Buem-Krachi urged that the Ministry of Town and Country Planning should survey suitable areas in his constituency for resettlement, as the Volta River project was a great inconvenience.
employees worked for eight hours.” He said that although the workers were paid overtime for the extra hours they did, he considered the overtime pay “too little.”

“I am in for all the workers. I am not against the clerks. Without them things won’t be complete. But justice must be done.”

Accra, Friday

Development Plan at the Legislative Assembly here yesterday, Mr. Minister of Defence and External Affairs, said that if the "Gold Coast" had, as some members of the House demanded, the Government produce the "Hansard," the record of all the long speeches made by Assembly.

He told the House that a committee would be appointed to study the possibilities of improving the Broadcasting Service. He said that the report of the M'Carthy Committee which was set up to investigate the conditions in the prisons will be laid on the table during this session of the Assembly, by Mr. Kojo Botsio, Minister of Education and Social Welfare.

Mr. Krobo Edusei urged that the sum of £200,000 set aside for the erection of a building for the Police Mobile Force be cancelled. The people of the Gold Coast were for law and order and so he did not see the necessity for the building.

Mr. Kojo Botsio, Minister of Education and Social Welfare, explained that the conditions of service in the Medical Department, with special reference to doctors, was not attractive enough. It should be made more attractive, for the department needed more doctors.

Mr. N.B. Abubeker said that the Government did not show seriousness in the development of the rural areas, since £300,000 only had been allocated for village and rural housing while £245,000 had been voted for the rehousing scheme of Accra alone. He said that instead of the health centres planned to be built in Ashanti, hospitals should be built.

Mr. Attah Mensah wanted the Minister of Health and Labour to give a definite date on which the hospital at Kumasi would be started. He said that all hospitals in the country should be improved and extended. In his opinion the plan made too much provision for Accra.

Mr. K.A. Gbedemah, Minister of Health and Labour, explained that the improvement of health conditions throughout the country was essential but the people must learn to help themselves. Funds from the Central Government would be fairly distributed. He hoped the mass education teams and the fight against mass illiteracy would help the people to improve their own health and social conditions.

Mr. Casely Hayford asked the Government to look into the ration of the African servicemen. He told the House that a soldier once stopped him and told him that his ration was only a piece of cassava, some tomatoes and a small fish.

TEN PEOPLE SHOT DEAD IN VOGA

CHIEF TURNS DOWN BRONG DEMAND

Accra, Sunday

The Baduhene in Wenchi, Sunyani district, has received papers from the Brong-Kvempem Federation, asking him to become a member of the Federation. The papers indicated that the Federation intends to collect cocoa tribute from the people of Badu.

The Baduhene is, however, unwilling to join the Federation. He had therefore communicated to Nana Boakye Dankwa, M.L.A, the Akyemphimene, through whom he owes allegiance to the Golden Stool of Ashanti.

Nana Boakye Dankwa, now attending the Legislative Assembly session here has telegraphed back to the Baduhene and his people that idea of the Ewe Unification movement.

MR. E. AMU, secretary-general of the All-Ewe Conference, sent a telegram to the Governor of Togoland under French Trusteeship, Monsieur Digo, in Lome yesterday requesting an immediate clarification of the matter. A bearer has also been sent from here to go to Voga to gather first-hand information about the clash and its causes, and report to the All-Ewe Conference.

ELECTRIC ENGINES FOR GOLD COAST RAILWAYS

ACCRA., SUNDAY

THE Chief Mechanical Engineer of the Gold Coast Railways, Mr. O'Donnell, met the Joint Togoland Congress, of which Mr. George Regional President, held an all-night conference here last night to consider the steps they should take in the matter.

A spokesman of the Congress told the "Graphic" this morning: "We are against the attitude of the French Government in the matter. Ferdinand Kalepe is the eldest son of Chief Paul Kalepe and he is the rightful successor according to our custom. Justice must be done. We do not know why the French Government wants to force Jacob Kalepe on the people. We do not like the situation."

Unemployed Association presses for re-instatement

Sekondi, Sunday

The Unemployed Workers Association at a meeting held at Essikadu yesterday, passed a resolution to authorise Mr. Kwesi Lamptey, M.L.A. for Sekondi-Takoradi, Mr. Anthony Woode, M.L.A. for Sefwi and Mr. Pobee Biney, M.L.A. for Assin Upper-Denkyira, to take up the case of the dismissed workers with the Government in the Legislative Assembly. A telegram was also sent to the Leader of Government Business, Mr. Kwame Nkrumah, and the Minister of Health and Labour, Mr. K. A. Gbedemah, asking them for a complete re-evocation of the "probational period" clauses in Government re-engagement statements.

The telegram appealed to the two Ministers and to all Assemblymen to help re-instate the dismissed workers.

TRADE COMMISSIONER DUE HERE

Mr. Daniel Broad, United Kingdom Trade Commissioner for West Africa, whose headquarters are at Lagos, will arrive in Accra today on a short visit to the Gold Coast. He will stay for a week.

The United Kingdom Trade Commissioner's functions cover all subjects having any bearing on the development of British export trade with West Africa.

During this preliminary visit, Mr. Broad hopes to make contact with Government departments and with as many representatives of trading houses as possible to discuss how best he can be of assistance to this country.

Speaking on the relation of Togoland with the Gold Coast and the C.P.P., he said that he was not against the C.P.P but he was definitely against the policy being pursued by Mr. Kwame Nkrumah, in the Government of the Gold Coast.

Mr. Kojo Ayeku, the next speaker said that he agreed that Togoland should be federated with the Gold Coast on equal basis, and did not want the people of Togoland to become "hewers of wood and drawers of water" in the future.

Homowo Festival and worship of Laakpa Fetish
By Addo-Ayi Brown

TEN DAYS after the Ga Homowo Festival, the towns on the east coast of Accra—from Christiansborg to Ningo celebrate their Homowo Festival. It always falls on Tuesday.

With the exception of Labadi and Kpone, the ceremonies in these towns are similar to those in Accra. But Tema people follow the Lante-Dzanwe by celebrating it two weeks ahead of the Ga.

The celebration at Labadi is intermixed with the worship of the Laakpa Fetish. It is preceded by the custom of closing the roads on Monday. A ceremony which forbids noise and drumming of all kinds. The dead are hurriedly and quietly buried.

In performing this ceremony, the Laakpa priest starts with a hoe in his hand to imitate the action of hoeing the roads from the shrine of Laakpa to Osabunaa; the Osabu priest receives the hoe and likewise clears the road to Nyonmotsana at Kowe quarters and returns in the same manner to give the hoe to the Laakpa priest who continues hoeing to the starting place. This action is repeated three times. The Laakpa priest then dances alone before the drummers, followed by the manche and the elders. After that every one present enters the dance and a mixed crowd is then formed.

Headkerchiefes seized
Any head covering found on the head of a spectator is seized by the attendants of the priest and to redeem it a small sum of about 1d. or 3d. has to be paid.

In the evening the drums are returned to the shrine and are kept there until the following year.

