Letter to Boer.

Recent events in connection with the present unfortunate dispute between de Cadeo & Boer have taken so comparatively favorable a turn that I deem it an opportune moment for an attempt at mediation between the two (both of us so deeply interested in the interests of peace) on the part of de combatants.

2. The Santos ship shows every conciliatory spirit as a body; & have formally expressed me to endeavor to see to some arrangement.

3. As the total arrangement be a permanent or a temporary one, it is impossible for me to do was able to decide it. I went up to the "bank" to the West Superior in the morning to arrange preliminaries & to explain how far certain points of present standing should be either side was to proceed by explanation & argument. Arrived at the Superior on Monday 1. P. Monday & Joseph Brown who was present at the time said & said: I can assure you that both are relatives of each other & of the same...

It is best for wisdom & experience was to able to guide the business to a stage of the production, and to give on both sides. I have left no effort untried in the matter.

It is one of the ^{fully} important steps that this is a preliminary & not a final step other to make points are settled. I will personally advise each of the two cases of carrying out a permanent a temporary arrangement. . . . G.H.C.C.

they have no real desire for peace, unless occupied by enemies on the part of the Illinois of the same: which for need not

4. In accordance with their solicitation I accepted the office of mediator - obtained for them, by the mediation & good feeling of J. E. McMillan, terms which exceeded anything they had a right to expect. They afraid to rally them.

5. Under these circumstances I have taken off all relations with the Fantees Chiefs of the interior my success in Senegal will resume terms for some the friendly neutrality which I have endeavored showed characteristic the policy of his Court towards Senegal.

6. At the same time the acts of the Fantees (collected in the villages near Casamance) have placed them in my opinion beyond the pale of civilized people & I therefore can no longer urge upon the King patience or a fair suspension of the cause which he was deemed fit to pursue to final unshakable ~~of~~ oppression.

7. On this subject I will lay full statement of the King before the King

8. The conclusion appears sympathy, & cannot do an undue confidence in the honor & moderation of the Fantees should have led us to retain hopes which he is proved a loss, small as I fear to realize.

March 4 1854 00/1 Gambia. [In a lately published work intitl "The Colonial Policy of Lord John Russell's Adminⁿ" by Paul Grey p 201 et seq appears the following :- The English Gov^t being desirous to extend its political auth^y on the WC of Africa as also, by making roads the education & religious instruction, to be laboriously con^ducted the raising of the West Indian made preliminary enquiry into the expenses which such measures would incur. It appeared that these expenses wd far exceed the available means. / But considering it remorseful that to charge the another country with these additional expenses the Gov^t instructed the Colonial Adminⁿ or C^o. to discover how to square how far these expenses wd be met by raising imposing taxation locally. / The first plan proposed was the levy of import duties on these articles, chiefly strong drink, / This plan was abandoned because (as you are aware) the cooperation of the people here was not in vain for a similar levy on our persons. Looking round for the means, we must take into account to impose a head tax on the native population generally. For this it was considered very to have the cooperation of the native Princes & Chiefs. With this spirit & with an eye to the future prosperity for the country, the Govt found it advisable to assemble convene a legislative assembly consisting of the native Chiefs, the Colonial Council & himself at the head, reserving to himself the right to convene prorogue & dissolve the body as he found good.

Now it is positively stated at p 285 of the work:-

"On the 19th March 1852 Major Hill had a public meeting of the Chiefs & Chiefs of the protected Territory of C.C.C. when they unanimously agreed to resolutions of which the chief of the most Assembly was recognized as its Constitutional center."

If this actually took place at C.C.C. then it is strange to me why we have heard anything about it thro' the official correspondence with the Kol Admon of the Pops: or least especially as such a thing could not have taken place without the called premisses, which into and the entire chiefly 1854 April 10. 1854 Pekin 120/2. Mrs Col Robert to Gov.

(Miss

Acting sec of his desps:

dat 6 Sept 56, 8 Oct 58, 1 Nov 81, & 3 Nov-^{no} 84 Pekin all dealing with the numerous letters de Such ring Subjects de Soca. in which the initials of Chau also take part. / ~~They are entirely~~ can quite more serious concern to this int. I have to reply a follow a for your guidance in dealing first with the int. / An authentic reading of the pps has not been able to furnish me with a satisfactory reply to the question which of the contending parties are the guilty or the most guilty, namely who gave occasion to the two pps? Wordsworth both parties took a like part, the one more I prefer than that an avowed handling of the matter gives occasion to find the Such subjects in the wrong & to cause them to be punished in the consequences.

With this description I have two distinct incidents of his org, namely

1. ^{5th} Letter, after peace suit had been restored, a public enquiry was conducted by Gov, 2 British officials as deputies were present on it. The result of that enquiry has not, however, been finally & established; indeed ^{no} ~~no~~ traces verbal of it, also signed by the British officials, can be found among the pps.

The form of such an inquiry requires indeed that after the end of the hearing of the witnesses a consultative committee be formed about the facts which had emerged (can any one refer to) & that conclusion had been arrived at about them: But so far as differ of opinion about the facts existed, the witnesses shall be heard separately: Finally that of what had been dealt with, both in public & in the Committee, minutes or proceedings were drawn up & signed by all having taken part in it (this also of the English officials) /

Though the neglect of this form, & since through the shortening of the assembled crowd, the hearing of the witnesses had gone altogether in disorder, the English deputies have been left at liberty without refuge to draw such conclusions as they found good: a liberty of which they have made generous use, to burden the truth subjects with the guilt.

2nd, Seeing that the inquiry, begun by you, had as a result the English have continued it very to cause another inquiry to be held the invited you, in your turn, to send deputies to it, to which however no ready was given by you. / Hence a second time the affair was cut off, in default of the necessary such subjects, to draw seldom the facts of the accounts.

Here are two ^{important} observations which I repeat must note upon your handling of the matter.

The question whether the right of ownership of immovable plots may be granted to the possessors - also, which you have with law able to time or satisfy itself in the affairs - is also difficult to bring to a solution here. If against such a proposition a prohibition had existed, the same is probably to be sought in the Decree, which, at the time of the slave trade, was strongly maintained by the King to whom these persons belonged.

Returned under the authority of the State, especially after the abolition of the slave trade, in my opinion does exist no reason why the possessors of immovable plots should be denied to possessors sensible to attend them the abolition of the factory,