Final prayers
On Friday, the manche and the elders and all the religious bodies meet again at Lumosisi, (manche quarters at Kowe). With a calabash of corn-wine, the Laakpa priest stands up and pours libation. He prays for prosperity good trade and justice, for workmen of all classes, and for increase in population and for the health of the people. He then asks for blessings for the manche and elders. The manche is also served with corn-wine and he pours libation too. Every one present is then served with corn-wine.

The state drums are brought out. All the religious bodies and the manche and elders form a procession and on grape-fruit juice which may be found in abundance in the country are but a few. Many kinds of fruits ripen and perish every year on plantations throughout the country. With proper planning they could be turned into money.

Ambitious farmers should approach the Department of Agriculture for advice as to how they could grow and ship their products abroad instead of allowing them to perish while they are in dire need of funds.

But the farmers must first learn to appreciate the fact that the age of one-man business has passed, and that to succeed men must co-operate and produce their goods on a much larger scale. Farmers who want to make good should therefore pool their resources. They must form co-operative societies or private or limited liability companies, and set to work in workmanlike manner. Then they must learn to wait for results.

Only in this way can the future of the farmers become brighter. Impatience will certainly do them no good.

kept at Osabu-naa, and is attended by all the religious bodies and the manche and elders. The priestesses become possessed and dance until daybreak.

Kkokpoi

On Tuesday, the usual Kpokpoi with palm oil soup is cooked, and eaten.

On the next Wednesday, the drums of the Fetish Laakpa are brought out. These drums are very uneven at the bottom and would not ordinarily stand upright without support, but the priests claim that at their command, the drums can stand upright. If they do stand without any support it is a sign that the coming year will be a prosperous one. It is a bad omen if they fail to stand at their command and in that case the priest pours libation and offers sacrifices to the gods.

Then comes the Laakpa dance. The priests, the priestesses, the singing band, the drummers with the drums, the manche and elders assemble at the shrine of the Laakpa fetish. The priestesses and the wife of the priest, called Asfeye, stand before the drummers. The Laakpa priest wearing only a loincloth of calico, his hair plaited in cones, a breast-plate of woven fibre on his neck, a small cap on his head and a cudgel in his hands takes his place by the priestesses, and at the beating of the drums the priest and all the people dance forwards, followed by the drummers and the singing band to people. He is named Agbugunte on this occasion. Spectators from Accra, Christiansborg and other towns usually attend the ceremony.

At the close of the dance, the manche and elders meet with the priestesses, Laa-se-koo, and the priestesses prophesy about the coming year. The elders then make requests for the forthcoming year. A week later, on Thursday the Laakpa dance is repeated but without the Agbugunte. This is the last beating of the drums. It is said that the Laakpa fetish greets his people for the last time.

Negro fund to aid students

American Negro professional men have started a fund to help all African students studying in America. The fund is meant to maintain the students during the long summer holidays. It will save the students from roaming about seeking jobs from employment agencies in the United States during that period.

An amount of £175:11s:6d has already been deposited in the Manufacturers Trust Company Bank in New York. The fund will depend solely on contributions made by men interested in the African student in the United States.

The fund known as “Ofori Owooh fund incorporated” was named after Professor Francis B. Ofori Owooh, a Gold Coast man, a former instructor of Psychology and Sociology in Talladega University College, Alabama.

DIRECTOR OF PRISONS VISITS SEKONDI

COLONEL H. C. Wheatley, Director of Prisons, has returned to Accra following a visit to Kumasi and Sekondi.

Recently a petition was sent to the Government through the Minister of Education and Social Welfare, by a delegation of the Ashanti Youth Association, headed by Mr. Krobo Edusei, M.L.A., for Kumasi, North-West.

The petition stated that Bediakwe and J. E. Januah, who are Under-Secretaries in the Government, and who have been sent to prison for contempt of court, should at least be given the amenities of lighting and soft beds to sleep on.

It pointed out that when the two men were being transferred from the Kumasi prisons to Sekondi, they were hand-cuffed. The cells at

ASANTEHEN

UNDER the presidency of the Asantehene, Nana Sir Osei Agyeman Prempeh, the Kumasi Divisional Council recently found the representatives of the Ekuona Youth Association guilty of having falsely accused the Asamanghene, Nana Kwaku Bugye and his elders of alleged violation of the great oath of Ashanti.

The president of the Association, Mr. Kofi Akowiah, told the Council that he gave evidence before the Native Courts Commission that no Native Court was needed in the Ekuona area at the moment. He said that all cases in the area would be sent to the Magistrate's Court.

The Asantehene told the two representatives of the Association, Mr. Kofi Akowiah and Mr. Kwame Moshi: “I am not going to accept anything from you, but remember me when you take over the administration of the local government in your area.”

Dr. Ansah Ko meets chiefs

Dr. Ansah Ko, Minister of Housing and Town, and Country Planning had discussions with the Larteh Divisional Chiefs at a meeting held at Larteh. The discussions were based mainly on the Local Government Council and their functions and relations with the New Juaben State.

The Chiefs asked the Doctor to communicate with them from time to time on local government problems.
Delegation of chiefs from Krachi will petition Government

A DELEGATION of three chiefs from North Krachi have arrived in Accra and they are to petition the Gold Coast Government to the effect that they should be taken away from the Gonjas with whom they have been incorporated.

The Chiefs, Nana Kojo Kuma, Najurohene; Nana Atorsa, Kpandalhene; and Anawamine, Blajaihene told a news conference that they are Akan people and have Akan customs and usages but that in 1935 they were compelled against their will to join the people of Kete-Krachi area who are Northern Territories people.

When they protested against their being forced to join the people who had different customs from their own they were not properly treated by the District Commissioners, they say.

The Blajaihene was about to be arrested by the District Commissioner at Salaga who was accompanied by Government and Native Authority policemen but he was not present when they arrived at his house. He has not since returned to Blajai.

The chiefs revealed that they wanted to be allowed to form their own Native Authority to collect their own revenue to improve their area. They had therefore vowed not to pay any more taxes into the Gonja Native Authority treasury.

They contended that they are Togolanders and would therefore like to have a place on the Buem-Krachi District Council. They said that they would ask the Government, in the meantime, to appoint a District Commissioner to supervise their affairs until the new local government has been set up.

“We have petitioned the Gold Coast Government on several occasions on this matter, but no action has been taken. We have been very unhappy under the Gonjas”, said Nana Kwadjo Kuma.

The chiefs said they were all members of the Convention People’s Party and would like the C.P.P. flag to be unfurled in their area.

They said that it was unnatural for the Government to rule them because the boundary

MINISTER WILL ATTEND LONDON TALKS

The Minister of Agriculture and Natural Resources, Mr. A. Caseley-Hayford, will leave Accra by air for England on September 8 to attend a cocoa conference which is being held in London on September 11.

While in England the Minister will have a very full programme and will visit a number of Agricultural, Forestry and Veterinary establishments including the Cambridge school of Agriculture, the Rothamsted Experimental Station, the National Institute of Agricultural Engineering at Selby and the Imperial Forestry Institute, Oxford.

USE OF CEMENT BAGS TO BE PROHIBITED

At the general monthly meeting of the Accra Town Council, Mr. R. H. Bennett, the President, introduced Mr. B.A. Batchlor to the members of the Council. Mr. Batchlor is the representative of the Director of Agriculture, (who will return after the Cocoa Conference) and by the Director of Agriculture, who is now on leave in the United Kingdom. He will return to the Gold Coast by air about September 22.
Chief priest ‘sweeps’ away all evils from state

The chief priest, Nii Bote Awili, poured libation when the Laakpa (Homowo) festival started at Labadi last week. Dressed in his traditional gown, Nii Awili performed the custom with a historic broom and “swept” away all evils from the state.

The La Manche, the Amankrado and other fetish priests joined in the festivities and danced while traditional drums were beaten.

USE OF CEMENT BAGS TO BE PROHIBITED

At the general monthly meeting of the Accra Town Council, Mr. R. H. Bennett, the President, introduced Mr. B.A. Batchelor to the members of the Council. Mr. Batchelor is the representative of the Chamber of Commerce in place of Mr. Frank Reed who is at present on leave in the United Kingdom.

The question of hawkers and the use of cement bags for wrapping food again came up for discussion. One of the Councillors suggested that the Council should provide paper to replace cement bags. From another Councillor came the suggestion that a law should be enacted against the use of cement bags for wrapping.

Other subjects discussed included the fire brigade, the levelling of the Makola Market, and the reclamation of the Korle Lagoon.

THE RIGHT HON. G. R. STRAUSS, MINISTER OF SUPPLY, OPENS BRITAIN'S NEWEST NATIONAL ASSET.

RECENTLY the Rt. Hon. G. R. Strauss, the Minister of Supply, performed the opening ceremony of the AUSTIN Motor Company's new Assembly Building at the Longbridge Works, Northfield, Birmingham.

The AUSTIN Company's new Assembly Plant provided something entirely new in British engineering technique and is nothing short of a Wellsian in conception.

Inside the vast assembly hall, three tracks, with room for a further one should it be necessary, extend the whole length of the building, a distance of some 1250 yards. These tracks are roofed over at varying points with complicated machinery which operates completely trimmed and polished bodies meet them, hanging in mid-air for a few seconds until mounting points exactly correspond, whereupon they are automatically dropped into position on the chassis. At this point skilled operatives using strategically placed batteries of air-operated hand tools complete the car assembly—whence the vehicles reach the end of the line as complete cars ready for final testing.

The site on which this new plant stands was originally a hill, and when designing the building it was necessary to cater for the reception of major assemblies from existing plants situated at a lower level. To this end a totally enclosed bridge was built from the lower building to lowered onto the assembly tracks. There are over sixteen miles of conveyors in the tunnel and assembly halls, with a total capacity of more than 700 tons.

All conveyors, together with tracks, hoists and electric tools are joined by some 100 miles of cable, involving 14,000 connections, direct to a control room. Should any fault occur in any part of the system its location is immediately indicated on panels by means of coloured buttons or flashing lights. The electrician in charge can then take immediate remedial action.

This then is a brief picture of the most modern car assembly factory in the world—typifying new ideas, new methods, new means of achieving maximum efficiency and eliminating as far as possible errors due to the human element.

This amazing new technique in automobile assembly methods does not mean speedier production nor cheaper cars. What it does mean is that an even better than ever AUSTINS—for many processes which previously were undertaken by hand are now achieved automatically, thus ensuring uniformity of precision to a degree hitherto

Competition in Extravagance

The present high cost of living is the product of a prematured civilisation, and an excessive anxiety and competition for extravagance.

The importers should not, in my opinion, be blamed. They have a difficult time in ordering their wares and it is only natural that they should, as I would if I were in their place, make as much profit as they can.

Every workman tries to make the best out of his employment and it is only the foolish importer who would not manage to sell his produce at a considerably high price while there is every hope of getting through with ease.

People in this country often buy things for which they have no immediate use. They are very extravagant and because they see a friend using a certain article they think they must also use it. When they have done this then they complain.

I agree in toto with the Minister of Commerce, Industry and Mines when he says “if you find that the prices of goods are high don’t buy them.”

Electric lights

At a recent meeting of the Oman of Asamankese with the District Commissioner, Mr. Kilbourne, the people learnt that Kibi has made representations in the Assembly that because it is the head of the State it should be considered first in the supply of electricity which was first promised to Asamankese. Here it seems that jurisdiction and paramountcy have been exercised as opposed to population, trade and revenue.

But the trade of Asamankese is heavier than that of Kibi and as such it will repay the cost of the plant when it is installed.

For this reason I would ask the Leader of Government to avoid irregularities in the accounting system.

Earlier during the day, Okyiambe Kojo Baafi of Offinsu, who spoke on behalf of the Offinsuhene refuted all the allegations made by the Sentinel Club against the Omanhene and denied he had received the sum of £10 from Yaw Asabere.

POLICE OVERPOWERED BY COLLEGIANS

Brilliant saves made by the Training College goalkeeper, E. M. A. Ablorh, placed his team on the lead when they met the Accra Police Team in a football match played at the College Park, Achimota, on Saturday. The result was one goal to nil against the Police.

The Police went straight on to the attack from the start and pressed very hard, but Amoah and Sarfoh, the backkeepers of the College team, put up a good defence.

The remaining fifteen minutes of the first half were in favour of the College team whose forwards dominated the scene with modern tactical combinations and harassed the Police goalie with many shots. No goal was scored during the first half.

During the second half of the match, both teams resumed with renewed vigour. The College team, however, took up the challenge at this stage and pressed harder until they succeeded in scoring the only goal of the match through their outside right M. K. Assihine.

RICHARD ARMAH, fighting for only the second time this year, got away to a very bad start against Alex Buxton in their eight round top-of-the-ball fight at the Mile End Arena, London, on Tuesday evening.

After the first few seconds of sizing each other up, Buxton launched a strong two-handed attack, and had Armah covering up. Armah only came out of his shell twice in round Buxton continued to carry the fight and by the end of round three Armah had his left eye swollen and closing. Buxton seemed the harder...

At the beginning of round five Armah and Buxton stood toe to toe in a terrific slugging match, but it was Armah who came off worst. Soon after this a vicious left hook by Buxton opened a cut over Armah's right eye. The referee stopped the fight to examine the eye, then awarded the fight to Buxton.

Earlier in the programme Gold Coast welterweight Santos Martin fought a drawn contest with Lew Lazar of Aldgate, London, over six rounds. Martin and Lazar presented a strong contrast both in appearance and style. Martin is rather short for a welter and very stockily built, while Lazar is tall and slim. Lazar's tactics were to keep the fight at long-range, where his longer reach would gain him the points. Martin's tactics were to back away then suddenly go in with a two-handed attack.

Martin was slightly more successful, but many of his punches were delivered with such speed that they lacked power, and some of them were more slaps than punches. The referee warned him of this at one stage.

When the referee announced a draw at the end, the crowd booted the decision, recolling that the Gold Coaster had done enough to record a win over the local boy.

The Lebanese Consul in the Gold Coast, Mr. E. Raffoul, was at the Arabian Sports Association Ground, Adabraka, on Saturday to witness a basketball match between the Arabian Sports Association and the European staff of the C.F.A.O. The Arabian team won the match by 49 points to 22.

The Arabian team led right from the start to finish. At the end of the first half the Arabians had 22 points and the French 16 points. The second half saw the Arabians still masters of the field, and they increased their score by 27 points while the French had 6 points.

Nearly 200 spectators watched the match.
Telegrams of protest against French Governor

Lome, Wednesday

MR. SYLVANUS E. OLYMPIO, District Manager of U.A.C. and Leader of the Unite Togolaïse in French Togoland, told a “Graphic” reporter here that he had despatched several telegrams to many parts of the world protesting against the “maladministration” of the French Governor, M. Digo.

“I have learnt that the Governor is always sent to places where the people are clamouring for independence so that he may suppress them; but we shall not allow such things to prevail here,” he added.

The following statement has been issued by the French Authorities concerning recent events in Voga:

Since the death of the Chief of the Canton of Voga, a big village of about 20,000 inhabitants in French Togoland, a certain local committee has stirred up some agitation.

In the early hours of Thursday, August 23, a gendarme stationed at Voga having noticed that the telephone line had been cut and that the agitation was growing informed the Commandant de Cercle. Police reinforcements which were sent up were attacked and several policemen wounded. While awaiting new reinforcements the platoon of Many chiefs in the Akim Abuakwa State have been arriving here since Friday to express their sympathies to the Asamamahene, Nana Owusu Agyepong, whose Ahensie was looted last Thursday.

Barima Boateng Sekyerehene II, Pomasehene, on a visit here yesterday, told Nana Agyepong not to think "too much about the horrible incident" as he said, it would send him "very early to the grave."

Among other chiefs who have visited Nana Agyepong are, Nana Kwabena Kenah, Adontehene of Kukurantumi; Nana Twum Ampofo, Nifa-\n hene of Asiakwa; Nana Kofi Mpon, Baamuahene of Kibi, Okyeyame Ampofo, who was sent by the elders of Kibi and the Odikro of Anyinam and his elders who also arrived here today.

Nana Owusu Agyepong told a "Graphic" reporter that he contemplates repairing the Ahensie when "all the trouble is over." Meanwhile, many parts of the house which received severe damage have been repaired with swiftness.

NEW DEAL’ AIMS AND OBJECTS APPROVED

Accra, Wednesday

THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY today has approved the aims and objects of the Government’s “New Deal” in respect of the Cocoa Industry Reconstruction. Voluntary cutting out now and most likely Hannane treatment in the future are methods to be used by the Government to fight Swollen Shoot.

The Government aims at setting aside the sum of £500,000 for experimental purposes in the use of the systematic insecticide, the Hannane, which has been proved scientifically to be effective in killing the mealy bug, the insect responsible for the spread of the virus disease known as swollen shoot.

To operate this experiment on a large scale a Government farm in Ashanti will be placed at the disposal of the Pest Control Limited, Mr. Casely Hayford, Minister of Agriculture and Natural Resources told the House.

The fight against the swollen shoot contemplated by the Government will also be by voluntary cutting out. Even if the insecticide was to be used effectively the treated trees would have to be cut out. The cost of treatment by the insecticide the Minister said continued on page 9.

New slaughterhouse for Tarkwa opened

The new slaughterhouse at Tarkwa, built for £3,950 with funds provided by the District Development Committee, has been opened. The opening ceremony was attended by the Senior District Commissioner, the Omanhene of Wassa Flasi, Nana Kwamina Enimil IV, and the Serlikin Zongo.

The slaughterhouse is a spacious building and is provided with all the necessary equipment. Outside the building is a well, worked by a pump connected to an overhead tank. This ensures that water is available for washing out the building.

The slaughterhouse is a new building is one of the many projects which the Tarkwa District Committee has carried out since its establishment in 1949.

FESTIVAL OF MUSIC AND DANCE

‘We of the Gold Coast are an ambitious people’

African song (as far as is possible); primary schools will sing only African songs. The other items in the programme are (1) Drama: any one act play in a Gold Coast language, (2) African Drum Orchestra, (3) Original African Music composition (4) Traditional Dancing by small group of dancers. There will also be competitions in pianoforte String Instruments, Wind Instruments, Dance Bands and Orchestras, Ball Room Dancing and Camp Fire Entertainments.

I am sure many a gifted person has as yet not come forward or had a chance; and as Gray says;

“Full many a gem of purest ray serene,
The dark unfathomed caves of ocean bear
Full many a flower is born to blush unseen
And waste its sweetness on the desert air.”

Shall it be so? No. We are...
The age of biliousness and cultural treasure. Tho men of the age of compulsory education is because of the acute shortage of buildings and teachers.

But, queerly enough, the Minister has announced that taxation will be imposed "side by side" with the implementation of the scheme.

At the present moment there are thousands of children of school-going age whose parents are unable to find accommodation for them in the existing schools. Yet Mr. Kojo Botsio proposed to add to the burden of these people by imposing extra taxation on them. What injustice!

What the country needs at the present moment is more educational facilities for all children. This means that we must have more buildings and more teachers. Then the next step should be compulsory education for every child. It is only at this stage that the Minister would be justified in imposing taxation indiscriminately. For the present it would be more equitable if those parents who benefit should pay.

"Free" education should be for all or none.

CULTURAL TREASURE

We are on the threshold of great happenings, and must show the world the treasures of our culture. For this reason the National Festival aims at tapping hidden talent and encouraging every community of every locality to express its individuality and its culture for the enrichment of the nation's life and as a contribution to world civilization.

The Festival spirit will touch every corner of the country. Every community will portray its traditions and culture in the Festival.

Let us now look at the Festival in some detail. Because of its magnitude, the Festival will be held during the first half of next year, 1952. There will be the competitive as well as the non-competitive elements. The Festival is being organised at three levels of competition: the District, the Regional and the Final competitions.

The District Competitions will tap the remotest village or cottage and will be held in January.

The Regional Competitions will include the best performers at the District Competitions and will be held in February in Accra, Kumasi, Tamale, Cape Coast and Ho.

The final Competitions will be held in Accra towards the end of April and will include the best performers at the Regional Competitions. All these competitions will cups, sculls, statuettes, medals, prizes, certificates and souvenirs will be distributed.

The organisation of this National Festival is in the hands of the Festival Board which consists of twenty-two members representing a cross section of the community, both African and European.

DIFFERENT ITEMS

Now that I say a word about the programme of the different items or events, I wish to make it clear that we lay strong emphasis on the indigenous African element throughout this National Festival. All singers will be required to sing at least one

Akpini Youth Association petition Government

THE ACCRA BRANCH of the Akpini Youth Association, in a letter forwarded to the Minister of Local Government, Mr. E. O. Asafu-Adjaye, have made a “3-point suggestion” relating to the proposed local government reforms to be effected in the Gold Coast next year.

The “3-point suggestion” urged that (1) all autonomous groups in Togoland under United Kingdom Trusteeship should have village committees; (2) these village committees should be given extended powers to direct views with resolutions and memoranda to the Local Councils; and (3) the local government set-up should ensure the representation of composite parts of Local Authorities, or village committees, or the various Local Councils.

These suggestions are based on assessments of local talents which could be found in the more enlightened form for good local authority”, the Association stressed.

The Association also requested the Minister to explain whether the establishment of the village committees would be based on population or on territorial loyalty; what their basic powers would be; and what would be the relationship between the village committees and the Local Councils regarding higher level discussion of views of the village committees.

The Association finally claimed that their suggestions were very urgent “especially in Togoland under United Kingdom Trusteeship, where prior to Capt. Lilley’s Amalgamation Programme, each Division was virtually independent, dealing directly through the Divisional Chief with the District Commissioners.”
WINDING UP THE DEBATE on free and social welfare said at the assembly primary schools would rest with the now.

Regional Director holds conference
Mr. C. H. Whistler, the Regional Director of the British Council, held a two-day conference with about 25 people when he visited Techiman area. The discussions were based mainly on Local Government in the United Kingdom.

Accompanied by Mr. K. Asante, the Mass Education Officer, Mr. Whistler toured the neighbouring villages and had discussions with the villagers.

Among the places he visited were Bamirji, Odumasi and Nkwabeng where he congratulated the inhabitants for appointing a committee to organise voluntary labour for the improvement of the town. His last place of call was the Sesemapa area of Nkora where the construction of a concrete water tank which will supply the villagers with clean water was in progress.

Musama Disco Christo Church celebrates anniversary

THE ANNIVERSARY of the Musama Disco Christo Church which commenced on August 24 at Gomoa Eshlem will end tomorrow.

On Saturday August 25, an inspirational sermon was preached by the Prophet M. Moses Jehu-Appiah to a gathering of about 12,000 members and sympathisers of the church.

Before delivering his sermon, the Prophet welcomed the congregation and announced that the Angel Shouel, who led the Israelites from Egypt, had descended upon the country with his light of emancipation. Peeping into the future, the Prophet said that the church would flourish as well as all African enterprises and organisations. He prophesied the dawn of religious and political freedom in the country. He then asked the prophet Jemiru to pray for the welfare of Mr. Kwame Nkrumah, Leader of Government Business.

He ended the sermon by appealing to all present to march abreast together in faith, hope and charity "until Aluniasatu echoes from behind the narrow gate and this we shall call the 'JOH.'"

The M.D.C. Church means the Army of the Cross of Christ. It is a spiritual church which depends solely upon divine healing and it is purely African.

The church was started in October 1922 by late Prophet Jemisemihuah Jehu-Appiah with seven people. It was first known as Faith Society. Jemisemihuah Jehu-Appiah was a Methodist Catechist at Gomua Oguan. The elders of the town who were then not familiar with his church compelled the society to quit the town.

Fiaso-Mpohor votes money for education

The Wassa Fiaso-Mpohor Sub-Native Authority Council decided at its last meeting held at Tarkwa, to include to the sum of £2,000 in their current estimates for educational work in the area.

The different educational units in the state will receive £5,102 out of this amount for the maintenance of their schools, £1,320 for the salaries of teachers in the Simpa, Sekyere Krobo and Tarkwa Native Authority schools. The remaining £420 will be granted as scholarship to boys and girls to approved Secondary schools and Training Colleges.

BATE on free education, Mr. Kojo Botsio, the Minister of Education at the Assembly yesterday that the responsibility for opening rest with the Local Authorities. He said that a start should be made and that teachers would soon be available and suitable accommodation.

Mr. Kwesi Lamptey, M.L.A. for Sekondi-Takoradi pointed out that what the Government had prepared may be entirely wrong in the end. He felt that the plan had been unduly hastened.

"We are not against free education, but since more money comes from the rural areas than from the towns the establishment of free primary education in the rural areas must be given prior consideration," he added.

The Government should try to achieve a method of justice in their educational policy.

On the subject of teacher-training courses, Mr. Lamptey said that the Government should not throw the missions overboard. He said that a large part of the teacher-training programme should be handed over to the missions.

"The Government does not belong to one man. It belongs to all of us, and therefore in debating such an important subject the Government front-benchers should not ignore useful suggestions.

The Rev. I. D. Osabutey-Aguedze, M.L.A. for Ga-Adangme said that the problem of the philosophy of education has been facing this country for many years, and still facing us today. He said that he did not want the mission schools to be abolished, but a modification of their influence should be made.

He congratulated the missionaries for the great work they had done for the people of this country, for, he emphasised, they had trained us and made us what we are today.

Yakubu Tali, Chief Tali Na said that the people of the Northern Territories understood the free education programme to mean that every child who went to school would have everything free. He said that if the Government would follow the practice prevailing in the Northern Territories then he would support them.

SELF-HELP WILL ENHANCE PROGRESS

It has become the habit of certain Clubs, Youth Movements and Organisations to forward resolutions to the government asking that their town should be improved.

There is the old adage "Heaven helps those who help themselves." At a time when this country is striving hard to achieve self-government, each and everyone of us must not depend upon his neighbour when doing anything.

As a youth of Agona Swedru and as one who has the welfare of his state at heart, I suggest that my people should set themselves to hard work by cultivating the vast forest land lying idle in the state. By doing this, our progress will be more enhanced, and more over, we shall be contributing our quota in the food production drive.

Having accomplished this, we must rest assured that our town will be commercially important and people from different parts of the country will come to buy foodstuffs. The large influx of people into this town will mean the construction of more and better roads to ease transportation.

Until Kruschen removed his RHEUMATISM

Here is a man whose life was made miserable by rheumatism. It attacked his arms so badly that he could hardly use them. He was told how to get relief and today he is quite better. We are glad to publish his own words because they may help others who are going through the same misery.

"I had been suffering from rheumatism very badly and had such pain in my arms I scarcely knew how to use them. Then I was told to use Kruschen Salts, and after using one bottle, I found relief. So of course, I kept on using it, and now I am thoroughly better and have never felt so fit for years." - S.B.

Kidneys and bowels are not working properly. They become very sluggish, there is a lack of the flow of blood, rheumatisation is caused by the influence of silicon and causes the stiffness and pains. Kruschen Salts stimulate the kidneys and act on the bowels in a way which makes them work as Nature intended. Excess uric acid is then cleared out of the body. This relieves the pain, eases the stiff-ness and brings back the flow of an active, energetic life.

OLYMPIC ATHLETES

It is not true that athletes have been selected for the 1952 Olympic games. The team will have to be selected by the Central Board of the Gold Coast Amateur Athletic Association during the next athletic season. But before a person is selected, the Board must be satisfied that he has attained a high degree of competency.

At present five Accra sprinters are undergoing a vigorous training. But this does not mean that they have been selected. In the same way there are athletes in different parts of the country who are up to the Olympic standard: They are, C. Vandyck and G. W. Acquaah. Since no selections have been made, the way is therefore open for all ambitious youths to prove themselves equal to the task.

Williams will meet Gardner for British heavyweight crown

JOHNNY WILLIAMS has been nominated by the British Boxing Board of Control as leading contender for the British heavyweight title, and he is to meet Jack Gardner, the present holder of the title, probably on October 29.

Williams met Gardner at Leicester last July, but that was an eliminating bout. Gardner subsequently became British and Empire champion by beating Bruce Woodcock and European title holder by defeating Joe Weidin. Jack will go to Germany to defend his European title against Heinten Hoffon on September 22, after which he will be ready to meet Williams. Jack will play against the Dagomba district lawn tennis clubs in December. The North-West Group consists of the towns of Wa, Tumu and Lawra; and the members of the committee are Mr. O. Otchere, president of Wa Social Centre, as chairman; Mr. R. E. Amegbe, captain of Wa Tennis Club, as secretary; Mr. D. Bagolari, treasurer of Wa Tennis Club, as treasurer; Mr. T. A. Bois, Mr. I. F. Afful, Mr. Aido Kantor, Mr. J. A. Sacker, Mr. W. A. Crofie and Mr. C. K. Binni as members.

Since losing to Gardner a year ago, Williams has shown improved punching power. His best performance was the defeat of Weidin in six rounds. He has also gained victories over Aaron Wilson and Reg Andrews.

Northerners organise lawn tennis

A Committee of the North-West Sports Group of the Northern Territories has been appointed to make all necessary arrangements for training in lawn tennis in order that a team might be selected to play against the Dagomba district lawn tennis clubs in December. The North-West Group consists of the towns of Wa, Tumu and Lawra; and the members of the committee are Mr. O. Otchere, president of Wa Social Centre, as chairman; Mr. R. E. Amegbe, captain of Wa Tennis Club, as secretary; Mr. D. Bagolari, treasurer of Wa Tennis Club, as treasurer; Mr. I. A. Bois, Mr. I. F. Afful, Mr. Aido Kantor, Mr. J. A. Sacker, Mr. W. A. Crofie and Mr. C. K. Binni as members.

It is the intention of the North-West Sports Group to organise inter-zonal tournaments in the Northern Territories, but for sometime past the group has been organising inter-town matches. At the week-ending, August 4 to 7, the Wa Club holds matches.
Twenty-eight teams join Sports Association

Twenty-eight teams have enrolled as members of the newly formed Amateur Sports Association.

The Association has 4½

The 28 teams are divided into eight groups of three, each group having a home team. The Association is organized as follows:

The eight groups are:

Group A:
1. Accra High School
2. Ghana International School
3. Thomas College

Group B:
1. St. Joseph's School
2. Holy Family School
3. Tamale High School

Group C:
1. W.A.S.A. School
2. Queen Elizabeth School
3. Gambia High School

Group D:
1. Presbyterian School
2. Wesley Girls' School
3. Methodist School

Group E:
1. Three Kings School
2. Roman Catholic School
3. St. Mary's School

Group F:
1. Cape Coast Girls' School
2. Cape Coast Boys' School
3. Cape Coast Technical School

Group G:
1. Sekondi Technical School
2. Takoradi Girls' School
3. Takoradi Boys' School

Group H:
1. Koforidua Girls' School
2. Koforidua Boys' School
3. Koforidua Technical School

The teams will play a round-robin system, with each team playing every other team in its group. The top team in each group will then advance to the knockout stage, where the teams will be seeded based on their group performance.

The final four teams will then play a semi-final stage, with the top two teams advancing to the final. The final will be played in November, with the winning team being awarded a trophy.

The Association has also planned a series of tournaments and events throughout the year, with the aim of promoting amateur sports in the country.
DISPENSERS CAN BE MEDICAL ASSISTANTS

NURSE-DISPENSERS and pharmacists who have to their credit at least seven years' experience will now be allowed to practise as medical assistants under the supervision of a duly qualified medical practitioner. This was the result of a motion tabled in the Legislative Assembly today by Mr. J. K. A. Quashie, M.L.A. for Anlo, and carried.

Mr. Quashie's motion stated that in view of the fact that there was an acute shortage of duly qualified medical practitioners in the Gold Coast, the ratio being 1 to 37,500 of the population, and that there being no certainty that the situation would be improved within the next ten years, a provision be inserted in the Medical Practitioners and Dentists Ordinance to allow this practice.

Mr. Quashie said that anything second-rate was good enough for the Gold Coast. He cited a statement made by the Leader of Government Business, Mr. Kwame Nkrumah, that poor education was better than nothing.

He said that he knew of dispensers in the Civil Service who had acted efficiently in the absence of the Medical officers. He said that there were other pharmacists in the country, especially in the rural areas who were doing as much as a doctor could do. He said that these pharmacists could diagnose diseases as a result of their community in the capacity of a doctor. He said that he owned his membership of the Assembly to the good services that he rendered as a medical assistant to the people of Agona constituency.

Mr. Ohene Djan, Ministerial Secretary to the Ministry of Finance in supporting the motion said that if pupil teachers would be allowed to play an important part in the educational scheme then "pupil doctors", as he termed the pharmacists, should be allowed to ease the strain on the shortage of doctors in the country.
"HE GAVE FALSE EVIDENCE"...

Opanin Kwame Milkie, otherwise known as Kwame Abadoo, ex-chief of Akram Pam in Assin Attandase State, is alleged to have confessed that he gave false evidence against Nana Sir Tsibu Darku during the Commission of Inquiry last month into allegations of fraud and dishonesty on the part of Sir Tsibu.

A description of how Milkie is alleged to have made his confession was given to the "Graphic" in a signed statement by Opanin Kwame Gyamera of Katakyiasa.

Gyamera declares in his statement:

"On Sunday, August 20, Kwame Milkie came to me here, accompanied by Kwame Amu, Abusupnan Dade. We met at the house of the Odikro (Chief Anyimadu) at about 9 a.m. About 30 people gathered to listen.

"Milkie said that the charge which they preferred against Nana Tsibu Darku, that he had misused the sum of £35 (being the amount paid by me to be paid to Milkie) was a false charge.

"Milkie said that he ought to pay this amount of £35 to me. He said they had misrepresented the facts of the case to the Commissioner of the Inquiry and therefore they had come to beg me to forgive them and to reduce the amount they had to pay. "We agreed to reduce the £35 to £16 which they agreed to pay.

"After we finished this matter they presented one bottle of brandy to the Odikro and his elders and insisted on thanking them for having witnessed the settlement of the case.

"The Odikro told Milkie that as he had now confessed that the charge was false then he must slaughter a sheep, but Milkie begged and was forgiven."

Mr. K. A. Gbedemah, the Minister of Health and Labour opposing the motion said that if it was allowed to pass, the standard of the medical profession would be lowered. He said that if dispensers had in the past been practising almost as doctors it was a breach of the law. He suggested that the motion should be amended to give the government an opportunity of considering how best pharmacists and dispensers could be made medical assistant's. The amendment was lost by 31 votes to 27.

YOUTH AND ELDERS WANT COURT TO BE REOPENED

THE ELDERS and youths of the Native Authority here have petitioned the Chief Commissioner of Ashanti, Mr. W. H. Beeton, asking that the Native Court which was closed down in 1934 as a result of a political misunderstanding should be re-opened.

The petition explained that in view of the large size of the town with many villages around, it would serve as a medium whereby the chief who is the Benkumhene of Adansi could bring about a peaceful settlement in the event of any outbreak of disorder.

It concluded that the town had been denied a native court for a considerable length of time, and as such a great injustice would have been done to the inhabitants here, if the Commissioner failed to give the matter the due consideration it deserved.

A petition was also despatched to the Commissioner of Police asking for an establishment of a sub-Police Station here as great damage was being done to life and property.

Among the signatories of the petition were Nana Okai Ababio, and Kofi Darkwa, Abontendomhene.

Electrical Contractors want recognition

The Executive committee of the Electrical Contractors Association, Sekondi-Takoradi, in a letter sent to the Minister of Communications and Works, Mr. J. A. Brimah, asked that their Association should be recognised by the Government in order that they might have the opportunity of arranging for contracts not being carried out by the Electrical Department.

The letter revealed that the Association was a responsible body whose objects were to attain a high standard of workmanship among the electrical contractors in the Gold Coast.

NEW £15,000 CHURCH TO BE BUILT

Members of the local Roman Catholic Church are rendering voluntary services once each week in the construction of a new £15,000 church, work on which was started about two months ago.

The church which is situated behind the chief’s palace was designed by the Rev. Father Joseph Jud, a Swiss engineer and architect. He will also build the church with the assistance of Brother Baldricur, a well-known blacksmith and tinsmith.

TARKWA chief of the Nzima Community, Siml Mozu died here. His body was taken to his hometown, Eslama, where several people attended his funeral.

JUANSI District Commissioner Mr. F. H. Goodwin met the chiefs of Ashanti Akim here and explained to them in detail the local government reforms.

Children should be trained to be responsible citizens

By MARY YARQUAH

CONSIDERING THE RAPID changes that are taking place in the Gold Coast relative to their corresponding responsibilities for the future, it has at once become urgent that parents should train their children in such a way that will build them up to become respectful and responsible citizens, having decent moral standards.

The development of good moral is very necessary because a lady or a gentleman without moral discipline is like a garden without flowers or a well dressed pig rolling in mud.

These children must be taught to respect their elders and to be courteous, when speaking to those older than themselves. They must be encouraged to be obedient, observant and dutiful.

But these are not all. It is the duty of mothers to train their children by means of suggestions which indirectly urge these kiddies to do things desired by their parents. Performance of house duties should be so introduced as to form a source of joy and satisfaction to the young, giving encouragement, whenever necessary, to accomplish difficult assignments.

The training of girls calls for exceptional care and specific objectives. Mothers must teach them how to maintain a house, to be industrious and equip themselves against running their own homes in married life.

The boys on the other hand, must be taught to be smart, tidy, serviceable and in the training of their children. Instead of checking them whenever they acted rudely, they rather quarrel with these young ones who freely though undesirably, exchange words with their daddies and mummies. These quarrels are uncalled for, and often act as sources of incitement which encourage the young ones to be disrespectful wherever respect should be desired. They encourage the development of quick and bad temper-peculiarities that make the children social misfits. I wish to make good

AKUA ASAABEA WILL STUDY JOURNALISM

MISS AKUA ASAABEA, 21, Private Secretary to the Minister of Town and Country Planning, Dr. Amsah Kol, left here today for Takoradi where she will embark on the s.s. “Canada” for the United Kingdom.

While in England, Miss Asaabea will take a course in journalism and a practical course for political secretaries at St. Godric’s College, London in 1954. On Monday, presentations were offered to her at a send-off party given in her honour at the Gold Coast Hospital.
WOMEN ATTEND COURSE

Over thirty women from various women's classes of the Presbyterian Church in Ashanti are attending a ten-day course at Mampong in Ashanti.

The course is being held under the auspices of the Presbyterian Church of the Gold Coast.

The scheme of work includes ten lectures on domestic science, house-keeping, farming, marriage and the relationship between school and home. The programme also provides for needle-work, housecraft, cookery and general education.

use of this opportunity to warn parents against quarrelling with their children for it does not give them good training; it rather helps develop a bad and objectionable character.

Again, parents must be on the look out and forbid their sons and daughters to associate with thick-skinned rascally playmates who take keen delight in playing ball in the streets as we often see in Accra. A practice such as this has but one consequence—unexpected accidents. Such habits should be discouraged by mindful parents with a view to keeping death off the roads.

Dr. Busia congratulates Government on new educational plan

Accra, Thursday

ASKING FOR THE House’s approval of “the aims and objectives set out in the Development Plan” at the Legislative Assembly here yesterday, Mr. Kwame Nkrumah, Leader of Government Business, said that the present Government was determined to steer clear through all limitations and see to the implementation of all the schemes in the Development Plan.

Mr. Nkrumah said that chapter by chapter, the Assembly had discussed and accepted the aims and objects of the plan and that the sense of urgency was perverting Government’s intentions to begin work on the schemes laid down in the plan.

He then quoted from a recent publication in the “Financial Times” of London which stated: “Colonial Development schemes have unhappily come to be associated in the public mind with the fiascos of groundnuts and Gambian eggs. The publication of a plan for the social and economic development of the Gold Coast, set out in cautious and measured terms, is therefore a refreshing change”.

The motion for the approval of the aims and objectives set out in the plan was unanimously carried.

Earlier, the Minister of Education and Social Welfare, Mr. Kojo Botsio, had moved that “the Government’s Plan for a mass education campaign be approved in principle and that the approval of the Standing Finance Committee be sought for the provision of the funds which would be required during the current financial year for carrying out the plan”.

Explaining the aim of the motion, the Minister said that the scheme consisted of two major parts: firstly, the drive for mass literacy and secondly, community development. He pointed out that the success of the scheme would depend on the co-operation of various organisations in the country.

Many members spoke highly of the new mass education campaign. Dr. Busia congratulated the Government and said that the scheme was the best that the Government has ever presented before the House. He said the mass literacy and mass education campaign was a dynamic force towards the progress of the Gold Coast.

British mountain climbing experts are making a new attempt to scale Mount Everest next month. The leader of this British Everest Expedition, Mr. Eric Shipton, arrived in Delhi on August 19 by air on his way to Nepal.

He said that the party hopes to start their climb by September 20. This would allow six weeks good weather after the monsoon and before the winter blizzards begin. All previous attempts to scale Mount Everest have been made before the monsoon season.

Graham Worthington receives I. S. O.

ON BEHALF of His Majesty the King, the Governor, Sir Charles Arden Clarke, presented the Imperial Service Order medal to Mr. Graham Worthington, Head of the Government Printing Department, who is due to leave the country on retirement.

The ceremony took place at the Printing Department offices and was watched by over 300 people including the staff of the Department.

Mr. Worthington came to the Gold Coast on transfer from Nigeria in 1943, as Superintendent of the Department.

A send-off party was held in his honor at Mr. Eddy Laryea's house on Saturday to which Mr. R. H. Sa'oway, Minister of Defence and External Affairs and Mr. M. Collers, Commissioner of Police, were invited.

The education campaign was a dynamic force towards the progress of the Gold Coast.

FAIR TRIAL

Dr. Busia pointed out that the Government had shelved all difficulties in the various plans they had tackled, but it had not been done so in the case of the mass education scheme as all the difficulties had been set out in the plan and faced boldly. He however, wanted to know from the Minister, what provision the Government would make for children between six and 15 years, who would not get admission to the Free Education scheme, and who would not come to the class of people aged over 16 years who would benefit from the mass education campaign.

The Konor of Manya Krobo, Nene Mate Kole, said that the criticisms made by Dr. Busia were an indication that the members of the Assembly intended to give the new constitution a very fair trial, and work in the best interest of the country.

The Tali Na, said that the Government should subsidise the mass literacy and mass education campaign very heavily in the Northern Territories.

Dr. J. B. Danquah suggested that the Government should make a survey of all educated men from the Northern Territories in the various departments, so that more men could be got to help in the campaign as mass education officers. The motion was carried unanimously.
CHIEFS DISCUSS RESOLUTION PASSED BY ASAFO COMPANIES

Twifu, Thursday.

NANA KWESI BAIDOO III, the Paramount Chief of the Twifu State and over 30 divisional chiefs and elders of the State met here yesterday, to discuss resolutions passed by the Asafo Companies for the destoolment of the Omanhene, and five of his divisional chiefs.

Copies of the resolution which had been sent to the Governor Sir Charles Arder-Clarke, Mr. Kwame Nkrumah, Leader of Government Business, and Mr. Asafu-Adjaye, Minister of Local Government, demanded that Government should no more recognise Nana Kwesi Baidoo III as the Paramount Chief of the Twifu State because he had been destooled, but they should approve the enstoolment of Nana Apiah Nuemah as the new Paramount Chief.

Another resolution which was also discussed by the meeting requested that the five new chiefs who have been enstooled in place of the destooled ones should be recognised by the Government.

The events which led to the destoolment of the Omanhene and his divisional chiefs were narrated to a “Graphic” reporter in an interview with Nana Kwesi Baidoo III yesterday.

He said that at a previous State Council meeting held at Twifu Mampong, a group of young men surrounded the Council Hall and demanded from him a statement of the levy he had been collecting from the people.

The Omanhene said that Mr. D. P. Trip, the District Commissioner who was then present at the meeting appealed to the people to find a clerk, who could go to audit the accounts for them. But all that some of the young men could do was to hoot at the District Commissioner and tell him that they wanted the accounts from the Omanhene and not a white man, said the Omanhene.

WE DO NOT INTEND TO STAY IN DANGBE CONFEDERACY

Mr. E. A. Ackam, president of the Great Ningo Youth Association, told a “Graphic” reporter that it was wrong to maintain that Great Ningo was remaining a member of the Dangbe Confederacy after the setting up of local government under the new constitution.

Mr. Ackam denied the report that the Ningo Manche had intimated that he would not have any objection, however, to joining a District Council with other states.

“We have experienced from the same local government with Prampram or Kpone. We would have no objection, however, to joining a District Council with other states,” Mr. Ackam added.

INQUIRY INTO SUIPE SHOOTING BEGINS

"FIRING WAS RESORTED TO AFTER VIOLENT ATTACK BY MOB" -- GRIMOLOBOY

MR. J. M. L. PEAKE, the Assistant District Commissioner of Keta at the time of the Suipe shooting incident, and the first man to give evidence before the inquiry which began on Tuesday, said that he was the registration officer for the Anlo Electoral District which he had divided into 198 sub-districts under assistant registration officers.

Mr. Peake said that while he was on trek on October 31, 1950, the senior assistant registration officer, Mr. C. A. Needham, complained to him of how assistant registration officers under him, had been driven out of Suipe where they had gone to explain the registration procedure. Earlier, Mr. Peake had said that according to the registration ordinance of 1950, the payment of annual levy was one of the conditions which qualified a person to register as a voter in the rural areas. But, he said, for years the payment of the levy had been a point of great discussion in the Anlo State and at some places, registration was suspected to be chiefly concerned with levy.

MR. NEEDHAM ASSAULTED

Mr. B. E. Allen, the then Assistant Superintendent of Police at Keta, reported to him on November 2, that Mr. Needham had been assaulted by the Suipes. He therefore called a meeting of the Anlo State Chiefs including the Awadada of Anlo, Chief Antonio II, the police had come to make investigations. They, however, became more aggressive and he read the riot act, which was translated into Ewe, twice. He did not see the shooting because the police had gone away. When asked by the Commissioner, Mr. Peake denied that he was in command of the police.

STOPPED BY MOB

Mr. J. E. Ababio, who was the Police-Inspector at Keta, and who is now at Saltpond, was the next witness. He said that he went to Suipe on November 3, with 12 policemen to arrest five people for assault. A mob of 60 people stopped them when they were returning with the prisoners to Keta and forced their release. Again he went to Suipe on November 5, to identify these men and to re-arrest the prisoners.

He said that on November 4, he was informed by Mr. Peake that the Suipes had assaulted Police Superintendent Ababio and he sent messengers to bring the Suipes in order to question their conduct. On the following day he saw Mr. Peake and other policemen at Avenor in the morning and later on heard that they had proceeded to Suipe.

Corporal Peter Nwo Atigah who accompanied Mr. Grimokey with two other Escort Police Corporals said that he was an Ewe man and when the shooting occurred he heard the mob shout, "we are not retreat; let what will be, be; but let us get hold of the white man first." He said that a spear was thrown at him which hit his left heel and a cutlass was used in cutting his cape. After this Mr. Grimokey ordered them to fire.

"Judging from the attitude of the mob, we would have been 'finished' to death, if Mr. Grimokey did not take the initiative to give an order," he added.

Corporals Salifu Dagarti and Kwashie Gbongli both corroborated the evidence of Atigah. Salifu added that Mr. Grimokey ordered him to fire five rounds but could not say whether his shots wounded anybody.
Gbadago of Attiave, and told them that the police were going to take action over the assault at Sulpe which he said occurred on November 3. He was later informed that the police were forced to release the men they had arrested, by the Sulpes. Mr. Allen then informed him that Mobile Police-men would arrive at the Telle ferry at midnight on November 4. He went with Mr. Allen to meet the force under the command of Mr. J. S. Grimoloby and they went to Sulpe to arrest those who had forced the police to release the prisoners, and to re-arrest the prisoners.

VILLAGERS ARMED

The Sulpe villagers armed with spears, cudgels and guns were excited at the sight of the police and started shouting and yelling. He asked them to be quiet and to disperse because "Firing was only resorted to after the police themselves had been viciously attacked by the mob, deemed to be riotous and armed with offensive weapons of lethal nature," said Mr. Grimoloby, was sought to tender in evidence the judgment of Justice J. H. Morgan against the men convicted on July 26, for rioting at Sulpe. The Commissioner rejected this, holding that the case was not on appeal.

Doglo Anuma IV, Fia of Avenor Division in the Anlo State told the Commission that he knew that the Sulpes were opposed to the payment of levy and that they became angry with the villagers in Avenor when they paid the levy. He added that the Sulpes had a strong dislike for anything concerned with the payment of levy.

ONE HUNDRED METRES IN 10.2 SECONDS
McDONALD BAILEY, the West Indian athlete who visited the Gold Coast early this year, has equalled the world sprint record. Bailey was running for Great Britain in a special athletics meeting at Belgrade last week-end. He ran the 100 metres in 10.2 secs. The first person to cover the distance in 10.2 secs was J. C. Owens of the United States of America in 1936.

While in the Gold Coast this year, McDonald Bailey created two new Gold Coast records, 9.8 secs for the 100 yards and 20.9 secs for the 200 yards.
